

U. OF O. BULLETIN ALREADY SENT OUT

Contains Complete List of References on Mineralogy and Geology.

The University of Oregon Bulletin for December, a bibliography of the references to the geology, mineralogy, preology, and minor mineral resources of the state, was distributed last Wednesday.

This bibliography includes a complete list of references to all published material concerning the geology and mineral resources of the state, except those articles which have appeared only in the newspapers. The matter was compiled by Charles W. Henderson and J. B. Winstanley for the use of those desiring information on this subject.

Mr. Henderson, formerly a resident of Portland, later a graduate of Stanford, and now employed on the United States Geological Survey, prepared a bibliography of works on Oregon Geology as his thesis work. He sent it to the University of Oregon with permission to complete and publish it. Shortly previous to this, J. B. Winstanley, a student in the University of Oregon, prepared a similar work, which he submitted to Professor A. J. Collier. The bulletin includes both the papers combined, as well as an introduction by Professor Collier and an index of subjects compiled by Graham J. Michael, a member of last year's football team and now a student of geology at Columbia University, in New York.

Notable among those who have written upon geological formations and mineral resources of Oregon are Professor Thomas Condon, formerly Professor of Geology at Oregon. Lewis and Clark, the noted explorers of the Northwest, James D. Dana, J. S. Diller, J. C. Merriam, H. M. Parks, and Chester Washburn, a graduate of the University of Oregon.

THE SPIANS PRACTICE DAILY DIMM PROMISES REDUCTION

Daily practice has been the order of preparation for the production of "A Servant in the House," to be presented by the class in dramatic interpretation, Friday, March 7. Every day the cast has been rehearsing, and reports claim that the play will be up to the standard of the former efforts of the class.

Manager Walter Dimm has planned to give a ten per cent reduction to all organizations that buy ten tickets, or more, for the play.

The furniture for this problem play will be furnished by Professor Reddie from out of his collection of rare antiques.

WASHINGTON ANNUAL FACES NON-PUBLICATION DANGER

The fate of the University of Washington's annual, the Tyee, will be decided tonight. Graduate Manager Ralph Herr reports that out of the Student Body of 2,500 but 300 have subscribed so far, and that a subscription list of at least 750 is necessary to insure its publication this year. The Tyee was a financial loss last year and the present editor declares that he will not put out a publication which the majority of the students do not want. In order to facilitate subscriptions from the students, a student has been appointed from every department of the University to sign up subscribers.

JUNIORS ELECT DELEGATES AND HEAR ANNUAL REPORTS

Norma Dobie and Otto Heider were chosen Thursday afternoon by the Juniors at the class meeting, as delegates to the oratorical contest at Newberg.

Editor Rice and Subscription Manager Grout, of the Oregonian, spoke in behalf of their year book.

PROF. SWEETSER TO SPEAK TO Y. W. C. A. DEADY HALL

The Y. W. C. A. will meet in Professor Sweetser's room, instead of in the Shack, on Monday. Professor Sweetser will give a talk upon the subject of "Religion Through the Laboratory," and will show some stereopticon views.

Students eat at the Y. M. C. A. Cafeteria.

CAPT. AMUNDSEN'S LECTURE TO BE IN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Capt. Roald Amundsen who speaks in Eugene, April 1, will not speak in Villard Hall, as was previously announced, but instead will speak in the Christian Church. Arrangements are being made to greatly increase the seating capacity of the church for this occasion. Reports state that hundreds of people have been turned away where Capt. Amundsen has previously spoken and it looks like the same thing may be true here, since large crowds are coming from the neighboring towns of Junction, Harrisburg, Springfield, and Irving, to see and hear the noted Ant-Arctic explorer.

The ticket sale for the Amundsen lecture opens Monday, March 10, at 10 o'clock, at the Book Exchange and Linn's drug store.

All students must purchase their tickets at the Book Exchange, if they wish to take advantage of the special rate of seventy-five cents, otherwise the tickets will cost one dollar.

"SIXTH SENSE" EXPLAINED BY PRESIDENT H. M. CROOKS

"You have got to believe certain fundamental things in science to get any where," said President H. M. Crooks, of Albany College, in his address before the Y. M. C. A. in Deady Hall last Thursday evening. "The same thing holds true in mathematics and sociology, and you have got to accept certain things in religion in order to get started in it," continued the speaker. "This sixth sense may be called mystical, but it gives the power to lay hold of that which the other senses cannot grasp."

There were about thirty-five young men present at the meeting. Special music was furnished by the Baraca Quartette.
