

1913 REGISTRATION LARGE PREACHERS ENROLL AT U.

Early Enrollment Already Reaches Grand Total of Nearly 600

The number of students registering in Villard hall in the various University departments has, according to the latest information received from Registrar Tiffany, reached a total of 553, which exceeds by 50 the number enrolled last year at this time. The enrollment, however, is by no means complete, and Mr. Tiffany expects the number to be considerably increased by the middle of next week.

That the University is not merely a school for Oregonians has been demonstrated this year several of the new students being from Idaho and Washington, while one hails from the Isthmus of Panama.

At present no segregated statistics are available as to the number of men and women enrolled or the number registered in the different departments. Mr. Tiffany, however, states that the Economics and Political Science courses which have been the favorites with the men, will probably continue in the lead, while the literary courses will prove most attractive to the women.

Correspondence Work Given by Prof. Young Attracts Medford Clergy

Although the University does not claim to be running in opposition to the Eugene Bible School it has during the past year gained considerable favor with the ministerial element of the state. Besides the ministers' conference held last summer in connection with the University summer school session, Prof. Young reports that the entire Ministerial association of Medford has just registered in his correspondence course in Sociology for the coming year.

In speaking of the motive back of this registration, Professor Young asserts that there has been a natural movement among the ministers of the country to broaden out along this line. "The minister of today is realizing that he needs Sociology," says Professor Young.

The same text books will be used in the correspondence course as in the regular work at the University and in addition special lectures will be given every two weeks.

Y. M. HANDBOOK PLEASURES

Annual Edition Containing Calendar and Other Data Is Out

The University of Oregon handbook is edited by Harry L. Cash, C. A. and can be obtained at the quarters in the Deady hall. The book is edited by A. Burleigh Cash. Walter R. Dimm, the manager, succeeded in making the book pay for itself by means of advertisements.

A college calendar is one of the features in the hand book, as it gives the dates of all collegiate activities. The book contains greetings from President Campbell, John Black, head of the Y. M. C. A. and Vernon Motschenbacher, president of the student body.

A list of fraternities and societies, the members of the various councils and officials of college organizations are also to be found in the book.

FROSH HAVE BIG PARADE

About 30 Are Forced by Sophs to Buy Green Caps After March.

The more sober and sedate portion of the Eugene populace became young again Wednesday morning when they saw the procession of about thirty "Frosh" parading down Willamette street in search of green caps. At the head of the line was a captain, so called because of the wooden sword he carried and because of the stentorian commands shouted at his followers. Behind him were freshmen of all sizes and shapes as was evidenced by the extremities peeking out below the much upturned trousers legs.

The procession was brought to a halt before Ax Billy's department store, where each of the marchers was required to give the history of his life and his excuse for being in college.

After purchasing the green "hats" at a clothing store further down the street, the company was halted in front of Obak's and delivered the latest thing in high school and preparatory school yells. In return for the entertainment accorded him, Obak invited the bunch to partake of some red tame cherry at his expense, but at this point the attending sophomores interposed and stipulated that nothing stronger than water should be served.

BETA PI LARDER IS RAIDED

Sunday Night Robbers Deprive College Men of Food and Dishes

Beefsteak, milk, bread, ham and eggs was the substantial menu selected by the robbers who entered the Beta Theta Pi house sometime last Sunday night.

The intruders did not stop at this but took some dishes along with them in order that their repast might be served "en plato."

The robbery was not discovered until the next morning, when its occurrence was brought forcibly to the attention of the frat house members by a substitution, so it is said, of corn flakes and toothpicks for the usual breakfast.

DEBATERS WILL MEET TO SELECT QUESTION

A meeting of Varsity debaters will be held in Professor Prescott's room in Villard hall next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of selecting a question to be submitted to Stanford for the annual inter-state debate. All other men interested in the debate who contemplate trying for the team are also requested to be present.

The first try-outs for the team to meet Stanford will be held some time during the Christmas vacation.
