PRES. CAMPBELL BACK FROM TRIP TO SOUTHERN OREGON

President Campbell returned early Tuesday from a four day's trip into Southern Oregon. He spoke to the Ashland High School graduating class Thursday evening. On Friday, Memorial Day, he addressed the Burnside Post of G. A. R., at Ashland.
Then he and Dr. George Rebec, of the Extension Department, joined the Mazamas and accompanied them upon their trip to the Southern Oregon caves.

President Campbell says he was much impressed with the splendor of the caves, and has arranged for a set of lantern slides, which will be exhibited before the students next Fall.
Of the graduation class of 34 students at Ashland, President Campbell found a number who expressed their intentions to attend the University next fall.

"CO-OPERATIVE DISTRIBUTION METHODS" IS COLLIER'S THESIS

Andrew Collier, registered in the Department of Economics, has just filed with the registrar a six-thousand-word thesis on "Co-operative Methods in the Means of Distribution." The subject deals with the economic machinery necessary for better and more economical methods in distribution.

Mr. Collier points out the fact that the high cost of living is due to the unnecessary profits of the middlemen.
He advocates as a remedy for this evil the employment of competent persons to act as the medium between the producer and the consumer. This plan would eliminate the high profits of the shippers, jobbers, brokers, wholesalers, and retailers.

OHIO FACULTY DOES NOT RELISH "YELLOW EDITION"

Because the Sigma Delta Chi at the Ohio State University, hit the Faculty too strenuously in their last year's "Yellow Edition," "The Ohio State Lantern," the college paper, permission was refused the fraternity this year, to issue such a publication.
The complaint was that various news articles were derogatory to the dignified men of the professors and tended to make them the "laughing stock" of the campus.

SUMMER SCHOOL WILL OPEN SESSION JUNE 23

Noted Lecturers and Teachers Engaged for Six Week's Course.

The Summer Session of the work of the University, which begins June 23, will begin with an increased enrollment over that of last year, and with special inducements which were not evident in 1912. The session lasts for a period of six weeks.

Such noted men as Dr. F. H. Hayward, of London, England; Professor Stockton Axson, Professor of English in Princeton University; Professor J.
W. Glover, Professor of Mathematics in the University of Michigan; and Dr. Clifton Fremont Hodge, Professor of Biology in Clark University, will participate in a series of general lectures, which will continue, one each day, throughout the entire session.
Dr. Hayward, and Professor Axson, are especially noted as inspiring and thorough-going lecturers, and have enjoyed marked success as such.

A new feature among the courses to be offered is the opportunity to secure the principles of civics and so-ciology, and to consider the vital problems of civic life. This work will be under the leadership of Professor F. G. Young, head of the economics department.

Special effort is being made to cater to teachers throughout the state, through courses that will best satisfy them. Teachers compose the majority of students in attendance at the Summer School. Special students outside of these are also invited.

The University has been given special rates to the Summer School from all parts of the state over the railroads.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO BE PLAYED THURSDAY

Women Will Meet O. A. C. Welders of Wide Bat in Match Called Off Saturday.

A telegram from the manager of the Oregon Agricultural College Co-ed Tennis Team, announcing that they would be able to play the tennis tournament Thursday, was received Tuesday evening by President Agnes McLaughlan of the Girls' Tennis Club.

According to the present plans the matches will be played on the campus courts Thursday, the singles in the morning at 8 o'clock, and the doubles in the afternoon at 2 p. m.

All arrangements were made last week for the tournament to be staged Saturday morning, but because of a pageant held on the O. A. C. campus that was seemingly deferred until next fall, when the telegram announcing the present plans was received.

Francis Adams will participate in the singles in the morning and Edna Harvey and Bess Cowden will enter the doubles for the University in the afternoon. The game will be called on the best two out of three sets played.

This is the first Co-ed inter-collegiate tennis match to be staged between the two institutions and for this reason the matches will be of unusual interest.

The three ladies who will represent O. A. C. against the Oregon Co-eds Thursday are Miss Shepard, Miss Esther Harteung, and Miss Rutledge.

"Yes, this is a ready-made dress.
But all is needed was a little alteration. The saleslady said I had an almost perfect figure."

"Tee-hee; don't you know, the same thing happened to me, when I bought my dress. Isn't it lovely to realize that either one of us could be a cloak model?"

Bill Neil has accepted a position in the electrical department of the Interstate Railway Commission at Portland, and will leave for there Saturday, but expects to return for Commencement.
