

KOYL AGAIN CHOSEN Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY

Advisory Board Re-elects Man Who
Has Built Best Association
In Seven States

At the last meeting of the Advisory Board of the Student Y. M. C. A. Charles W. Koyl was for the third time re-elected General Secretary of the Association for the coming college year, 1913-1914. Koyl was graduated from the Economics Department of the University with the class of 1911. He was the President of the Association in his senior year, and was elected class treasurer in his Sophomore and Junior years. He has always been identified with the work of the Christian Association, and has done a great deal toward bringing it to its present position on the campus.

Since he has been Secretary, Koyl has inaugurated the social service lectures, which have been so popular with the students. The budget has increased from $1,400 to $2,300 and the work of the employment bureau has been trebled. The number of students in the Bible classes has been doubled, and the Student Association at Oregon now ranks as first in seven Western states, according to Gale Seaman, Coast Secretary.

In speaking of the indications for the coming year, Koyl said: "The prospects indicate that the Association will be in a better position than ever before to meet the needs of the men, and the University as a whole. I am confident that the organization, with the men who are now behind it, will do a great work. The present leadership represents the best that can be found in the University."

Koyl will attend the conference of the National Student Secretaries, at Estes Park, Colorado, July 1 to 22. He will also attend the student conference at Columbia Beach in June.

DR. SCHAFER LECTURES TO SOUTHERN OREGON AUDIENCES

Dr. Joseph Schafer spent a busy vacation delivering a series of Extension lectures in Southern Oregon towns. Beginning at North Bend Tuesday night, he spoke consecutively at Bandon, Coquille, Myrtle Point, and Marshfield. In every case the lectures were delivered under the auspices of the high school, and were usually given in the high school building. "Educational Futures" is the title of the lecture delivered by Dr. Schafer on this tour.

OREGON NINE STARTLES FANS WINNING FOUR STRAIGHT

results of this trip put Oregon on top of the heap for the Northwest honors, and, more than that, bids fair to keep her there.

To Welch, Bigbee and Tuerck must go the major part of the laurels, for these three mounds-men pitched baseball that was of big league calibre.

Little Johnnie Welch beat both Pullman and Washington a game apiece, a performance that stamps him as a top-notch in the league, and more than justifies the confidence that Mr. Ayer placed in him. Abdul Hamid Tuerck and Bigbee, both of them Freshmen, received their baptism on the firing line during the trip and each acquitted himself well, Tuerck letting W. S. C. down with two hits, and Bigbee taking the game from Washington, with that Varsity's captain as his opponent. With the pitchers working in the form that the scores show, the answer to the question "why Oregon won" isn't far to seek.

Oregon Outplays Opponents.

In addition to these performances, Oregon out-hit, out-fielded, and out-ran their opponents in every game except the last one with Washington, and there, quickness in taking advantage of that team's miscues, coupled with timely hitting, gave them the long end of the score. Better support than that given the pitchers could not have been asked for.

Owing to rain and a muddy field, the game with Willamette, booked for Saturday at Salem, as the opener for the trip had to be cancelled, so the team lined up first against W. S. C. at Pullman on Monday. Welch and Moss were the opposing fingers, the former having much the better of the argument, allowing out two hits, one of these being a smashing drive by Casad, the Maroon, and Gray, first-sacker, after a fumbled foul which should have retired the side. Fenton, Mount and Chandler contributed hard pokes that sewed up the game for Oregon, 6 to 3, Mount delivering a three-bagger in a pinch, while the other two tore off transportation for the full circuit.

O.-W. S. C., Score, 10-0.

Despite a high, nasty wind on the day following, Johnnie Bender insisted on a game, and his pets were treated to an awful drubbing, Oregon's fusilade of bingles driving three pitchers to the bench, while Tuerck held the Aggies down to two cracks. The adding machine says 14-0, with Oregon on friendly terms with the long end.

Wednesday was utilized in getting from Spokane to Seattle, where Washington was tied into, Lyle Bigbee presiding at the hit-bowl and serving scantly. The big fellow pitched the game of his life, allowing but four hits from his offerings, two of these being gleaned by Patten, while Oregon nicked the delivery of the Washington captain, Jack Johnson, for a total of eight. But one error adorns the debit side of Oregon's score, while four appear to mar that side of Washington's account. Fenton again appeared in the extra-base clout column, one of his two hits going for two bases. The score of 6-2 shows this game to be a sure enough victory for the Lemon Yellow, for they excelled in every department and always had the game well in hand.

Varsity Plays Errorless Game.

Welch was selected to fight it out with Boatman, Washington's star actor, for the Friday's battle, and although ten hits were gathered from his shoots, while his team-mates only garnered four from those of his rival, he kept them well scattered and was afforded good support, not a bobble being credited to Oregon. Boatman pitched a wonderful game, striking out 14, but was given ragged support, the scorers chalking up four boots, all of which Oregon was quick to take advantage of, coupling them with effective slugging. This was a hard-fought fray from the drop of the barrier, and while luck may seem to have played a potent part in the outcome, yet Washington's defective fielding and bone-headed base running shows conclusively that the Purple and Gold did not deserve to win. It was anybody's game all the way, and Oregon took it to the tune of 4-2.

The two games with Washington were the only ones that counted toward the championship, as Pullman is in the league division with Idaho and Whitman. Dame Dope hints strongly at a pennant at Oregon!

The absence from the line-up of Chandler and Mount, with the consequent shifting of positions, and the stress of the trip, made the game played with Multnomah Saturday a farce. A muddy field made tight fielding an impossibility, and the Varsity men relieved their systems of six errors. Tuerck pitched well, but the clubmen nosed out a 7 to 4 victory.
