Willamette Loses Strong Players But Sweetland Is Feared. Bezdek Says He Will Be Content With Mere Victory.

(By Raeman T. Fleming)

The O. A. C. second team is coming over here tomorrow to take the University second team into camp if possible. They have some good men over there who are ineligible to play on the first team owing to the four year rule who will be able to play on the second team. Blackwell, the ex-Willamette star, will probably be on hand to give an account of himself.

The men are all in good shape. They handle themselves like veterans and although they have not had as much practice in the use of the forward pass as the first team has, they get away with one every now and then just to keep their hand in.

In the punting department Carson Bigbee has been acquitting himself well and he may be counted on to kick far enough to keep the O. A. C. second team away from the goal line. He is also drop kicking with a degree of accuracy.

The second team line is strong, and there are a number of men in it who have had experience sufficient to acquaint them with the finer points of the game. A good game and a close score is expected.

The lineup will probably be as follows: Ensley, center; Brown and Cossman, guards; Easterwood and Dudley, tackles; Garrett and Hendricks, ends; Bigbee, quarter; Tuerck and McCornack, halves; and Spellman, fullback. Besides these men there will be a galaxy of stars reposing on the side lines waiting to go into vacancies in any positions which may present themselves.

Saturday the first team goes to Willamette to battle with Dr. Sweetland's proteges. The cry has gone forth that Willamette has a weaker team than they have had for years, but it will be remembered that Coach Sweetland has a happy faculty of making a good team out of almost any material which presents itself to him.

A number of Willamette's last year's men are out of the game this year. Such players as McRae, Francis and Rowland have left and their absence is bound to be felt more or less.

The team at Willamette is said in Salem to be not as strong as it has been in years past, but at that they have an aggregation to be feared. They beat the Pacific University 63 to 6 and a team that can run up such a score is to be watched all of the time or they might pull off a few trick plays and turn the tide of defeat to victory in a short time.

Coach Bezdek looks forward to a close game. He does not figure that there will be a difference of more than ten points in the score.

"I have not decided as yet what men will be in the first lineup," said the coach, tonight, "but I will take the whole of the first and second teams and their substitutes. I look for a close score and I will be satisfied to win."

Arrangements for a band concert to be given at the Eugene theatre are being made by President Maurice Hyde. Rehearsals are being held two times a week with the aim of securing a first class showing.

HENDRICKS NOT ENDOWED WITH TANGLEY GIFTS

Wants Advance Dope on O. A. C.-Oregon Football Contest

(By Lee Hendricks)

Ye oracles and prophets, ye sages and wise moxes, who lamp the stars and dope the future for us common folks! Please cast your glims toward heaven and inform me what you find concerning that great question which is foremost in my mind. Don't try to solve the riddles of the Universe just now; we'll leave that little duty to some spectacled highbrow. Don't try to figure out when this old world will cease to be, or the origin of matter, for it matters not to me.

Go easy on the question if the naughty human race is on the skids and headed for a certain sultry place, because of tangos, cabarets and skirts that split in twain; to ponder on such matters would drive Solomon insane. Don't beef about the tariff, or the sins of Standard Oil, and don't try to put liquor down, leave that to Charley Koyle. Side-step that Women's suffrage stuff, and let them suffer on. Just press the silent pedal on those various kinds of con, but for the love of Michael, hand an inside tip to me, on that all absorbing question, will we wallop O. A. C.?

PROF. ALLEN TEACHES CLASS AT CORVALLIS

Will Give Weekly Lectures to Students Interested in Journalism

Eric W. Allen, professor of Journalism in the University of Oregon, will make a trip every Thursday to Corvallis to lecture to O. A. C. students interested in journalism, particularly those on the Barometer staff. This is in accordance with a previous conversation with Ralph Hetzel, head of the O. A. C. extension department who has now written an invitation from President Kerr and the interested students, to Mr. Allen and expressing the enthusiasm of the students over the plan.

Mr. Allen left today to give his first lecture to the Barometer staff. In connection with this exchange of instructors and lectures, President Kerr of O. A. C. said, "I would be delighted to have as many of the University faculty come over for lectures or to visit the institution as can possibly arrange to do so."

The next exchange of lectures will probably be between Dr. J. H. Gilbert, assistant professor of Economics in the University of Oregon, and Dr. Hector McPherson, of the economics department of O. A. C., who recently returned from Europe where he went to study agricultural conditions.

"It may be desirable to start in a small way," writes Mr. Hetzel "and I am certain that a large meeting of the faculty members of the two institutions would result in greatly advancing the movement for better understanding and amicable relations."

STUDENTS TO GET RETURNS

Members of Journalism Class to Help Register in Coming Election.

The members of the third year journalism class will take charge of the election returns for the Morning Register next Tuesday.

Special slips for recording the results have been prepared for the student reporters, so that the returns will be accurate and easily obtained. This is the second year that the members of the Journalism classes have been granted the privilege of securing election returns.

GERMANS TO AID VARSITY

THREE NEWSPAPERS AND THOUSANDS OF CIRCULARS BOOST

DELEGATES VISITED CAMPUS

Visitors, When Interviewed, Declared Appropriation Badly Needed and Will Help Out in Coming Election.

Three German newspapers of the state have published numerous articles and editorials in favor of the appropriation. Thousands of German circulars as well as hundreds of letters addressed to individuals and to the numerous officials of the German societies have been distributed all over the state.

There are thirty-two German speaking societies in the state and, in a recent meeting of last week they passed unanimously resolutions in favor of the University. According to an estimate published some time ago in the Oregonian there are about seventy thousand German speaking people in the state of Oregon. The Germans of the state took a special interest in the University of Oregon when its very existence was threatened some years ago. Moreover the Germans of this state realize fully that there is no other institution that favors the study of the German language more than the University of Oregon.

Prominent Germans Interested.

Last Sunday a number of prominent Germans among them Mr. Winter, the editor and manager of the Nachrichten, Mr. Bergman, shoe manufacturer, and Mr. Enke, expert of the German societies of Oregon, and others were shown through the buildings on the campus by Dr. Schmidt, who says they were inspected with German thoroughness. They went away fully convinced that the University is sadly in need of the money appropriated by the state legislature. In fact all the visitors thought that the $175,000 was entirely inadequate to meet all the demands of the University. One of them even said that the insane and prisoners at Salem had better accommodations and better rooms and halls than the students of the University. The idea was expressed that if the state of Oregon can spend nearly $200,000 for a temporary exposition, building at San Francisco it certainly ought to be thoroughly ashamed if it cannot afford at least this much for a permanent University building in which the youth of Oregon, the future citizens of the state, are educated.

Loyal to University.

Dr. Schmidt says that there is no doubt but that there the Germans are loyal to the University and will vote in favor of the appropriation. He further states and knows from personal interviews with the editors of the various foreign papers of the state that the foreign voters are thoroughly aroused about the needs of the University. The other foreign papers, The Swedish, The Norwegian-Danish, and the two Italian papers also published strong articles in favor of the University and urged their readers to vote in favor of the appropriation.

A prize of $1,000,000 has been offered in St. Petersburg for the best biography of Czar Alexander I. The prize is the greatest ever offered for a single essay. The biography may be written in any language and must be completed before 1925.

$25 OFFERED FOR NEW SONG

ALMA MATER IS WORTHY
THEME THINKS EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

CONTEST TO CLOSE DEC. 10

Matschenbacher Outlines Conditions in Letter Which States Reasons for Putting up Prize at This Time.

The Executive Committee has decided to offer a twenty-five dollar prize for the best Oregon "alma mater" song offered for their judgment by the tenth of December. From the text of the letter from Student Body President Vernon Matschenbacher, "anyone will be eligible, as there is a desire to get the best song possible."

The following letter from Matschenbacher describes the type of song, and the purpose of offering the prize:

There is a strong feeling among the students and friends of Oregon that we need an Alma Mater song. We need a song that represents the "spirit" of the University, that reflects its ideals and traditions and which can be sung on any and all occasions. All great schools have an Alma Mater and the time seems ripe for the introduction of such a song here.

Song to Be Dignified.

The Executive Committee have therefore voted a prize of ($25) twenty-five dollars for the words to such a song. We want something stately and dignified, something that will last. This offer is open to anyone, whether a student of Oregon or not.

Contributions must be in by December 10. They will be judged by the Executive Committee and members of the faculty.

The prize is a substantial one and every student and friend of Oregon if they understand the first principles of the English language, should contribute something. Here is a chance for anyone and everyone to show their real "Oregon Spirit," a spirit of action—not talk.

Address your favors to Norma Dobie, secretary of the Associated Students.

REV. HENRY MARCOTTE LIKES STUDENT BODY

Portland Minister Spends Busy Week Addressing and Meeting Students

"I was impressed by the student body here and think it is a fine looking body of young men and women," was Rev. Henry Marcotte's spoken impression of the University students, yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. Book Exchange.

Rev. Marcotte came here Monday from Portland at the invitation of President Campbell to spend Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday on the campus meeting the students in personal interviews and addressing them. Rev. Marcotte is pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church in Portland and has been in that capacity for the last ten years. This is his second trip to the University, his first being to address the Assembly last spring. He addressed the Ethics class in McClure Hall, Tuesday; the Women's League in Villard, Wednesday; the women in their gymnasium today at 11 o'clock and again at the Y. W. C. A. Bungalow at 4 o'clock; and he speaks tonight at the regular Y. M. C. A. meeting in Dady Hall in a short address.

UNIVERSITY QUARTET IS DOING GOOD WORK

Representatives of University Help Campaign Committee in Portland

That the University of Oregon male quartet has been doing efficient work in Portland in getting votes for the University appropriation is shown by a letter from Eugene Brookings, president of the Oregon Citizens Educational League, the body that is heading the fight in Portland. The quartet's schedule Tuesday included programs at the Lincoln high school, the Rotary club, the Third Presbyterian church, the Arleta school, Sellwood and the Labor Temple. From 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tuesday they sang almost steadily.

Wednesday the quartet sang at the Ad club, the Washington High school, the North Portland Library, the Arcade Theatre, and at an assembly of garment workers.

"The quartet has done fine work and is entitled to the greatest amount of credit for the sacrifice that they have made," said Mr. Brookings in his letter. "I am sure that the student body and the University generally and the people of Eugene will appreciate what they have done fully as much as we do here."

WOMEN'S HOCKEY TEAM HAS COMPETENT COACH

Percy Fletcher, Cambridge '85, Is Showing Co-eds How to Play Game

The women's hockey team is fortunate in having as its instructor, Percy Fletcher, a Cambridge man who plays purely for the love of the game. He received his B. A. degree from Cambridge in 1888 and his M. A. in 1892. While at college he founded the "Oxford Casuals," a hockey club, composed of Oxford and Cambridge men. The game as played by this club was a "purely amateur one."

Mr. Fletcher came to America where he taught Latin, Greek and History in an Episcopal school in Washington, Penn., for two years. Then he left for St. Louis and after two years in that city went back to England.

In 1911 he made a tour around the world with the Sheffield choir, composed of two hundred and ten voices. After this tour he came to Canada and is now running a piano and music store in Vernon, British Columbia.

A few weeks ago he motored to Eugene and expects to stay here for the winter. Already he has been a great help to the hockey team and the girls are rapidly learning the game under his supervision.

Mr. Fletcher has promised to write an article on hockey for the Emerald in the near future.

COMPENSATION BILL TO BE DISCUSSED TONIGHT

J. F. Cassidy, Prominent Labor Leader, Will Show Defects in Proposed Law

J. F. Cassidy, a prominent labor leader of Portland, will address the Faculty and students of the University tonight at 8 o'clock in McClure Hall, for the purpose of setting forth his reasons why the Workmen's Compensation Act should not be passed at the special election, November 4.

Mr. Cassidy will explain the bill in detail, tell of its workings in other states, and show its defects. He will discuss the bill from the viewpoint of the laboring man.

BALL PLAYERS TO GO SOUTH

CALIFORNIA MAY BE INVAD-
ED DURING SPRING
VACATION

MANY GAMES ARE SCHEDULED

Trip Certainty If Men Turn Out and Show Interest. Prospects Are Good to Capture Coast Pennant.

A trip to California for the baseball team this coming season is the present plan which Graduate-manager Walker is working on. The trip will be made during Spring vacation and will take the place of the northern trip, if arrangements which Walker are working on turn out as predicted.

Games will be scheduled with the University of California, Stanford University and several other teams probably Santa Clara, St. Mary's among them.

"The prospects for a championship team are the best I have seen," says Walker, "and it is my opinion that we have the best baseball coach on the coast. Coach Bezdek will be with us until the end of the college year and will have charge of the coaching of the team. He undoubtedly knows the game, and with the old men and new material which has shown up, I have no doubt but that the team will capture the pennant."

"I have been in communication with a number of the universities and colleges in California besides several other teams with good reputations and I am satisfied that the trip can be made without the least difficulty. The principal obstacle now in sight is whether or not the men turn out and show enough pip to make a team that will be a credit to the University. The coach cannot do it all, he must have the material to work with."

OREGON JOURNALISM SCHOOL RANKED HIGH

Professor Allen Receives Invitation to Read Paper at Teachers' Conference

Eric W. Allen, professor of Journalism in the University of Oregon, has received a letter from the chairman of the course in Journalism in the University of Wisconsin, Willard G. Bleyer, author of the text book, "Newspaper Editing and Writing," which is used here in the first year Journalism class.

Mr. Bleyer calls attention to the coming meeting of the American Conference of Teachers of Journalism to be held in Madison, Wisconsin, November 28 and 29. He requests Prof. Allen to be present and read a paper on one of the following subjects:

1. Are special courses in history, political economy, sciences, languages, etc., necessary in undergraduate courses in Journalism?
2. Some classroom methods that can be used to advantage in the instruction of Journalism.

Prof. Allen states that he expects to attend and that he will probably read a paper on the second subject above.

The Journalism classes in the University of Wisconsin this year have 137 students, an increase of twenty per cent over the enrollment of last year, so Mr. Bleyer states.

Seven old men have turned out for football practice at the University of Arkansas.
