

O. A. C. FAILED TO HOLD LEAD

GAME SAVED BUT NOT WON BY OREGON IN LAST QUARTER

OREGON LINE FAILS TO HOLD

Aggies Fall Down In Use of Forward Pass; Oregon Gets Three Out of Ten Tries. Dobie, in Albany, Watches.

(By Raeman T. Fleming)

The man who made up those little buttons with "IT can't be did, Aggies" on them knew whereof he spoke. They could not do it. From a bystander's point of view it looked like certain defeat at the end of the first half, but to the wearers of those little buttons it merely looked as if the Oregon players would have to extend themselves a little or they would be too late. They extended themselves and in the last quarter tied the score, 10 to 10. Here is some dope that shows how things stood in the two halves:

Fenton, who was not punting his best, booted the ball 9 times for a total yardage of 340 yards. This made his average 38 yards. O. A. C. punted 13 times for a total of 470 yards, or an average of 36 yards. Fenton kicked one field goal out of five attempts, while Blackwell made one good out of three attempts.

In bucking the line, Oregon made yardage four times in the first half as against seven successful endeavors on the part of the O. A. C. bunch. In the second half Oregon made yardage six times while the O. A. C. hopefuls were not once able to negotiate the necessary ten.

As for penalties Oregon received 9 setbacks for over-zealousness, totaling 60 yards. O. A. C. was penalized four times for an aggregate of 50 yards.

In the forward passing Oregon was successful three times out of ten attempts, as opposed to the three unsuccessful endeavors on the part of the Stewartites.

O. A. C. got away with their place kick in the very first of the game. It was in the first ten minutes of play that they secured their first score. Fenton kicked the ball over the bars when there was but 4 minutes left to play.

Gilmore Dobie, the arouser of the Seattle spirit, was in the crowd. He was probably trying to get a line on the style of play, but if he took back any information from that game he is a wonder. From the way the men played in the game at Albany Saturday he is quite apt to think that the team has been overrated. If these tidings are carried back to Seattle, the Washington team may come to Portland teeming with confidence—and you can never tell.

Next Y. M. C. A. Lecture to Be Given on Thursday Evening

"It Is Up to You Men of the University" will be the subject for the sixth Y. M. C. A. lecture Thursday night. This is the last lecture of the "Know Thyself" series. TOM RICHARDSON WILL GIVE ASSEMBLY TALK

Head of Promotion Department of Portland Commercial Club Here

"Business Man's View of Higher Education," is the subject upon which Tom Richardson, of Portland, will lecture before tomorrow morning's assembly. Mr. Richardson will discuss the application of theory to the practical methods of the business world and show what benefits are derived therefrom.

Mr. Richardson as head of the promotion department of the Portland Commercial club for a number of years, has had an excellent opportunity of ascertaining the opinion of the business man on higher education and his address will no doubt be very interesting.

The musical program includes a solo by Albert Gillette, of this city, and selections by the orchestra.

TERESA CARRENO TO APPEAR IN EUGENE

Famous Musician Comes Under Auspices of School of Music

(By Ruth Dorris)

The noted Spanish pianist, Madame Teresa Carreno will appear in Eugene next Thursday evening, giving to local music lovers a rare opportunity to hear one of the world's artists who has attained fame.

Madame Carreno, a Venezuelan by birth, was the daughter of one of its ministers of state, himself a fine musician, who was her first teacher. Her technique and musical development proceeded through study with Louis Gottschalk and Anton Rubinstein.

While Madame Carreno is famous for her mastery of the instrument, her own compositions are a delight to artists of every degree.

In 1912 Madame Carreno toured Europe, giving memorable recitals in its principal cities where she will long be remembered for her skillful interpretation of Bach, Chopin, Brahms and especially MacDowell.

Like Schumann-Heink, Madame Carreno is supreme in her art and is now at the climax of a long and wonderful career.

Many people interested in music are expected to attend the concert, from outside points, such as Albany, Cottage Grove and Springfield.

It is an advantage that comes seldom to the University students, and the concert will be worthy of a large attendance.

ALBANY GAME SHOWN IN MOVING PICTURES

Details of Contest to Be Seen Here Early Next Week

Moving pictures of the Oregon-O. A. C. football game in Albany Saturday will be shown at a local theatre early next week. Over 1300 feet of film was taken by the two machines, one owned by "Bill" Hayward and the other by the American Lifeograph Company of Portland.

The views were taken from opposite sides of the field so that every angle of the plays will be shown.

These are the first moving pictures of a Northwest football game, but it is understood that "Bill" is planning to have his machine on the field at all the remaining games this season.

All Freshmen at the Ohio State University are prevented from participating in college activities except class offices and student council, during the first semester, according to a recent faculty ruling.

DEBATE WORK IS STARTED

CHOOSING OF QUESTION LAST WEEK ALLOWS FOR PREPARATION

FIVE NEW MEN ARE NEEDED

Only One of Last Year's Team Out for Place. Subject Chosen for Discussion Is Budget Responsibility.

(By Bert Lombard.)

"Resolved, That the Executive Department should be made responsible for the National Budget. It is agreed that the term 'responsible,' within the meaning of this resolution, shall be interpreted as laying upon the executive the duty of introducing the budget into Congress, the right being reserved to Congress to amend only by reducing items," is the question submitted by the University as the one for the Washington - Stanford - Oregon debate. Washington and Stanford, likewise, will submit questions on the same general subject. Then a vote will be taken of first and second choice of each college. The question receiving the largest number of points will be the one used for the contest.

Already a number of men are hard at work in preparation for the first tryout, November 22. The question of "Budget Responsibility" will be used for the tryouts. The debate teams this year will be almost entirely composed of new men, there being only two old men back, Dal King and Vernon Motschenbacher. Motschenbacher will be unable to debate on account of other work. Thus, there are places for five new men; three team places and two alternates. In addition to the Alumni medal, which is given to the best individual debator, there will be several other substantial cash prizes.

According to Coach Prescott, the debate outlook is not bright. He is as yet unacquainted with the material. "Only by hard and persistent work will we be able to come out ahead," is his summary of the situation.

Coach Prescott urges that all who intend to tryout see him immediately so he can get in touch with each man. A bibliography for the use of all is posted in the library.

The following is a schedule of the tryouts and debate.

Nov. 22—First elimination debate tryout to choose a squad of 10 men. Contestants may take any side of the question.

Dec. 2.—Second elimination tryout. To choose a squad of 6 or 8 men. Any side may be taken.

Dec. 7—Tryouts on the 7th may take any side; but on the 14th the opposite side.

Dec. 14.—Final tryout to choose teams and two alternates. May take any side. Awarding of prizes and alumni medal.

March 13, Friday.—Washington-Stanford-Oregon Triangular contests. There will also be a debate with O. A. C., but the date has not yet been arranged. The same general subject will be used as that used for the Triangular Debate.

Clarence H. Fertig, a senior at the University of Wisconsin, committed suicide recently because of despondence occasioned by poor health.

ALBANY GAME CLEARS $2,300 FOR UNIVERSITY

Prospects for Profitable Football Season Are Good Says Walker

"The gate receipts at the Oregon-O. A. C. game held in Albany last Saturday were all that I expected and added to the expected sale of seats for the Washington game to be played in Portland next Saturday, the prospects for a profitable football season are good," said Graduate Manager Walker yesterday.

Following is the approximate report of the game. The exact amounts cannot be determined for a week or two until all the minor expenses are taken care of:

| | |
|---------------------|-----------|
| Total gate receipts | $5506.75 |
| Expenses | 500.00 |

| | |
|---------|-----------|
| Surplus | $5000.00 |
|---------|-----------|

This is about the amount the two colleges will receive, and out of half this amount the expenses of our team is paid and which amounts to about $200. This leaves about $2300 above all expenses.

Three Freshmen at the University of Washington were punished by the Sophomores for failing to observe the rules governing the actions of the entering class.

LARGE DELEGATION WILL ATTEND SALEM MEETING

Religious Leaderships Conference Was Attended Last Year by Ten Oregon Students

The Religious Leadership Conference held every two years is scheduled to be held this year at Salem, December 5 and 6, at the Willamette University. Two years ago by having ten representatives present the University had the largest delegation. This year there is an endeavor being made to send twelve representatives. Lamar Tooze, chairman of the University Y. M. C. A. Extension department, has charge of the delegation.

There will be many well-known and interesting speakers present, among them Governor West, Bishop Robert E. Paddock, President P. L. Campbell, of the University, and others.

U. OF W. BEAR STORIES NOT UP TO STANDARD

Latest Dobie-Inspired Write-Up Shows No Men Hurt, But No Chance Anyway

A combination of unconditioned men and bad weather has prevented a single good varsity football turnout this week. The men are all in bad shape and it looks as though Dobie's gloom cloud was the right dope on the question. The men do not seem to be able to get into the swing of hard work this week, both on account of the lack of the old time form of Bud Young, Hap Miller, and Hunt, and also because of their own injuries and ill condition. It's a good thing that there is no game Saturday and there is another week to get in shape for the Portland game. If there was a game Saturday it certainly would be defeat for Washington.

Bud Young is out every night, but is not able to do much on account of his injuries. He will be lucky if he can turn out for the rest of the season. There is not much chance of his getting into the game with Oregon or even the W. S. C. game. Bud's generalship and stellar playing will be missed.

Hap Miller dons his suit every night and gets out on the field to work out, but he is in poor condition and it is very doubtful whether he will be able to play the Portland game, a week from Saturday.

Hunt is in bad condition from injuries in the Willamette game. He is out for every practice, but his injuries prevent his playing up to his true form. He will have to mend a lot before the Portland game, or he will be another spectator.

Dobie has a hard job ahead of him in the next week and a half if he gets the team into any condition at all. That Portland game is going to be a hard one, and from this week's practices things look pretty bad for Washington.—Washington Daily.

THANKS DUE TO CITIZENS

FIGHT FOR UNIVERSITY WAS A FIGHT FOR THE PEOPLE

PRESS HELPED IN CAMPAIGN

Women of State as Well as Men Are Responsible for Victory. Many Organizations Work in Favor of Appropriations.

The smoke of the conflict carried on by the University and its friends has finally cleared away and the University has emerged victorious by a large majority of votes. Many ask the question, "Who is responsible for this result?" Hon. Allen Eaton when asked this question said, "The credit for this great victory belongs to the people of Oregon. It is their fight, they made it. The credit cannot be placed upon the shoulders of no one person or organization."

Mr. Eaton, along with other persons acquainted with the situation believes, "the greatest single contribution to our success can be accorded to the press."

Next to the work of the press he places that of the newly enfranchised women of the state.

Probably the most conspicuous women of the state is Abigail Scott Duniway who for many years of her life has spent time for the cause of suffrage. Mrs. Duniway made speeches at public meetings, wrote scores of personal letters "imploping her sisters of the state to stand by the University of Oregon."

In reference to the work of the students of the University Mr. Eaton says, "that the letter writing campaign of the Student body was the most successfully waged by any organization during the contest." He commended the work of the young women of the University.

"The quartette of the Glee club contributed much toward drawing crowds and making favorable impressions for the University at Portland for a period of some ten days previous to the election.

"The faculty worked in a quiet and yet in an effective way. There were three members of the faculty who wrote over one hundred letters besides doing personal work and other members did as much in proportion."

"As to the University of Oregon Alumni, as an association, it has done its full share of the work."

"The Oregon Education league and the Peoples' Higher Educational league were probably the two most conspicuous organizations. But the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs and scores of organizations of one kind and another have contributed. The campaign committee elected by the Eugene Commercial club nearly six months ago, continued its in behalf of the University until one minute after eight o'clock on November 4th.

Mr. Eaton says that it would take a special edition of the Emerald to include the name and work of every supporter of the University.

The University of Washington baseball team, which recently returned from a tour through Japan, won eight of twelve games played.
