

STUDENT BODY DEBT LESSENED BY $1000

Finance System Improved and New Constitutional Amendments Passed.

(By C. E. Spencer.)

The number of changes in student government and affairs has been greater during the year 1912-13 than in any preceding year. The first task taken up by the Executive Council was that of reforming the system of finance. Heretofore money voted by the Athletic Council, Executive Committee, or needed by any of the departments of student activity was paid directly to the manager by the treasurer. There was no way of keeping close watch upon expenditures and no ultimate authority as to what claims should be honored. The system adopted last Fall provides that before money may be paid out by the treasurer the action shall be authorized by voucher signed by the Student Body president and two members of the Executive Council. This places the control of funds in the hands of that body elected directly by the students to overlook all departments of student interest.

Later in the year the council suspended the publication of the Oregon Monthly on the grounds that its support was not sufficient to warrant its continuance.

At the second regular Student Body meeting the committee on constitutional revision submitted its report, which was adopted practically without amendment to take effect next Fall. The most noteworthy changes were: The provision for recall elections; the increase of the student fee from five to eight dollars, with the granting of free season tickets to each student; the treasurer made ex-officio secretary of the Athletic Council; provision for the auditing of accounts by an expert accountant annually; the granting of athletic blankets; the limiting of sweaters to one during the college course; the awarding of Glee Club letters; the Girls' Choral Club granted status as a Student Body organization, and the editor and manager of the Emerald granted fifteen per cent of any surplus in addition to their regular salaries.

The graduate manager's report shows the debt lessened by a thousand dollars and a paying schedule for next year.

TWELVE OREGON STUDENTS SIGN UP FOR CONFERENCE

Twelve students have already signified their intention to attend the annual Student Conference at Columbia Beach, June 14-22. With others who are planning on the trip, if possible, the local branch of the Y. M. C. A. should be well represented.

Last year the Oregon contingent reported a splendid time. Good speakers from all over the country have been secured for this year's conference, and it should set a new mark both in attendance and interest.

Among those who are planning to spend the week following exams at the coast are: Will Murphy, John Wells, Charles Koyl, John Black, Alfred Biles, Earl Fortmiller, Bert Lombard, Vernon Motschenbacher, Owen Whalen, Clarence Runyan, and Don Larwood.

INTERCLASS MIX FOR NEXT YEAR UNDER CONSIDERATION

That next year's Junior class is going to introduce lots of "pip" into the annual inter-class mix, which is scheduled for early next Fall, is attested by the fact that President-elect B. S. Gerard has already appointed the committee for the event from the most loyal of his adherents in the recent class election.

Clarence Ash has been appointed chairman of the committee, with Bert Lombard, Thomas Donaca, Bryant De Bar, Harry Cash, Marsh Goodwin, and Jessup Strang as colleagues. Work is already being started, and newer and better stunts than ever will be introduced.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS GOOD FOR 1913 SEASON

Captain Bradshaw Optimistic With Bezdek and New Men to Aid Team.

"Prospects are as good as they possibly could be at the end of the second semester," said Captain Bob Bradshaw in speaking of the football situation for the coming year. "We lose only three men by graduation, Bailey, Walker, and Briedwell. It looks like all the old men will be back, and from present indications there will be a fine bunch of new material. Coach Bezdek will be on hand the early part of September and will probably have his plans all arranged by the time school opens."

"When Bezdek coached here in 1906, he turned out a championship team. The situation now appears as if he will be able to duplicate the same next year. Three good men are coming down from eastern Oregon, while several good prep stars will come from the High Schools of Portland. Another thing which makes the prospects bright, is the fact that several men now in college, who probably would have won their 'O,' had they gone out, will go out next year."

"The schedule for next year," said Captain Bradshaw, "is the most favorable one we have had in years. All the games, with but one exception, will be played on neutral grounds. There will be no long trips. Five games will be played and Manager Geary is planning to have some good second string games played on Kincaid field during the season."

The season should prove profitable from a financial standpoint, since the schedule is a favorable one. The new system of Student Body tickets, according to Manager Geary will help greatly in the season's financing. At least this system will bring out much larger crowds than have heretofore attended the Varsity football games.

Y. M. C. A. TEAMS WORK

Ten Men Endeavor to Get Crowd to Attend Columbia Beach Conference.

To secure a large representation at the annual Y. M. C. A. conference at Columbia Beach in June, the local branch has devised a novel scheme.

Two teams, one headed by Alfred Biles, and the other by Clarence Runyan, each assisted by five other men, have been organized. An effort is being made by each team to secure the largest number of students for the conference. The losers have agreed to prepare and give a clam bake on the beach for the winning team. Also the victorious side will be treated by Charles Koyl, the secretary.

Members of the two teams are A. Biles, V. Motschenbacher, C. Geisler, O. Whallon, C. Fee, J. Black, M. Getchell, D. Larwood, M. Moore, and W. Church.

Y. W. TO DEDICATE BUNGALOW DURING COMMENCEMENT

According to a statement today by Mrs. Fletcher, Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., it is planned to dedicate the new Bungalow during Commencement week. Though the building contract leaves the carpenters until July 15 to complete the structure, at present the indications are that it will be finished before that time.

The plastering is already complete and the outside has had its first coat of paint. Next fall at the opening of the college year the bungalow will be furnished and made ready for use. The cost of the structure is approximately $2,500.

WIFE'S MONEY DOESN'T KEEP LAW STUDENT OUT OF JAIL

She Wins $20,000 in Breach of Promise Suit, but New Hubby is Jailed for Lack of $22

Portland, Or., May 29—Two days after he married a woman who had just won a judgment for $20,000 from another man on a breach of promise suit, Charles Yates, a University of Oregon Law School graduate, was arrested in Vancouver for larceny last week. He pled that he had no money with which to pay the $27 deficiency, that would keep him out of jail. He could not furnish bonds, but was eventually released upon his own recognizance. The charge of larceny was based upon the accusation that he had taken $27 from a client for an abstract, and that he had failed to deliver the money to the abstract company. He was acting as attorney for the L. E. Klupp, real estate company, of Portland.

Yates' troubles came but two days after his marriage to Elizabeth Butler, daughter of W. L. Butler, of Polk county. Only a week previous to this Miss Butler received a judgment from A. B. Stevenson, of Dallas, on a $50,000 breach of promise suit.

CORNELL WINS CAMERA

Prize Offered by Linn Drug Co. for Best Hitter Won by Frosh Shortstop.

A Premoette Junior camera taking a picture 2 1/4 by 3 1/4 and valued at $5.00, has been presented to Oregon's Freshman shortstop, Ans Cornell, in recognition of his batting abilities during the varsity baseball season just passed.

The camera is given by the Linn Drug Company of Eugene, was offered by them before the season opened for the Oregon man making the first three base hit in a conference game on the home diamond.

In the first O. A. C. game played in Eugene, Cornell was first man at the plate for Oregon. With the three ball and two strikes of the orthodox baseball story called on him, Cornell met the last offering fairly, and recorded the first threebagger with a clean hit over left field.
