REDDIE'S CLASS PLANS COTTAGE GROVE TRIP

Arrangements Made to Play "Servant in the House" there on March 27.

Preparations have been made by Professor Reddie's class in Dramatic Interpretation with the manager of the Forest Grove Theatre to play "The Servant in the House" there Thursday evening, March 27. Following the successful staging of the play by the class at the Eugene Theatre, March 7, Carleton Spencer announced that he would arrange and handle the undertaking.

This is the first play of the Dramatic Interpretation Class to be scheduled for out of town production.

The caste will leave Eugene on the 2 p. m. train and expect to return from Cottage Grove the same night.

DR. REBEC RETURNS FROM WORK FOR EXTENSION

Dr. George Rebec returned to the University today from his work as lecturer and organizer in the Extension department. Dr. Rebec has recently been lecturing to high schools and citizen's meetings in Umatilla county. His purpose has been to convince high school students and parents of the importance of higher education, and to furnish to those who have not the opportunity to attend college the privileges of the Correspondence and Extension courses.

The Commonwealth Committee meeting was postponed until this evening, awaiting the return of Dr. Rebec. He has been in the field and the committee wanted his advice before completing plans for Commonwealth Day.

INTERSTATE ORATORICAL TRY- OUTS TO BE HELD SATURDAY

An oratorical tryout will be held Saturday morning in Villard Hall at 9:30 o'clock. All those intending to compete are requested to hand in their names to Bert Prescott before Friday night, or they will be debarred from the tryout. The winner will represent the University at the interstate oratorical contest to be held at Corvallis on May 4.

EXTENSION MONITOR WILL SOON BE OUT

President Campbell's Address on Apostle of Activism, Rudolf Eucken, Is Feature.

The March number of the Extension Monitor is now on the press. It contains many articles of interest to those who follow this work of the University closely.

The leading article is a condensation of an address by President Campbell, entitled, "Rudolf Eucken, the German Apostle of Activism." Professor Eucken was for many years professor of philosophy at the University of Jena. His doctrine of activism as explained by President Campbell, means that a doctrine works well because it is true, reversing the statement of the Pragmatists.

There is an article by Professor Thurber, entitled, "Personality in the Impersonal." It holds that if a man's personality is not in his work, his work is dead.

Then comes a poem by Professor H. C. Howe, of the English department. It pictures a tree that stands far away in the north, beyond the edges of the farthest forest, and, all alone, holds its green boughs up to the blasts that sweep down on it from the Arctic.

Miss Perkins, of the Rhetoric department, has contributed an article about an "Automatic Theme Grader." It tells of an experiment made to ascertain a just method of correcting themes.

Professor Dunn writes, "The Betrothed Whom Caesar Rejected." This is Cossutia, whose story is told by Seutonius in two words.

Other and more general articles are also included in this month's issue.

DR. KUYKENDALL LECTURES ON ACCIDENTS BEFORE Y. M.

"We must get away from the old superstitions we have regarding the stopping of the flow of blood," said Dr. Eberle Kuykendall in his lecture before the Y. M. C. A. last night. "In treating wounds, too much care cannot be taken in keeping a wound free from harmful germs. If it is impossible to reach a doctor, as much care as possible should be taken in wrapping the wound. Bi-chloride is a good antiseptic for a germ preventive. Alcohol and turpentine are both good germicides."

Dr. Kuykendall also discussed fractures, burns and frost bites at some length and gave some illustrations and chalk talk on these subjects. "Oils are the most soothing ointments for relieving pains from the results of burns. The burn will gradually heal itself, and about the only thing one can do is to relieve the pain.

"After a severe frost bite the most simple remedy is rubbing snow or cracked ice on the frost bitten member in order to start the blood circulation."

CO-ED ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ADOPTS ITS CONSTITUTION

The second meeting of the Woman's Athletic Association of the University of Oregon was held Wednesday afternoon in the Woman's Gymnasium, with Carin Degermark, as temporary chairman, presiding over the meeting. The committee on constitution, composed of Faye Ball, Louise Bailey, and Pauline Coe, submitted the constitution for adoption, part of which was adopted.

It was decided that the membership should be open to all women members of the University of Oregon who have completed one semester's work and have a fair standing in college work.

The advisory board is composed of the physical director, her assistant, and one member from each class.

The executive committee is composed of the officers of the association, the physical director, and the head of each division of sports.

The meeting adjourned to meet again Thursday afternoon, at 5 o'clock. The remainder of the constitution will be brought up for adoption and the officers elected at this time.

Mrs. S. Jessup, Lambda Rho mother, is receiving congratulations on the recent arrival of an eight pound grandson.
