gle camp, the Oregon line is the heavier by five pounds; 180 pound average for O. A. C., and 185 for Oregon. But the Aggie backfield is considerably the heavier of the two, with speed again in Oregon's favor. Whether Fenton will have the edge on Blackwell in punting is still a question; but Carl's sureness on placements is feared throughout the conference.

Roscoe Fawcett says Oregon has "Kid" Precedent to rely upon. Maybe so; but she also has Johnny Parsons, Anson Cornell, and the rest of the team; all of whom could overturn such an advantage on the other side.

The entire first and second teams were taken to Albany this morning at nine-thirty.

Reports from Whitman pronounce the Missionaries ready for their game with U. S. C. today; the only other conference game this week.

to 1 odds. If the boys get in and fight like they did last year, we will win easily."

Joe Jones.

"I'd hate to try to predict the result of today's game, but am banking on Bezdek to pull us through."

Johnny Beckett.

"We'll tear them up. Beat 'em by three touchdowns."

Oscar Wiest.

"I look to see a fight like two bull dogs, but I'm betting on Oregon."

Bill Holden.

"I expect a hard rub, but feel that Oregon has the edge on them."

Carl Fenton.

"I don't think the Aggie team is in as poor condition as reported, it looks like an even break to me."

Wallace Caulfield.

"If 'fight' will win the game, we have it stowed away."

Freshmen at Cornell cannot drive automobiles on the campus.

A limited number of students may now enter the college of science and arts at Oberlin College because of a recent ruling by the faculty.

Anson Cornell, premier quarterback of the Northwest.
