

GAME AND CLASS MIX ATTEND HOMECOMING OF ALUMNI

MIX GOES TO SOPHOMORES VARSITY BEATS ALUMNI 41-3

Second Year Men Run Up Total of 55 Against the Freshmen Score of 20. Tug of War Yet to Be Decided.

Parsons Makes 24 Points for Regulars With Four Touchdowns. Moullen's Place Kick Gains Alumni's Only Tally.

(By Earl Blackaby)

The third annual Freshmen-Sophomore Mix was rushed through in an hour and a half this afternoon, and the Sophomores, as usual, emerged victors this time by a score of 55 to 20. This excludes the tug-of-war across the campus pond, which was held over until after the Varsity-Alumni football game. The Mix progressed without a hitch, and there was no demonstration outside of that specifically planned by the Junior committee in charge. But, no; there was the Senior Civils' exhibition, which was solely a plot of those notables.

The Mix was considered a success by all, and whether it has accomplished its purpose of allowing Frosh-Soph antagonism to spend its fury, it will be the last event of its kind during the school year.

Promptly at 1:45 the mix started with the arrival of the Freshmen, who marched on the field to the tune of 1917, carrying a scarecrow labeled "Soph." After tramping around the football field the sack cloth clad marchers formed the figure "17" in front of the grandstand and gave yells, then burned the Sophs in effigy and danced around the fire. The Freshmen then retired to their section of the grandstand, while the Sophomores to the number of a hundred came on the field, marching to U. of O. 16.

The line led by Woo Sun and the Senior Civils received strong applause from the grand stand as it turned out into the center of the field. Before retiring to their section the Soph band played and some yells were given, then the long line marched off leaving a large yellow "O" made of confetti to mark their passage.

Just before the first field event that of the green cap, the judges, Dr. H. B. Leonard, Hugo Bezdek and Vernon Motschenbacher awarded the ten points on decoration to the Sophomores. The ten points for the best stunts were awarded to the freshmen while for appearance and yells the points were divided; which tied the score for the first events.

Sophs Win Cap Rush.

The first field event was the green cap rush. Thirty men from each class were lined up at opposite ends of the field and at a given signal rushed for a huge green cap in the center of the field. The contestants were given ten minutes to fight over the cap and at the end of this time class with the largest number of men having their hands on the hat were awarded the points. At the pistol shot a mad rush was made to center and a fierce battle ensued. Shoes flew in the air, legs were pulled, heads were bumped and during the entire time each team fought to the limit of its strength. When the time was up the Sophomores had twenty-six hands and the "Frosh" fifteen. This victory added ten points to the Sophomores' score.

"Tie Up" Points Even.

The "tie-up" was the next feature of the contest and caused a big commotion among the onlookers in the grandstand. Fifteen men from each class were given pieces of cord and at a given signal the contestants rushed on each other and, dividing into pairs, tried to tie one another. During the five minutes contest only two men from each class were tied but a number of fierce wrestling matches ensued. Victor Moore, a Sophomore

Forty-one to three was the score this afternoon in the first annual Varsity-Alumni football game; the first regular game of the season. The entire Oregon backfield starred until the men were replaced by second team aspirants. Parsons and Fenton did the majority of scoring; Johnny making four of the six touchdowns, and Carl Fenton booting the ball between the goal posts for five goals. Johnny Beckett and Dean Crowell scored the other two touchdowns. The Alumni line gave way repeatedly before the Varsity charges, and at no time were they near to making a touchdown. One place kick is the size of the score. The game by quarters is as follows:

First Quarter.

The first quarter opened with the Alumni kicking off to the Varsity. Bigbee ran the ball back ten yards before being downed. The Alumni held well for the next few downs but Oregon was past the center of the field when Walker for the Alumni intercepted a forward pass and gained forty yards. Latourette made a fifteen yard run, bringing the ball to within twenty yards of the goal.

Here the Varsity got the ball after Moullen failed to kick from placement. Then with line bucks and short end runs the regulars worked the ball to within 25 yards of the goal line. The ball was given to Parsons who made a spectacular run for the first touchdown. Fenton kicked goal.

With but a few minutes left to play the Varsity kicked off again. Clarke ran the ball back ten yards. Clarke punted 20 yards. Time was called.

Score: Varsity, 7; Alumni, 0.

Second Quarter.

The ball was put in play near the center of the field. The Varsity won to within 5 yards of a goal by terrific line plunges. All the backs were worked hard. With three downs the Varsity was penalized for holding and failed to make yardage. The Alumni in a few plays gained forty yards, Clarke making a long end run. By this time the Alumni began to show lack of condition.

The Alumni were held for four downs and the Varsity got the ball. Beckett went through for five yards and Parsons was thrown back for three. Cook made two yards and from Astoria, was the first to get his opponent tied. Since the laurels were even for this event, each class obtained five points, the Sophs keeping their ten point lead.

"Sand Bag" Contest to Sophs.

The last event on the field was the sand bag contest. Forty-six men on each side participated and at the signal rushed to a pile of sand bags in the center of the field. A series of miniature football stunts followed. The Sophomores carried the first bag over the goal line, and although the Freshman fought hard the Sophs were too much for them. When time was up the judges found that the Sophomores had succeeded in carrying 14 bags across their goal, while the Freshmen had only carried off 10. The points scored for this event were 20.

This concluded the program on the football field. The tug-of-war, the only remaining event, was not held until after football game between the alumni and the Varsity.

GEARY'S FORGETFULNESS LOSES SUITS FOR A TIME

Sends Football Apparel to a Cleaning Establishment, Then Memory Fails

A few hints concerning the loss of football supplies supposedly taken from the storeroom under the grandstand, were published in a recent edition of the Emerald, but further developments have shown that ex-graduate manager, Arthur Geary was responsible for the disappearance of the athletic paraphernalia.

Geary is an absentminded man, gifted with the notebook type of memory, and it is due to this fact that a valuable collection of football raiment vanished into thin air.

Last summer, Oregon's former manager, loaded a bunch of soiled suits, results of the 1912 football season, into a dray, and sent them to a local cleaning emporium to be renovated. Then he promptly proceeded to forget all about the affair, and this fall was unable to account for the non-appearance of a large quantity of gridiron garb. All this time the suits were reposing in an attic at the cleaning establishment, waiting to be called for.

Just who will be the recipient of the $50 reward offered for the discovery of the lost apparel, has not been ascertained.

Parsons plunged fifteen yards for a touchdown. Fenton kicked the goal. Malarkey and Huntington and Crowell replaced Beckett, Cook and Parsons on the Varsity, while Cornell replaced Bigbee at quarter.

Alumni kicked off for fifty yards. Cornell grabbed the piskin but failed to make any gain. Jamieson replaced Clarke for the Alumni. Oregon punted and was penalized 5 yards for offside. Grads tried forward passes with poor luck. Moullen made a place kick from thirty-five yard line.

Alumni kicked off and Cornell ran ball back to center of field with Oregon running good interference. Then on straight line bucks Malarkey and Crowell made thirty yards in four downs. The half ended with ball on Alumni's thirty-yard line.

Last Half.

The last half opened with a forty yard kick-off by Varsity, which Latourette ran back ten yards. Forward pass, Walker to McCormick, netted Alumni eight yards. Moullen punted 45 yards. Parsons went through line for thirty yards. Beckett then went through for fifteen yards and Parsons made eight yards through guard. Cook, Parsons and Beckett then made the remaining ten yards for a touchdown, Beckett going over. Fenton kicked goal.

The Alumni kicked off to Beckett, who came back twenty yards. Parsons then made eight yards through line. Parsons again went twenty-five yards off tackle, though blocked at tackle several times. Beckett made fifteen yards through guard. Cook made four yards through tackle. Parsons then made a final plunge of eight yards through the line for his third touchdown. The kick-out failed and Varsity had no chance to kick goal.

It was Varsity's turn to kick off and the ball was stopped on twenty-yard line.

A fumble by the Alumni gave Oregon the ball and short line plunges by the backs carried the ball ten yards further. Parsons then found a hole in the line and scored another touchdown. Fenton kicked an easy goal.

Varsity again kicked off. The ball was received by Clarke who returned kick to center where Cornell got the piskin. Parsons started again and in two plunges made fifteen yards. Varsity penalized ten yards for off side.

Fake punt by Fenton netted the Varsity ten yards. The Alumni then

ANTI-FROSH PROCS APPEAR NEAR CAMPUS GROUNDS

Riot of Adjectives Conveys Warning to First Year Students

Appearing earlier in the year than usual, the annual proclamations against the freshman blossomed forth on the eve of the Underclass Mix. This year's posters follow those of last year very closely in form and text, but they lack the passionate type and language which characterized the product of the present junior class.

Somber black ink is used instead of the usual mixture of red and black. The frosh are hailed as "ye galaxy of grass-green glabrous gallivanting gadabouts!" A riot of adjective and expletive follows, the first letters of the lines combining to spell some magic word. The first-year minions are warned to observe due humility to sophomores and upper-classes, and the various usages of the campus are set down for their guidance. This time, however, there is no mention of "the eye that sees" or "the terror that flies by night."

The posters were affixed to every tree, telegraph pole, and other exposed surface near the campus and were generously smeared about the fraternity and sorority houses.

got the ball on a fumble. Clarke thrown back for two yards after two forward passes had failed. Cornell received Clarke's punt and ran ball back to Oregon's 40-yard line where the quarter ended.

Score: 34-3.

Fourth Quarter.

Alumni kicked off to Varsity. Huntington ran the ball back to the Alumni forty yard line, Fenton running interference. Crowell made eight yards through guard, but Varsity was penalized twenty yards for holding. Varsity fumbled, then Cornell made six yards through line. Malarkey ran ten yards off tackle. The Alumni then got the ball on a fumble and Latourette made twenty yards on an end run.

Jamieson made eight yards through the Oregon line but on the next play Oregon secured the ball on a fumble. Crowell made nine yards through the Alumni line and Beckett went for twenty. Beckett nearly got free on the next play but tripped. Crowell went over for a touchdown, going about three yards. The kick-out was successful and Fenton kicked his fifth goal. Score 41 to 3.

During the last quarter the Oregon back field was composed of second team men. The Alumni were asking for time. The game was called with but a few minutes to play because of the lateness of the hour.

The Varsity and second team engaged in a scrimmage for the remainder of the afternoon.

PAJAMAS ARE RALLY DRESS

FIRST BIG PARADE OF COLLEGE YEAR BRINGS OUT STRANGE COSTUMES

SORORITY HOUSES VISITED

"September Morn" Meets General Approval of Spectators. About Two Hundred Fifty Students in Line.

Harold Young, the new varsity yell leader conducted a sorority house foray Thursday night which was only stopped from being a down town expedition by the promise of three more rallies to be pulled off later on the eve of some of the conference games scheduled this season.

The fact that the most informal variety of evening dress was affected by the paraders did not deter them from a tour of inspection through the sorority houses, and two hundred and fifty pajama clad rooters marched through every house in the vicinity of the campus, beginning with Mu Phi Epsilon, and ending with Beth Reah.

Here the yell leader made a short speech in which he complimented the rooters on the abundance of pip shown and requested the attendance of all University men, and particularly freshmen at all rooters' practice in the future. "The new students," he said, "are lacking in their knowledge of the Oregon yells, and the exact manner in which they should be voiced."

Willard Shaver led the long line from house to house and so skillfully maneuvered his charges, that the whole line stood in each house at once.

There were many unusual costumes, and as many which were scarcely noticeable, but Jessup Strang as Betsy Prim, and Fred Hardesty as September Morn, were accorded the most appreciation.

The line was almost entirely given over to costumed participants, and others who had not been so enthusiastic followed in the wake of the line, and only took part in the yells given on the streets.

FROSH PARTY IS INFORMAL

1917 MEN VISITED TRI DELTA HOUSE WITH TROUSER LEGS ROLLED UP

SOPHS TAKE THE EATABLES

Freshmen Seek to Abduct President Lamar Tooze of 1916, But Instead Make Way With His Duplicate Brother.

"Hey there, frosh! Halt a moment! Everybody get into line! Now kindly roll up your trousers leg to the knee. Turn your coats inside out. Everybody ready? Forward, march! Left foot high! Wipe off that smile, frosh!"

To the following commands the men of 1917 who attended the freshman acquaintance party last night entered the Tri-Delt house before the gaze of their gaping brethren who had already assembled. The sophomores, as usual, were the stern taskmasters. They waylaid the wearers of the green just before they reached their Mecca, and, after collecting a sufficient squad to make a showing, sent them on their way trembling and rejoicing.

It was only the usual mode of procedure at the acquaintance party, but the job was done more completely than ever before, owing to the formidable size of the sophomore detachment. The frosh offered no resistance on the outside, but several sophomores who ventured too near the Tri-Delt portals were seized by their indignant prey and roughly handled.

The 1916 brigands were also successful in making away with the ice cream and punch which had been cached in the culinary department, and the frosh were forced to content themselves with chewing the rag for refreshment. The booty was taken to another sorority house, where a royal feast was enjoyed by the guilty ones.

Two automobiles lay in wait in the shadows of Eugene's streets last night, one to carry off the frosh president, Martin Nelson, and the other to convey King Lamar Tooze of the sophomores to captivity. Neither class was successful in accomplishing its purpose. Early in the afternoon Nelson disappeared and could not be located by the 1916 sleuths. Tooze also dropped out of the public ken about the same time, but his duplicate brother was captured and spirited away some distance from the city before the mistake was discovered. Boyce Fenton, a prominent junior, was also mistaken by the would-be kidnappers as their quarry, but by nimble use of his pedal extremities he succeeded in eluding his pursuers.

MICHIGAN COACHING STAFF STRENGTHENED

"Germany" Shulz, Former Center, Will Aid in Educating Squad

The University of Michigan football team this year will not only have the advice of "Hurryup" Yost, but "Germany" Schultz, greatest of all Michigan centers, and said by some to be the best center the game has produced, will add his mite of knowledge of the game for the benefit of the squad.

Erwin Rolfe, '14, has accepted a position at the Lancaster High school, district 15. Mr. Rolfe intimates that he may lead the church choir on Sunday.
