

Y. M. C. A. HAS DEFINITE PURPOSE, SAYS CASH

Association Stands for the Well Rounded Man Who Will Lead in Community.

By Burleigh Cash, President Y. M. C. A.

The University Y. M. C. A. is on the campus for a definite purpose. That purpose is to give to the students at Oregon a pure, wholesome Christian influence, that will help them to live broader and more efficient lives. It has been a powerful factor in making for the best life of the University and for this reason has a place on the campus.

The Association stands for leadership; leadership which means better things for the students, for the University, and for the State at large. The Y. M. C. A. work develops the all round man who is to take the lead in the community in which he lives.

It serves the students in a way no other institution can. It takes out of the hands of the University administration work which it does not have time nor means to do. Such work as is done through the Employment Bureau, Book Exchange, and General Information Department, to say nothing of the greater work of Christian Service in the Bible Classes, Social Service series, weekly lectures and special addresses, give the Association a distinct place on the campus.

In a State University, supported by all the people, the only religious influence to be had must come through a non-denominational institution. Such an institution is the Young Men's Christian Association at Oregon. It is doing the work for the students that the Church cannot do, and because of its practical, as well as religious, interests, deserves a place on the campus, and the hearty support of every loyal Oregon student.

FRESHMEN SHUN TRACK

Only Few of 1916 Class Train in Preparation for Cinderpath Athletics.

By Walter McClure, Track Captain, 1913.

With the track training only a few weeks away, the possibilities of "slipping one over" on the other Northwest colleges seems slimmer than it has been for a number of years past.

A few of the old men are back and so far not a great many ambitious or speedy Freshmen have applied for glory via the cinder path. At present the dope seems to sum up this way:

100 yard dash—Kay, Briedwell, Hawley, and Cook.

220 yard dash—Barbour, Oberteuffer, Hawley, and Boylen.

440 yard dash—Windnagle, McConnell, Oberteuffer, and Brooks.

880 yard dash—Windnagle, McConnell, and McClure.

Mile run—Huggins, Windnagle, McClure, and Pack.

Two mile—Huggins, Allen, Pack, McClure, Holt, and Onthank.

High hurdles—Fee, McConnell.

Low hurdles—Fee.

Broad jump—Parsons, Stuller, Brooks, and Kay.

Shot put—Foster, Grout, Cook, Holden.

191 UNIVERSITY MEN ARE IN BIBLE CLASSES

Oregon Leads Seven States in Percent of Students in Study Classes.

According to statistics gathered by Clayton S. Cooper, International Bible Study chairman, shows that the University of Oregon has proportionally more men engaged in Bible Study than any other institution in any of the seven western states.

The enrollment in study classes reached a total of one hundred and ninety-one men, which includes the study classes in the following fraternities and clubs that have been running for the past two and a half months: Beta Theta Pi, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Delta Theta, Dormitory, and Alpha Tau Omega. The leaders that have been in charge of this work are Professor E. S. Conklin, Dr. William Taylor, Rev. William Parsons, and Mr. J. H. Irish.

In addition to the above classes, there have been classes in the various Sunday Schools in the city. These classes and their leaders are, Methodist, Professor A. R. Sweetser; Congregationalist, Mr. M. H. Doulass, University Librarian; Presbyterian, Mr. David Glass; Baptist, Professor C. W. Converse. This makes a total of nine classes with an enrollment of one hundred and ninety-one of the three hundred and twenty-five University men. Of the total enrollment, the average number attending Bible study has been fifty-six percent of the men attending the University.

"The best way to protect yourself is to construct."—William Hanley.

Discus—Foster, Neill, Heidenreich. Javelin—Foster, Neill, Fee, Street. Hammer—Foster, Neill, and Bailey. Pole vault—Miller, Watson, and Brooks.

This will be the track nucleus for the 1913 track squad. To bolster up the weak spots and make a well rounded team, is Bill Hayward's problem. With a craft and wizardry developed through many years of athletic activity, Oregon's trainer will not be found wanting.

Oregon's chances to grab the Northwest track bunting for 1913 are doubtful. Whitman is the strong challenger this year, and I believe that if the lemon yellow comes out on top, it will be because we can down the Sons of Marcus.

Y. M. BUDGET IS $2200

Association Also Owns Property Worth $3,000—Expense Growth Rapid.

The Y. M. C. A. has its material side as well as its spiritual side. It is now an incorporated body, holding property valued at $3,000, with an annual budget this year of $2,200.

This budget represents a direct outlay, in the form of service to the students. The following is the budget for the year 1913-14:

UNIVERSITY Y. M. C. A. Estimated Expenditures.
Deficit to January 1, 1913...	$ 150.00

Miscellaneous Expenses.....	50.00
Deficit from Last Year, in accounts	160.00
Deficit on Lot Fund.....	120.00
Total Estimated Expenses.	$2,200.00

These expenses are met by an annual campaign among the business men of Eugene, subscriptions from parents of students and friends of the University in the State, student and alumni subscriptions, membership dues, and other minor sources.

As an illustration of the growth of the Y. M. C. A., the fact can be cited that in 1906 the budget was only $200, with an unpaid student secretary. The growth of the budget from a couple of hundred dollars in 1906 to $2,200 in 1913, or six years later, is an index to the spread of the Association's activities in that time.

The management of the Junior Prom at the University of North Dakota has tabooed the luxuries of flowers and cabs and chartered street cars for the use of the students." This act was occasioned by the general attitude of faculty and students that the expenses of such occasions ought to be reduced.
