OUR GUESTS

The students who visit Eugene during Junior Week-End are, as a rule, what may be called University material. They consist of the best type of High School student the State can produce; men and women who have stick-to-it-iveness enough to finish out a four year High School course, often under difficulties and against odds, and with great temptations to quit before the course is completed.

The University has always demanded quality rather than quantity. It has kept its standards of scholarship high, often at the expense of numbers enrolled. Within the institution the demands of efficiency and character are most severe. Because of these demands only students of the biggest calibre, of the strongest ambition and of the most fixed determination ever achieve the necessary preparation for entrance.

Our guests here are men and women of this type. Most of them are determined to go on to higher attainments in education. The colleges that they might have entered with lower requirements before finishing High School, are numerous, but because nothing less than a University of the best kind could satisfy them,—they have stuck out the preparatory course.

They are here to see the University of Oregon, and many intend to return in the near future to enroll as students. Let us leave nothing undone to show them the institution as it really is. Oregon Spirit means hospitality as well as loyalty and determination. Above all, let us guard against any but the kindest feelings in the hearts of our visitors for Varsity customs. This requires tact and consideration.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR CAMPUS DINNER

Orchestra and Glee Club Help Out Affair With Musical Program.

"The plans for the lineup on the campus Friday are about completed," said Anna McMicken, chairman of that committee. "Everything will be ready by noon on Friday and lunch will be served promptly at twelve o'clock."

There are to be a few changes from the events of last year. One of these will be that each class, except the Senior, will have two booths and so will be able to serve two lines at once. This will do away with much of the congestion of last year and everyone will be served more quickly. The Senior booth will be on the campus before McClure, and there everyone will be served with the last course of the luncheon.

A new feature this year is the orchestra, which will be under the trees between the library and the dormitory, and will play during the lunch hour. The Glee Club will add several selections to this musical program.

Havana Cigar House, next door to Eugene Theatre.

RUTH STONE AWARDED CHI OMEGA PRIZE FOR ESSAY

Ruth Stone has been awarded the Chi Omega prize for her essay on "Municipal Housekeeping."

The decision was unanimously rendered by the three judges, Mrs. Parsons, Professor Young, and Professor Howe.

The paper takes up a discussion of municipal housekeeping with a view to protecting the lives of children particularly. The regulation of the milk supply and requirements for sanitary markets, as well as housing ordinances and the teaching of ignorant foreign mothers how to care for their homes and children, are among the phases of the subject treated.

Bob Kellogg Marries.

Robert Kellogg, '12, of Baker Oregon, better known as Bob, was married May 5, to Miss Gladys Farrar, of Salem. They will make their home in Salem, where the groom is employed on an irrigation project. Kellogg was prominent in University athletic circles, several times being a member of both football and track teams. He was also president of the Senior class and a Friar.

Emerald Candidates State Their Platform

Don Rice

"If I am elected Editor of the Emerald, I shall earnestly try to make the Oregon Emerald a unifying influence between the Student Body, the Faculty, and the Alumni. Realizing that student life and ideals are reflected by the Emerald, I shall do my utmost to publish a paper which will create a more favorable attitude by the press and citizens of the State. Further, I pledge myself to edit an absolutely non-partisan Emerald. It will be the policy of the Emerald to print all justifiable news."

Henry Fowler

"My platform is to work for the interests of a greater University, to print news not only for the active Student Body, but for the Alumni as well, to play up the news in such a manner that the people throughout the State will gain the true conception of the University."

THETA LAMBDA PHI ENTERS LAW SCHOOL

Strong National Legal Frat Joins University Greek Letter Societies.

On Friday evening, May 2, 1913, another fraternity was added to the roll of Greek Letter Societies at the University, when Deputy Chancellors Arthur Langguth and Harry H. Pearce, of Theta Lambda Phi, a prominent legal fraternity, installed Deady Senate in the Department of Law at Portland. The new Senate was named in honor of the late United States District Judge Matthew P. Deady, one of Oregon's earliest and most prominent jurists.

The installation ceremonies were conducted in the club rooms of the new Senate at the Multnomah Hotel, after which an elaborate banquet was served at the hotel in honor of the occasion.

Theta Lambda Phi is one of the largest and most prominent legal fraternities in the country. It was founded at Dickinson College of Law in 1903, and has rapidly grown until there are now seventeen senates located at the leading law schools of the country, and has a membership of over eleven hundred. The alumni of Theta Lambda Phi in Portland are: Arthur Langguth and Harry H. Pearce, of Colley Senate, Detroit School of Law; Louis H. Streck, Jr., of Marshall Senate, Ohio Northern University, and C. R. Meloney, of Von Motzchisker Senate, University of Pennsylvania.
