

BEZDEK IS NO LONGER SURE

CLAIMS OVER-CONFIDENCE DANGEROUS TO OUTCOME OF ALBANY GAME

TEAM A WEEK BEHIND AGGIES

Hayward Believes in Bezdek's Powers as Mentor and Predicts That Aggies Will Have Trouble With Oregon Line.

Coach Bezdek, for the first time, has discouraged confidence among the students on the result of the coming football games. With Parsons, Cook, Beckett and Bryant on the list of injured, the big coach has not so much faith in the undefeatable Oregon Spirit.

Yesterday he said to the team: "You fellows had better drop this air of confidence. We have no cinch on the Albany game; it will take everything we have to win it. With four of our best men injured, the team is playing raggedly, and still show that we are a week behind in training. Their work lacks precision, and this cocky attitude will not make for better work."

Bill Hayward is still optimistic though, and told the student body yesterday that Oregon has the greatest coach in the country. He predicted that the O. A. C. backfield would find distinct difficulties in finding the holes necessary to make headway through Oregon's line.

"Final arrangements for the Oregon-O. A. C. football game have been completed in full," said Graduate-Manager Dean Walker, who returned from Portland and Albany Wednesday.

"The Oregon contingent will sit on the opposite side of the field this year from that of last," said Walker, yesterday. "It is important that all of Oregon's rooters sit together and do this the students will have purchased their tickets at the Book Exchange before Friday night. After that positively no student tickets will be sold and those buying tickets after this date will have to buy the regular tickets at the regular rates and will not be seated in the Oregon rooters' section."

"Excursions will be run on both the Oregon Electric and the Southern Pacific. The tickets entitle the purchasers to leave here any time Saturday and return any time before Monday night. The Southern Pacific special leaving here at 1 stops right at the field and returns immediately after the game."

"We expect a large excursion train from Portland carrying both Oregon and O. A. C. rooters and this game promises to be the largest attended game ever played in the state. All parts of the state will be represented, several towns having petitioned for special reservations. Also a goodly number of Washington supporters are expected to be down for the game."

Y. M. CABINETS TO MEET

After Albany Game, O. A. C. and U. of O. Associations Will Banquet

The cabinets and general secretaries of the O. A. C. and U. of O. Y. M. C. A. will take dinner together Saturday after the O. A. C.-Oregon football game. They will gather at the Hotel Hammel at Albany as soon as the game is over. This will be for the purpose of discussing the inter-relationship of the two institutions' student bodies and Associations, and how the Y. M. C. A. may further the bond of good fellowship.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR O. A. C. GAME

Manager Walker to Complete Details for Glee Club Trip As Well

Graduate-manager Dean Walker left last night for Portland where he will complete arrangements for the Oregon O. A. C. football game, November 8 and also for the Thanksgiving trip of the Glee club.

"The Glee club sings in Portland the night of the Oregon-Multnomah game at the Lincoln High school building and both football teams will be present as guests of the club. Stops will also be made at Astoria, and probably at Salem and Albany if I can get suitable dates for that weekend."

Many of the towns have put in bids for the club but owing to the limited amount of time during the Thanksgiving vacation, four concerts will be about all that we can give. "On my way back from Portland I will stop at a number of the places along the road in closing up the seat sale arrangements for the Albany game."

REPORTERS' CONTEST IS WON BY REGISTER TEAM

Contest in Covering Election Returns Shows Students Efficient Workers

The election-night contest of speed, accuracy, and thoroughness, in regard to the covering of the various precincts in Eugene and Springfield, between the university students headed by Walter Dimm, working through the Morning Register office, and those headed by Henry Fowler, through The Daily Guard office, resulted in a slight victory for Dimm's side.

"A city editor could well be proud of his reporters, if they gave such efficient service as the university students did Tuesday night," said Prof. Eric W. Allen, in commenting on the contest.

C. V. Dymont states that the two teams were so close that a bare difference of three per cent can be made between the two teams, Dimm's forces being accredited with 85 points against Fowler's 82. The office forces were about equal in efficiency; there was nothing lost or gained on either side.

As the election officials at the polling places were friendly to the main issue, information was cheerfully given to the student reporters and thus the early sending in of reports was greatly facilitated.

FLORA DUNHAM HEADS WOMEN'S PRESS CLUB

Petition Will Be Sent to Theta Sigma Phi, Press Fraternity

The Women's Press Club held its annual election of officers yesterday afternoon. Flora Dunham was chosen president, Ruth Doris secretary, and Evelyn Harding, treasurer. A committee composed of Florence Thrall, Catharine Carson and Lucia Macklin was appointed to revise the constitution.

The club was organized last spring by the women of the University who were interested in journalistic work for the purpose of encouraging newspaper and magazine work among the women of the University. At intervals during the coming year the club expects to have lectures from the prominent women journalists of the state. A petition will also be sent to Theta Sigma Phi, the women's national press fraternity.

APPROPRIATION VICTORY IS CAUSE FOR MUCH REJOICING

STATE BACKS THE UNIVERSITY STUDENTS HOLD BIG RALLY

Latest Returns Show Majority of 15,000 Votes on the Repair Bill

The State University repair fund measure appropriates $75,000 for repairs to University buildings. Of this sum $30,000 is for an addition and repairs to the library; $15,000 for repairing the Engineering building; $10,000 on the men's dormitory; $10,000 repairing Deady Hall; $10,000 spent on heating plant.

The New Building measure appropriates $100,000 for a modern fire proof administration and class-room building including furnishing and equipment.

Both sums become available immediately, and the new building will be built next spring.

On Tuesday the citizens of Oregon by a large majority, decided that the University should not be hampered and crippled by refusing it the above two appropriations. Again the University has been placed on a sound footing and left free to grow as the wealth of the state should permit.

The result was secured only after a long and hard fight, carried on by the numerous friends of the University. So far, out of the returns for 30 counties of the state, only 6 counties have voted unfavorably. These counties are Yamhill, Clackamas, Linn, Morrow, Marion and Polk.

In proportion to population Lane county returned the largest majority for the University bills. The bills carried in this county by a majority of 7528.

Corvallis Citizens Are Loyal. In Corvallis the University measures carried by more than 350 out of a total of 798 votes cast in the city. The students and faculty of O. A. C. as far as the returns can show cast a heavy majority in favor of the measures; which should indicate a friendly attitude.

Albany was lost to the support of the University by only 14 votes. Springfield returned nearly as large a majority in proportion to population as Eugene.

Hood River gave the two measures strong support. Other towns which supported the University are Baker, Astoria, Medford, Roseburg, Pendleton, The Dalles, Klamath Falls, Marshfield, Grants Pass.

Practically all of Southern Oregon supported the measures. One peculiar vote was that of Douglas county, where a slight majority was cast against the building measure while the repair bill was approved.

Multnomah gave a majority of two to one for the repairs measure and about two to one for the building measure.

CONGRATULATIONS MANY

Among the first to send telegrams was A. H. Harris of the Portland Labor Press, who has been a strong supporter of the University during the entire campaign.

Telegrams from the University of California and the Portland O. A. C. alumni were among the early messages to be received.

Women Also Join in Celebration. Resolutions Passed Thanking Citizens

For the first time in the history of the University, women marched side by side with men in the rally yesterday morning when the news of the University's victory in Tuesday's elections was announced as almost certain.

Not realizing the amount of enthusiasm which was lying dormant in the student body, the faculty had declared no official holiday, but at eight o'clock Wednesday morning a parade was started on the campus which eventually made classes a matter of secondary interest. The marchers tramped through all the lecture halls and while serpentine in Dr. Stewart's stronghold the procession was joined by a few dozen of the disciples of equal rights. The number gradually swelled until it included half the women of the University.

The rooters' band was hastily got together and the students marched through town, the co-eds in the center and a double file of men on either side. Eugene people in the business section, abandoned stores and shops to watch the rally, and cheer for the University, as the marchers went past.

In only one respect was the marching of the men and women together found to detract from the general efficiency of the demonstration. In winding up at a downtown crossing to give the Oregon yells, it was found necessary to halt the procession for several minutes while the college women marched to a point of safety.

On the way back to the campus, a half dozen freshmen suddenly deserted the procession, but appeared later with a coffin borrowed from a Eugene undertaker, and purporting to contain the corpse of the referendum. The objective point of the march was Villard Hall, which was filled to overflowing by the students assembled.

Probably never in the history of the University has there been more Oregon Spirit exhibited at a student body assembly than that attendant at yesterday morning's gathering in Villard Hall. The assembly intended for the purpose of rehearsing Oregon songs preparatory for the O. A. C. game Saturday, was turned into an enthusiastic rally for the purpose of celebrating Tuesday's overwhelming victory at the polls.

President Motschenbacher, of the Student Body, presided. He introduced the first speaker, Allen H. Eaton, of Eugene, as an alumnus to whom much credit is due for Tuesday's victory.

"I want to thank the students and faculty of the University for the invaluable services rendered in behalf of the University's campaign," Mr. Eaton said.

"To the committee of the Eugene Commercial Club also a great portion of credit for the victory is due. The value of their work cannot be estimated."

"The vote Tuesday was significant, not only to the University of Oregon, but to those states in the Union who do not have women suffrage. I am confident that the victory was due, in no small measure, to the vote of the women. It illustrates what women will do when given the ballot."

"The winning of the election marks the beginning of a new and better era for the University."

In conclusion Mr. Eaton eulogized the work of President Campbell and urged every student to show their loyalty to the head of the institu-

MIDNIGHT RALLY LACKS ONLY FOR SPECTATORS

Dorm Club Scoops Rest of University by Celebrating Victory First

Rallies and Rallies have occurred since the election returns came in, but the forty-five men in the Dorm scooped the rest of the University by holding the first rally at 1:30 a. m. Wednesday morning.

Every man of the Dorm club who had retired was aroused by the turbulent celebrators and told to put on his clothes. Then the entire crowd serpentine over to Mary Spiller Hall where the Freshmen were told to mount the porch and sing. They sung.

George Colton was in the ball park at this wee sma' hour keeping a lonely vigil over the material for the Freshman bonfire. Besides the girls in the Mary Spiller Hall, he was the only one that heard the Freshmen's effort and he has a hair-raising story to tell of it.

The Freshmen were called upon for speeches, which were followed by yells and songs, after which the meeting adjourned.

PLAYERS IN THANKSGIVING GAME MAY BE NUMBERED

Scheme Suggested Some Time Ago by Portland Men May Be Adopted

"In regard to the plan of numbering the players in the Multnomah-Oregon game, although I have not been communicated with as yet by the Multnomah club, I think it is a good plan," said Manager Walker yesterday.

The plan as suggested by the Portland manager is that each player be given a number which will be fastened to his back something similar to the plan used by the entrees at a roundup or some such event. The names of the players and their numbers are printed on the programs and the spectators can keep track of the players while they are in action. Many of the grandstands are so far from the teams when in action that it is impossible for the spectators who are not well acquainted with the players to keep track of them. Also it will make it possible to tell who is taken out and who is put in by simply glancing at the program and comparing the numbers.

"This system is used a great deal in the east and since there can be no reason for the players objecting that I know of, I am in favor of starting this plan at the Multnomah game," said the manager.

UNDERCLASSMEN TO YELL

Freshman Meet With Sophomores to Learn Oregon War Cries.

A joint meeting of the Freshman and Sophomore classes was held in Villard Hall this afternoon, to make arrangement for the O. A. C. game in Albany next Saturday. The Freshmen are making an effort to learn all the Oregon yells and songs before the game.

Senator Louis E. Bean, of Eugene, was the second speaker. Senator Bean was chairman of a committee of the Eugene Commercial Club which, for five months previous to the election, labored unceasingly to create favorable sentiment throughout the state for the University appropriations.

In the course of a 10-minute speech Senator Bean said:

"A splendid victory is ours this morning. It is for the young men and women of this state that this battle has been fought and won."

"The University has had a struggle for existence ever since it was (Continued on page three)

BIGGEST RALLY COMES FRIDAY

SERPENTINES, SPEECHES, YELLS AND BON-FIRE ARE PLANNED

"ON TO ALBANY" IS SLOGAN

Yell Leader Young Says He Expects Every Student to Join in Demonstration Tomorrow for Game With O. A. C.

"I want,—loyalty and Oregon spirit demands it—a hundred per cent turn out Friday evening. This is not asking too much, for every student of the University, men and women, realize themselves the tremendous effort that must be made for the game next Saturday. Nothing short of every man and woman in the University can satisfy me tomorrow evening. One other thing. The strength and 'pip' of the men must be conserved for the game the following day. In order to do this, I do not intend to make the men yell and give the chant while marching, to the same extent as before. This may seem to some to make the rally 'dead,' but experience has shown that it is the only thing to do if the best yelling is to be expected at Albany." These were the words of "Dutch" Young, yell leader, yesterday afternoon, in reference to the rally Friday evening.

Promptly at 7 o'clock Friday evening, the men will start from the Dormitory taking the usual route and gathering numbers as they go. They will burn red fire on the down town corners; and then serpentine to Kincaid Field. Simultaneously with the arrival inside the gates, the huge mass of combustible material will be touched off and will make the scene of the rally as bright as day.

Speeches by prominent men and students will follow and Coach Bezdek and Trainer Bill Hayward will give their final statements. The details of the program, which is in charge of Young, have not been definitely decided. The "Oregon Toast" will be practiced several times.

"The bonfire is now beginning to assume great proportions," said George Colton, chairman of the committee today. "We will make every effort to surpass last year's fire. A number of barrels of tar and crude oil will be distributed throughout the framework to insure a thoroughly combustible core. A canvass of the downtown business districts is being made for funds and these will be devoted to special features to be decided later."

"MONNA VAUNA" LIKED BY REDDIE'S AUDIENCE

Strong Drama by Maeterlinck Cleverly Read Last Evening

"Monna Vanna," the strong drama by Maurice Maeterlinck, was given as a reading by Professor Archibald F. Reddie in Deady Hall last evening. An attentive audience of about one hundred and fifty gathered to hear the story.

Prof. Reddie read the play with immense conviction and determination in order to impress it upon his hearers. The characters were drawn cleverly and the audience listened to the play, partly read and partly told, with the closest interest and attention.

Hazel Tooze and Arvilla Beckwith are visiting at the Chi Omega house this week.
