ALUMNI AND UNDERGRADUATES.

This afternoon the alumni of Oregon are gathered together in Eugene on the one occasion during the year when old and new students can meet, not merely on the gridiron, but as fellow students of the University. Old classmates will find each other after the passing of years, and the present generation of University men will rub shoulders with the men of the past decade who in the days gone by, and even at the present time have worked and are working for the glory and advancement of old Oregon.

It is well that this reunion should take place. For two years no opportunity of the kind has been offered except at Commencement exercises at the close of the school year, at which time very few of the active students aside from a few upper classmen are in attendance, and acquaintance is made only between those who are already alumni and those who will with the close of graduation week, enter into that state of being.

Now, however, this difficulty has been eliminated through the re-introduction of the alumni game into the general scheme of athletics at Oregon. Once again will the Oregon graduates be present during one of the most active periods of the school year, and will assume the role of spectators where they used to be active participants.

Many years have perhaps elapsed since some of the old grads have set foot on the Oregon campus, and in consequence some of them will find material changes which have taken place. "The old order changeth," and the Oregon students should see to it that any explanation of these changes is readily furnished, and that any services which may be rendered to our visitors, shall be anticipated, even before a request for them is voiced.

It is up to the students to see that these, our guests, are entertained and well entertained. Let it not be said as in a former year that an alumnus appearing on the Oregon campus passed unrecognized and unnoticed.

Alumni, the students of the University extend to you their heartiest welcome.

"I SAW YOUR AD."

In the space of a few years, the Emerald has risen from the Oregon Weekly, a four page five column sheet, to its present size, with the addition of two extra issues per week. This has been made possible to a large extent, of course, by the growth of the institution and consequent increase in news available for publication.

But there is another and an even more important factor which must be reckoned as largely responsible for this growth. The recognition of the Emerald, by the merchants of Eugene, as a valuable advertising medium, has made possible the expansion of recent years.

The belief is generally held that participation in Emerald work at Oregon, is as in other student activities, limited to a comparative few. This, however, is not the case. Students you can render valuable assistance to the Emerald, and through it to the student body by patronizing concerns which advertise in your college, and not less important, by letting these firms know that you saw their ads in the Emerald.

Emerald supporters deserve the support of the Oregon students, and with it the information that this support is from the people of the University.

EMERALD WINS PRAISE.

There is nothing that the Emerald appreciates more than appreciation. The following is contained in a letter received from Regent Milton A. Miller:

"I would be very much pleased if you would be kind enough to send me your paper which I appreciate and I also wish to congratulate you upon the able manner in which the paper is edited, for I deem it a credit to the University, to the Student body and to the state of Oregon."

DEAN WALKER LOSES APPLES W. N. ON WAGER

Football Squad Returning From Practice, Makes Quick Work of the Fruit

Graduate Manager Dean Walker never did like apples, anyway. Yesterday the ex-football captain became involved in a dispute with "Bill" Hayward and "Deacon" Rice concerning the relative merits of the trio as basketball sharks. To decide the controversy they agreed to take five shots apiece at the basket from the foul-line, the winner to receive a box of apples at the expense of the low man.

The contest was duly held, and Walker came off winner with a score of four baskets out of five attempts. Rice, who finished third best, ordered a box of the finest apples from a local dealer, according to the terms of the wager.

The apples were delivered at the gymnasium, but Walker meanwhile was busy elsewhere performing the duties incident to the graduate managership. About 6:30 the hungry football squad arrived, after one of Coach Bezdek's rigorous work-outs.

The players spied the apples. The rest of the story needs no telling. When Walker reached the scene the box contained one lone apple. It was rotten.

Y. M. C. A. BUNGALOW IS TO BE PRESENTED SOON

Formal Ceremony Take Place at Social Meeting in the Near Future

The advisory board of the Young Woman's Christian Association, who have supervised the building of the Y. W. bungalow, will preside Monday eve at a meeting to be held in their new headquarters. All women of the University are urged to attend. Mrs. R. L. Clark, chairman of the board, will have charge of the program and the presentation of the bungalow. The social committee of the Y. W. C. A. will serve refreshments.

The bungalow is the result of the efforts of the organization for the past five years. The money was raised by bazaars, country fairs and candy sales in small amounts at a time.

It will be open to all women of the University and for meetings of the various women's organizations until there is a woman's building for the university.

VESPER SERVICES AT UNIVERSITY IN FUTURE

Meetings to Be Arranged by Professor Lyman and Others

There will be a University Vesper service every second or third Sunday hereafter at 4:30 p. m. in Villard Hall. The meetings will be arranged and the program prepared by Prof. Ralph Lyman, Mr. M. H. Douglas, Pres. Campbell, and the two general secretaries and presidents respectively of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A.

The best men obtainable will speak at these meetings, that is, big men coming through and others who will be brought here especially for the University Vesper Service.

Another Y. M. C. A. feature will be Kenneth L. Latourette, a Yale man, who has been recently in the Yale mission in Changsha, China. He will deliver an address on "China and Her Needs," next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock sharp in Dr. Schmidt's room in Deady Hall.

DRAMATIC CLUB WILL HAVE TRYOUT THURSDAY

Manager Dimm Desires Many Contestants. Test Will Be "Yale System"

The Dramatic Club of the University of Oregon will hold its annual tryout on Thursday, Oct. 7, in Villard Hall. By graduation last year the organization lost a number of its valuable men and women thus leaving a number of vacancies which must be filled this year. Manager Walter Dimm is in hopes as many as possible will be on hand for the tryout.

The test generally known as the "Yale System," will be used. The contestants will be expected to either read or recite from one of the following groups of selections:

Group 1—The Rivals, act 2, scene 3. The School For Scandal by Richard B. Sheridan, act 2, scene 1. Group 2.—Portia's Plea for Mercy; Merchant of Venice; Seven Ages Speech; As You Like It; King's Soliloquy, Macbeth.

The books containing the above selections are to be had at the library.

LETTERS SHOULD BE IN BY NEXT TUESDAY

Campaign by Mail in Favor of Appropriation Begins Immediately

"Urge the students to get their letters into the office on Monday by all means," said President Campbell this morning when interviewed regarding the referendum fight. "We want to send them out just as soon as possible, and also we wish the names of people to whom the letters are to be sent. Many letters have been turned in already, and the balance should all be in on Monday."

The papers throughout the state have been printing the resolutions sent out by the students of each locality, and have been lending their support in boosting for the University in its campaign fight against the referendum.

There are only a few days remaining in which to register, so all who have not done so should register at once and urge others who have not to tend to the matter immediately.
