

PROF. ALLEN VISITS STATE NEWSPAPERS

"Klamath Falls Northwestern Has Best Plant for its Size in the World," He Says.

Professor E. W. Allen has for the past week been visiting newspaper offices in Oregon. The editors were all in sympathy with the work being done in the University in connection with Journalism. All expressed themselves as willing to do anything to help in the course.

In Klamath Falls, Professor Allen said, that he visited the most wonderful small newspaper plant in the world, "The Klamath Falls Northwestern," owned and edited by Sam Evans.

"Everything in the office is new, the building was designed by experts, who fitted it with every convenience. Mr. Evans has the latest of all labor saving devices. Why he even has a dictograph. All he has to do is to press a button by his desk and he can hear what people are saying all over the shop, as well as talk to them."

"One would never recognize it as a newspaper office," said Professor Allen, "everything is furnished with the best, the paper even boasts of a library."

In Grants Pass, Professor Allen looked over a defunct newspaper, with the idea of bringing it to the University. In time to come, Professor Allen hopes to have a newspaper plant installed, so that the students will be enabled to meet the practical side of the business.

Professor Allen visited the Roseburg News, whose editor, Mr. Shoemaker, is an old classmate of the author of the text books used in the Journalism classes.

Medford and Ashland were also visited.

ADDITIONAL FACILITIES FOR LOCATING LIBRARY BOOKS

For the aid of the students that make extensive use of the book shelves in the library, the librarian has provided additional bulletin boards in the main lobby, for the posting of lists of the new books added to the library, which are furnished by the Oregon Emerald.

Indexes to all the more recent magazine articles and references have been posted on the same board, while a revised list of the newspapers that are received by the library have been posted on a special bulletin board that has been placed near the newspaper rack.

GEARY WANTS ASSISTANT MANAGERS FOR TRACK

Brawny under-grads, ambitious to be student managers during their college careers, are wanted by Geary as assistants in the track department. Several men are required to keep the athletic field in shape for "Bill's" "huskies," and so forth. The persevering workers will be rewarded with promotion as well as passes to contests.

Those interested are requested to confer with Manager Geary or Student-Manager Kimmell.

The University of Washington has every old crew man back, but they are doubtful if all will take up the work. Thirty-three experienced men reported with an additional number of seven Freshmen. On account of the small number of Frosh there will be no attempt to develop a Freshman crew.

Michigan—Seventeen members of Michigan's 1912 varsity have been awarded "M's" for their work on the gridiron this season. This is an unusually large number.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB TO APPEAR IN MARCH

Postponed Concert Will Occur at the Theatre, on Friday, March 14, With Features.

After one postponement, the management of the Choral Club announced this morning the appearance of the club on Friday evening, March 14, in a full concert.

The program will be the same as planned at first, consisting of solos, ensemble numbers, skits, and all the features of a regular Glee Club concert. This concert will be the first effort of this organization since the production of "Princess Chrysanthemum," two years ago this spring, in which Miss Florence Cleveland took the title role. This year she will appear as soloist.

After the meeting of the Choral Club yesterday afternoon, when the details of practice time were arranged and announcement made that Director Ogden would be in Eugene on the occasion of each rehearsal, and could give his personal attention hereafter to the work of the organization.

In order to avoid conflicts, Dr. Stuart has consented to allow members of the club to change their gym hours, if it is necessary for practice.

PROF. McCLAIN SPEAKS ON METHODS OF TRIANGULATION

At the last meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Tuesday night, addresses were made by Professor C. A. McClain and Professor H. A. Leonard of the Engineering Department. The subject of Professor McClain's address was "Triangulation and Base Line Measurement." He explained the methods of triangulation as carried on by the United States Government and described the instruments used in government surveys. He also discussed the base line measurement, including a description of the ice bar apparatus.

Professor Leonard gave a talk on the relation of Mathematics to Electricity.

Yale Bars Public on Tap Day.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Tap Day, a picturesque event at Yale for many years—it being the day when juniors are "tapped" for membership—in the four senior secret societies—will be robbed this year of much of its publicity, according to an order just issued by Dean Jones. By this order the public will be excluded from the campus and the mothers, sisters and sweethearts of the expectant juniors will not be allowed in any of the college buildings, as formerly.

The order is the result of a movement to take away from Tap Day its spectacular features, in which the disappointment of the men not elected has been a painful incident.

President of Pacific University Resigns

Dr. W. N. Ferrin, president of the Pacific University, recently tendered his resignation to the board of regents of that institution. The resignation of Dr. Ferrin did not come unexpectedly, for last June the question of a change of executive was discussed and a tie vote resulted. During the former president's campaign tour of the east for endowment funds, he decided to take up other work and his resignation followed. During the time required to fill his position, a committee will act in his capacity.

If the rat and mice search of the Varsity students of Washington, D. C., proves successful, there will be only a short parade of the suffragettes on the date of the Presidential inauguration. The students are going to test the theory that "The Female of the species is more deadly than the male," with an army of mice and are betting that the "little pets" carry the day.

Syracuse possesses what is considered the finest rowing tank in the world. A shell is moored in a large pool and through the means of gasoline driven propellers, the effect of a river current is produced. There are various devices for the measurement of speed and strength of stroke.

WOMEN HEAR PADDOCK

Episcopal Bishop Will Address Special Co-ed Meeting Tomorrow Afternoon.

Bishop R. L. Paddock, who spoke at Assembly Wednesday morning, and who has been visiting the students and University, will address a special meeting of all the college women tomorrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in Villard Hall. As this was the only possible time that the Bishop could appear before a special meeting, the meeting of the Woman's Council for tomorrow afternoon has been postponed one week.

This meeting will be presided over by the Dean of Women, Miss Ruth Guppy, who has been instrumental in arranging it. Bishop Paddock, who is a graduate of Yale University, will probably speak on the influence of college women and of a college education on women.

Having been in social settlement work for a number of years, the bishop has had an opportunity to study the college women as a social force today. The address will be plain and to the point.

Miss Guppy urges every woman in the University to hear Bishop Paddock tomorrow afternoon.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN CARRY OFF HIGHEST HONORS

Closely following is Miss Meta Goldsmith, of Eugene, a member of the Junior class and majoring in German. Miss Goldsmith received three "H's" and three "S's."

The department of German furnished another student whose record is particularly bright in the person of Miss Minnie Poley, a Sophomore registered from Ashland. Miss Poley was given one "H" and seven "S's."

"27" Honored Ones. The remaining members of the fortunate group received marks ranging from one "H" and six "S's" to a string of three "S's."

Other members of the honored "27" are Louis R. Bond, David Campbell, Nellie Cox, Edith Clements, Leole Ewbank, Eva Frazier, Ira Gaston, David C. Glass, Margaret Mann, Herbert Mathews, Ruth Peter, R. A. Pratt, C. Harlow Pratt, Edgar B. Martin, Elizabeth Cowden, Carleton Spencer, Ruth M. Stone, Agnes Ryder, Cleveland Simpkins, Mary Stevenson, and Ludella Whittelsey.

Co-eds in Men's Fields.

Girls not only scored high grades in their own fields of work, but they invaded the subjects usually taken only by men and carried away honors. Professor W. G. Boynton, head of the department of physics, declares that the highest grades in his classes of 54 students in physics were earned by co-eds. In those classes are but four girls. Two of them won two of four "H" grades given, and the other two made "S's." Miss Lora B. Purnhill, of Grants Pass, carried away the highest grades. She was the only student in the whole class of men to receive a perfect grade throughout the whole semester's work. The other honor co-ed in this course was Miss Helen B. George, of Portland.

In a course of Sophomore economics, said to be the most difficult in college, in which there are some 50 boys and a dozen co-eds, the only three honor grades given were captured by co-eds.

High Grades—Few Flunks.

On the other hand the average run of grades at the University during the whole semester was high. Although there were no straight "H" cards, the number of students in the honor class is unusually large. The number of those who failed, was but eight, which is but half the number of last year. And of this number four will be allowed to remain in college, having presented good reasons for their low grades to the Faculty at its session Tuesday evening. It is asserted by all departments that courses have been made more "stiff" during the past year than in previous years.

By a vote of the House of Representatives, only the Way and Means Committee will visit O. A. C. The invitation for the whole House was turned down. The Senate, however, will visit the institution en masse.
