

STUDENTS MAKE MAP WOMEN ABANDON TRIP

Junior Topographical Class Working on Complete Chart of Eugene Districts.

A map resembling the plans of cities and countries drawn up by the United States Geological Survey, is being completed by the Junior Topographical Surveying Class, under Professor Carl McClain, as the finishing touch to their field work for the present school year.

This map will take in the district extending from 15th street, two miles south; and that lying between Fairmount Heights and Willamette street. It will embody all the features of the United States Geological Survey maps, showing the location of every house, property line, street, car-line, and all. There will also be indications of the lay of the country outside the city limits. The scale of the map will be five hundred feet to the inch.

This is the largest contract of this kind ever taken by the Topography, but the class is now successfully completing the task. The present class, twenty-two in number, is also the largest class ever enrolled in this work. Eleven maps will be compiled, two men working on each one.

OREGON AGAIN WINS PACIFIC COAST DEBATE on the failure of the negative to disprove the initial principles advanced by the affirmative.

Evenly Matched Delivery.

In delivery and address the teams were evenly matched. Moteschenbacher's clear, forceful style and Pickett's fiery, emphatic appeal being met by Arthur Younger's calm, persuasive manner and Vincent Roberts' cool, but energetic delivery. The opinion of several experienced debaters in the audience was that the unusual turn taken by the course of the argument greatly limited the scope of action of the speakers, thereby curtailing to some extent their opportunities for bringing into play several of the most essential aspects of the question at issue.

The judges for last night's debate were: President H. M. Crooks, of Albany College, Fred Nutting, of Albany, and E. Hofer, of Salem.

Owing to the arrangement by which the expenses of the triangular contest are shared equally by the three institutions, Manager Geary will not be in a position to determine the financial result until reports are received from the managers of the Washington and Stanford teams.

Oregon, by last night's victory, is now tied with Washington, each team having won seven debate contests.

Glee Club Concert at Corvallis is Cancelled Because Dates All Taken.

The plans of Miss Catharine Carson, the manager of the Girls' Glee Club, for a concert at Corvallis, were definitely cancelled yesterday upon the receipt of a letter from Mr. A. J. Wilson, manager of the Oregon Agricultural College Glee Club, saying that all week-end dates for a number of weeks ahead were filled and that the school authorities refused to allow the young women of Waldo Hall, the girls' dormitory, to go out week nights.

The proceeds from the candy sale at the Eugene concert of the Girls' Glee Club have been increased two dollars and seventy-five cents, which makes the final profit for the entertainment four dollars and twenty cents. This will be turned into the Student Body treasury.

SOPHS PICK DEBATERS

Donald, McConnell and Hill to Meet Freshman Team in Contest April 25

Maurice B. Hill, Gray McConnell, and James Donald were chosen this morning as the team to represent the Sophomore class in the Freshman-Sophomore debate on April 25. The judges chose Hill as leader of the team, as it was left to them by the committee. Professor F. S. Dunn and Professor Smith acted as judges of the tryout.

The Freshman team, composed of Prentiss Brown, Lamar Tooze, and Allen McConnell, is already hard at work. Carlton Spencer has been asked to coach the Freshman team.

The debate April 25 will institute an annual event, which it is hoped will increase the interest in Varsity debate. A cup goes to the winning team; and class numerals to the class representatives.

The State Bar Association has practically assured Mr. Prescott that a prize of one hundred dollars will be given by the Association to the winning team, to be divided among the representatives on that team.

ASH WINS NEWS PRIZE

Becomes Emerald's Star Reporter After Two Weeks Race for Scoops With Brotherton

Clarence Ash, whose news activity in the past two weeks has dubbed him the name of "Scoop," today won the Emerald's news contest, defeating his rival, Clarence Brotherton, by 1,500 points. The victory brings him the title of "Star Reporter" on the Emerald, at least until the close of the next contest—and the $4.00 first prize. Brotherton wins the second prize of $3.00. The contest between the Emerald reporters for these honors narrowed down early in the race to the two candidates. They have fought side by side, and until within ten minutes of the close of the contest today were not 400 points apart. Then Ash rushed in breathless and dinnerless with several "scoops." The final score was 10,525 for Ash; 9,075 for Brotherton.
