COMMONWEALTH DAY SET FOR MAY FIRST

WILL ALSO HOLD CONFERENCE
TO PLAN FOR EXTENSION
WORK IN MUNICIPAL RESEARCH

CITY DELEGATES TO COME

University Will Gather Statistics to Present in Study of Civic Efficiency.

Professor F. G. Young returned yesterday from Portland, where he conferred Saturday with William H. Allen, the famous municipal expert of New York, concerning the addition of a trained man in civic research and efficiency to the University Extension lecture force. Mr. Allen, with the aid of two expert assistants from New York City, will conduct a thorough and systematic investigation of the municipal affairs of Portland, that they might intelligently classify them under the commission plan of government which it is expected will be adopted by Portland at the election on May 5.

On May 1, the University will hold a Commonwealth Conference in conjunction with Commonwealth Day, to adopt further plans for the continuance and growth of the Extension courses. Representatives from different municipalities of Oregon will be invited to the Conference, where an attempt will be made to demonstrate to them scientific methods for city government and for the conduct of all the city's affairs. The two experts who will conduct the research in Portland, will be present at the Conference. Mr. Allen will probably be present himself. Working with these men, the University hopes to adopt soon a plan for instruction in these lines throughout the state.

In the meantime the University will conduct an investigation into the affairs of Eugene and several neighboring cities, and the statistics gathered will be used at the Conference. With the help of the High School instructors and students, the department of economics will gather statistics on the conduct of the city's schools, health, public utilities, finances, parks, etc.; and will make charts of the findings. These will be used as an aid in the study of better methods for municipal efficiency.

The annual Marathon race between the classes of Stanford University will be held on March 28. There will be twenty-four men representing each class in this event and each runner will cover a mile of the distance. Medals will be given for the fastest quarter miler and the one making the fastest quarter-mile.

MEN AT CO-ED TRACK MEET WOULD DETRACT FROM DIGNITY

Proposition to Permit Men Witness
Athletic Event Not to Be Considered, Says Miss Thompson.

The old question of whether the men should be admitted to the Women's Indoor Track Meet has again arisen since the date for the meet has been announced. It is not to be considered at all," said Miss Thompson, when she was consulted. "The meet is a new thing and the girls are not as proficient as the men. They would be judged as the men and the result would be very disappointing. Our purpose is not like that of the men; our aim in the meet is exercise, combined with competition and pleasure. To allow men to witness the women's track meet would detract from the dignity of the meet, and most decidedly is not to be considered this year."

Dr. Stuart's opinion coincides with that of Miss Thompson, except that it is even stronger against the idea.

UNIVERSITY ORCHESTRA SCORES BIG SUCCESS

SIX HUNDRED EUGENE MUSIC
LOVERS HEAR RECITAL

Florence Cleveland, Albert Gillette, and Charles South, Are Individual Stars.

The culmination of the University's musical season was attained last evening in Villard Hall, when the University orchestra appeared in concert, before six hundred devotees of the art. The concert was highly successful, every number being played with a perfection of tone and technique that gave to the organization a prestige that shall long endure.

The Orchestra was assisted by Miss Florence Cleveland, Soprano; Mr. Albert Gillette, Baritone; and Mr. Chas. South, Violinist. The singers were accompanied by Miss Nell Murphy, and Mr. South by Mr. David Campbell—both of whom are instructors in the University School of Music.

Under the direction of Miss Winifred Forbes, the full orchestra played composition of three masters—Beethoven's "Menuetto," Frimi's "Chanson sans Paroles," and "La Danse des Demeiselles," and several selections from Humperdinck's opera "Hansel and Grethel." The stringed orchestra rendered St. George's celebrated Suite "l'Ancien Regime" and Beethoven's "Larghetto from Ninth Symphony." While all the offerings carried an irresistible appeal to the audience, both scholar and neophyte, the greatest impression, apparently, was made by the interpretation of "Hansel and Grethel."

TWELVE MEN COMPOSE FIRST TENNIS SQUAD

Racquet Wielders Begin Practice for Tournaments With U. of W. and
M. A. A. C.

"Tennis will be placed on a firmer footing this year, and with the early season interest displayed by the men, everything indicates that Oregon will have an unusually large squad of capable players, from which to pick a strong team," said Captain Irwin Brooks after the tennis meeting held in the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. The following twelve men attended the meeting and will compose the early season squad: Irwin Brooks, L. Bond, Dolly Gray, Herman Oberteuffer, Dean Crowell, Clairrel Ogle, Ed. Martin, Walter Church, Henry Trowbridge, Maurice Hyde, Raymond Caro, and Bob Fariss. As soon as the weather conditions permit, practices will be held on the cement court from 3 to 6 o'clock each afternoon. All who wish to try for the team are requested to hand their names to Brooks or sign on the bulletin board, which has been placed at the south end of the cement court.

All Freshmen who wish to enter the tournament for the Laraway cup, must sign up before Saturday, March 22, when the drawings will take place. It is planned to play the first sets Monday.

Efforts are being made by Manager Geary to renew the two year tennis contract with the University of Washington, which expired last year. The tournament will be played upon the campus this year and in Seattle next year. Negotiations are also under way to schedule games with the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club of Portland. Last year the varsity defeated the club players in five straight matches on the local court, but lost to them at Portland.

While no definite action has been taken, there is a possibility of meeting O. A. C. and Willamette University in this line of sport if the schools can come to terms.

Governor West recently appointed five graduates of the Willamette law school to act in the capacity of prosecuting attorneys for different counties. His latest legal appointment is that of C. L. McNary, Dean of Willamette, to the Supreme Court.

THREE HATS AND A DERBY ARE LOST BY ORATORICAL DELEGATES

Freshman Gets Fussed and Leaves
Coat on Train—Heider Must Have His Hat.

Four hats—one derby and three other good lids, and a $20 overcoat belonging to a Freshman, was the loss sustained by several members of the Oratorical delegation from the University at Newberg last Friday evening. The overcoat was left on the train that carried the delegation to the Quaker city, but a different tale is told by those who were forced to go home bareheaded.

The loss occurred while the delegation was listening to the oratorical efforts in the auditorium above and was taken good naturedly by the victimized quartette. Otto Heider, the previously proud owner of the $? "Stetson," insisted upon remaining in the city until his headgear was returned. He also invested, before returning to Eugene.

Efforts are now being made in that city to apprehend the purloiners.

Four Sessions With Gearhart
Luncheon Saturday.

At least sixty delegates, representing eight colleges and high schools of the Willamette Valley, will attend the Annual Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Conference to be held here March 21, 22, and 23. An informal reception will be given to the visiting delegates at the Lambda Rho house, Friday evening, to which all University girls are invited. STORY IS SURPRISE TO ME, SAYS HAYWARD, ABOUT RUMOR THAT WASHINGTON SEEKS HIM

"I know absolutely nothing of it," said Bill Hayward this morning, when shown a press clipping from a Portland paper, wherein it is stated that Hayward will in all probability be offered the position of track coach at the University of Washington.

"I have not had a bit of communication with them, and I guess that it is only another of those rumors that appear in the Springtime."

When asked concerning the report that he would be the most acceptable

TRACK COACH RETURNS FROM LECTURE TOUR

"BILL" HAYWARD WITH OLYMPIC
EASTERN OREGON
SCHOOLS

BIG HOUSES GREET TRAINER

Southern Oregon and Astoria Trip
Also Contemplated in Near Future.

"Bill" Hayward returned this morning from his Eastern Oregon lecture tour, during which he talked to the High School athletes of Hood River, The Dalles, Pendleton, Athena, and Baker. He spoke in Salem last night. Mr. Hayward received an enthusiastic welcome all along the route, not only the athletes, but their parents and friends turning out to hear the veteran trainer, whose lectures were illustrated by stereopticon views of scenes at the 1912 Olympic games at Stockholm and of the annual inter-scholastic and inter-collegiate meets held at the University. Pictures showing the right and wrong methods used by track men in the different events were thrown upon the screen and explained. All the slides used on the trip were views which Hayward has taken himself. The necessity for clean living, observance of hygienic laws and the importance of letting tobacco alone were emphasized to the young track aspirants in all the talks.

Wherever it was possible, Bill spent the afternoon watching the "prep" athletes work out, and gave the boys pointers on training.

On the trip, whenever pictures of local stars and former varsity men were shown, they were greeted by enthusiastic applause, showing that the audience was decidedly in sympathy with the University of Oregon. In response to requests from the schools visited, "Bill" will try to make another trip during Spring vacation for the purpose of seeing their track men in action and giving them advice.

The itinerary of the Eastern Oregon trip was: Hood River, March 10; The Dalles, March 11; Pendleton, March 12; Athena, March 13; Baker, March 14; and Salem, March 17.

As soon as spring track training is well started here, Hayward intends to go on another lecture tour,—this time into Southern Oregon. The cities to be visited are Cottage Grove, Roseburg, Medford, and Ashland. He is also planning a trip to Astoria with his stereopticon lecture.

Pacific University defeated the Portland Y. M. C. A. by a score of 41 to 36 in a dual indoor track meet. This is their second victory over the Y. M. C. A.

Northwestern University administered a decisive defeat to Wisconsin in a dual aquatic meet by a score of 36 to 22.
