THE BROTHERHOOD OF COLLEGES

Nowhere has a more royal welcome been extended than that which was received by the delegates to Newberg last Friday. The students of Pacific College are certainly congenial hosts and the delegates from eight colleges left after the contest singing the praises of Quaker hospitality.

The Inter-collegiate Oratorical Association of Oregon is probably the greatest factor in existence in developing a feeling of fellowship among the institutions of higher learning. Once each year an enthusiastic group of students from each school sojourns to the meeting place. They make many new acquaintances among the other delegations; friendships are started and the realization is emphasized that all are citizens of the State of Oregon and all are working for the one end: to become more useful citizens of the commonwealth.

The contest is always marked by keen interest, close competition and the very best of sportsmanship. Only one of the eight can win, but everybody leaves in the best of spirits, conscious of a fight well fought, of many happy hours spent with new friends and with a warmer feeling in his heart toward the others of the great brotherhood of college students.

OREGANA PROBABLY ON PRESS THIS WEEK, SAYS RICE

"The Oregana will probably be on the press by Wednesday, or as soon as the borders arrive from the east," said Editor Don Rice today.

Copy has been sent in at the rate of twenty-five pages a day for the last week. The illustrations are completed and the engravings finished. There will be about sixty pages of illustrations and twelve pages of color plates. For the past week the members of the feature staff department have been working on their department and have it practically completed.

The printing of the book is to be done in Eugene. The engraving was done in Portland, with the exception of the borders, which were sent to St. Paul.

LACKING "DARK HORSES" BILL CALLS DAILY TRY-OUTS

"I wish I had some dark horses this year," Bill Hayward said this noon, reviewing the present track outlook. "Just now my sleeve is empty. I haven't a thing."

"I wish you would announce for me," he added, "that from the present time until the Columbia indoor meet at Portland, April 12, I will hold daily try-outs for candidates for the track team, on the covered track, especially for the sprints, hurdles, and jumps. This means that every man that gets out will be immediately put into competition, so that I can get a line on him. This does not apply to the distance men, for I know what they can do."

FACULTY COMMONWEALTH COMMITTEE TO MEET

The Faculty Commonwealth Committee will meet tomorrow to complete and approve plans for the Annual Commonwealth Day, which will be held about May 1 this year. Professor F. G. Young, head of the economics department, as chairman of the committee, has had charge of the arrangements for Commonwealth Day, and will lay his plans before the whole committee for approval. Upon the acceptance of Professor Young's proposals, a new system will be inaugurated for the coming Commonwealth exercises.

APRIL FROLIC WILL BE DISCUSSED IN WOMAN'S COUNCIL

The Woman's Council will meet on Friday, March 21. A paper on "Shelolu Hall," the woman's building at the University of Minnesota, will be given by Miss Vesta Holt. The subject of the April Frolic will be brought up and discussed.

SEATTLE—The wrestlers from the Oregon Agricultural College broke even with those representing the University of Washington in their six bouts in this city last Saturday evening.

FRESHMAN CLASS HOUR POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

Miss Ruth Guppy Will Speak at Tomorrow's Assembly at Villard.

The Assembly Exercises tomorrow will be given over to the work of women throughout the state and nation, explained by women instructors in the University, who are intimately acquainted with their subjects.

Miss Ruth Guppy, Dean of Women, will read a paper on the "National Association of Collegiate Alumnae." Miss Guppy is president of the first branch of this organization established in the Northwest. A second paper on "The Work of the General Federation of Women's Clubs," will be read by Miss Julia Burgess of the English Department. The subject of the last paper, by Mrs. M. H. Parsons, is "College Women in Social Work."

The Freshman Class Hour, which was to have taken the Assembly period this week, has been postponed, for at least two weeks. It was thought that the University would have Mr. William Allen, of New York, as Assembly speaker, and the Freshman program was set aside, to suit his convenience. The Freshmen ceased preparation, and when it was learned that Mr. Allen could not be here, they were not prepared to present the program this week.

Mr. Charles South, who so thoroughly pleased the large audience in Villard Hall last night, will play two violin solos, one before and one following the reading of the papers.

E. STANNARD HAS ARTICLE IN MARCH "OVERLAND MONTHLY"

The March issue of the "Overland Monthly" contains an article by a former Oregon student, Earle Stannard, ex-'14, which has aroused considerable comment among literary authorities and critics, and is reminiscent of his writings for local publications during his attendance at Oregon. Under the caption, "Has Poetry Played Out?" he analyzes in a masterly fashion the modern tendencies of the art, and reviews the opinions of prominent writers and critics concerning the utilitarian and aesthetic aspects of lyric and dramatic verse. Mr. Stannard has decided constructive views on the subject, and has himself produced poetry of no inconsiderable merit. While in college he was a prolific contributor to the Oregon Monthly.

He now resides at Brownsville, Oregon.

"U" caps will be given hereafter to the tennis representatives of the University of Michigan.

Over 2,300 copies of the Michigan Daily Junior Hop special edition were sold this year.

COMMUNICATIONS PLANS FOR BUNGALOW

To the Editor:—In order to clear up considerable misapprehension due to erroneous statements appearing in the papers at various times, the Advisory Board of the Y. W. C. A. desires through its secretary to make an authentic statement regarding the Bungalow about to be built by them for the Y. W. C. A.

In order that it may be known who is back of this enterprise it may be well to state that the Y. W. C. A. Advisory Board is composed of the following women: Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Mrs. P. E. Snodgrass, Mrs. A. R. Sweetser, Mrs. John Straub, Mrs. Frank Chambers, Mrs. R. C. Clark, Mrs. A. C. Dixon, Mrs. Archie Livermore, Mrs. F. W. Prentice, Mrs. J. W. Ford, Mrs. W. C. Yoran, Mrs. Leonard, and Mrs. E. E. DeCou.

From the beginning, the building of this Bungalow has been the project of the Board, with a view toward providing pleasant and permanent quarters for the Association. Owing to the crowded condition of rooms on the campus, the Board has been obliged to rent the Shack for the Y. W. C. A. meetings during all of this year. On this account the Board has not been able to provide for quite half of the secretary's salary, as it has done in previous years.

Although four years seems quite a while to wait for a building, yet we have been obliged to wait much longer than that for some much more needed buildings at the University. Contrary to campus belief, a bungalow is not a mushroom growth which springs up in a day, with a trifle of Bazaar sunshine and a sprinkling or two of County Fair dew-drops, valuable and necessary as all these have been.

The funds of the Bungalow have been slow in gathering and have come from many sources. A large number of Eugene citizens, as well as many of our faculty members, have given subscriptions, and many of the Aid Societies of the churches and women's clubs of the city have contributed sums from time to time. The women of the Board have all subscribed generously, the largest individual subscriptions, excepting one, having come from them. They have also given many entertainments of various kinds for "Bungalow benefit," and have held bazaars for four years, clearing from the latter alone, $583.70. Preparations for each of these bazaars cover a period of three months and require constant work and planning on the part of the Board. The young women have lent hearty assistance and the charm of their presence at the time of the bazaar, assisting us at the booths.

The Y. W. C. A. has given some teas, has assisted the Board in giving a musicale, and held a Tag Day Sale, the proceeds from these amounting to about $121. They have also held two County Fairs, which have regrettably overtaxed the strength and resources of the young men who have assisted. These fairs have netted the Bungalow fund $200, this amount having been turned over to the Board last year, and nothing at all from previous years.

From all the sources above mentioned, and some others, the fund has grown to $2,254. At the same time, other things have been growing, among them the size of the Y. W. C. A. from 37 members to 150 at the present time, making it necessary to enlarge the Bungalow plans, which were drawn almost three years ago. The enlargement and furnishings will require approximately an additional $1,000, and this the Board has set out to raise, not through its secretary, but by individual efforts of its members.

The contracts will be let as soon as these matters can be attended to, and the young men of the fraternities are hereby assured that their earnest efforts in behalf of the Bungalow, instead of being unappreciated by a heartless Board, are about to be rewarded and take definite form in the shape of a Y. W. C. A. Bungalow in the Spring of this year, A. D. 1913.
