

WALKER PLANS FOR BIG GAME

STUDENT TICKETS MUST BE PURCHASED HERE TO INSURE RATE

SPECIAL TRAINS MAY RUN

10,000 Attendance Expected on Multnomah Field. Ample Accommodations Will Be Made for Oregon Rooters.

Graduate Manager Dean Walker for Portland tonight where he goes to make final arrangements for the coming Oregon-Washington game to be played there next Saturday on Multnomah Field.

"The student tickets were placed on sale at the Book Exchange this morning," said the manager today. "They are selling for the same price as those for the O. A. C. game at Albany. They must be purchased here however, and if not, general admission or reserved seats will have to be purchased at higher rates.

"Special rates will be given on the railroads and if the number attending is large enough, special trains will be run.

"The manager of the Multnomah club expects 10,000 people at the game which will be the largest ever held in the state. Special trains will be run from Seattle and from points around Portland and a record-breaking crowd is expected to greet the two unbeaten teams of the conference when they clash on Multnomah Field at 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

"Ample arrangements will be made for the rooters of both the Universities and I understand extensive preparations are under way here to fit out the Oregon rooters and supporters in a manner that will reflect nothing but credit to the University."

265 POUND GIFT RECEIVED BY SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM

American Typefounders Co., Sends Files of Valuable Technical Magazines

A drygoods box full of technical magazines dealing with journalism, printing and publishing was received by the Department of Journalism yesterday as a gift from the American Typefounders Company.

The shipment, which weighed 265 pounds, includes files for several years back of The Printing Art, The Graphic Arts, The American Printer, The Inland Printer, The Pacific Printer, The Editor and Publisher, The Fourth Estate, The Publishers Guide, The Master Printer, Newspaperdom, The American Pressman, The Printing Trade News, The School Arts Magazine, and the Typographic Messenger.

"Some of these back numbers are absolutely unobtainable at the publishers," said Prof. Allen today. "We are indebted to Mr. O. R. Ball, manager of the Portland house of the Typefounders Company, for a collection which the library could not duplicate without spending a large amount of money, and possibly could not then."

GERMAN CLUB TO MEET

"Modern Germany" Program Planned for Tonight's Affair.

A "Modern Germany" program will be given by the German club at the meeting this evening. The program consists of a talk on Current events in German by Hermione Hawkins, a description of the Battle of Leipsig and the Centennial by Elton Loucks, piano solo by Lloyd Casebeer, a paper on "The Royal Family and the Army" by Anna Hales, vocal solo by Vernon Motschenbacher, a talk on "Modern Scientists and Inventors" by Chas. Siventius and a paper on "Modern Writers" by Minnie Poley.

In 1882 there was a college for every 100 square miles of territory in the United States.

PROGRAM TO SELL FOR 10c

Avison and Cook Issue Program for Oregon-Washington Game.

The programs for the Oregon-Washington football game at Portland are under the direction of Bothwell Avison and Sam Cook, who will solicit the advertising look after the printing and sell them on the grounds.

The program will be in the form of a pamphlet eight by ten inches and will contain individual writeups of all the players and those directly connected with the game, a resume of the championship team of past years and the football record of this year.

Mr. Avison says that the program will be printed in artistic style with a unique cover and will make a suitable souvenir of the big game for the students to keep. The price will be ten cents.

THE BRIDE IN THAT FUNNY FARCE STOPPIED WHOSE WEDDING IS POSTPONED ON ACCOUNT OF THE MYSTERIOUS PRESENCE IN THE HOUSE OF A LIGHT-FINGERED-BENT WHO IS THE CAUSE OF ALL THE HILARIOUS FUN IN THE PLAY.

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE."

"The Bird of Paradise," a drama of Americans and modern Hawaii, will be seen here at the Eugene theatre Saturday, November 15.

The play is by Richard Walton Tully, the well-known author of "The Strenuous Life," "The Rose of the Rancho," and other pieces of almost equal renown. The production has been under the personal supervision of that western genius of stagecraft, Oliver Morosco.

There is a love story in the play—the love story of Paul Wilson, a young physician, and Luana, the beautiful "child of Mount Pele," the sacred volcano whom all good Kanakas worship wherever the ancient gods are not forgotten.

Though the main trend of the drama is serious, it is interspersed with so much of that which may be described as "human" humor—or humor typically American, that whole scenes flash with vivid comedy.

In this play the American abroad, both as trader and as missionary, is better described than in any other drama which has been written, and indeed Mr. Tully's accuracy has seldom been equalled in books. The futility of trying to make over an epochal visualization in a decade, and the prevailing instinct for money-making, both receive their touch of gentle but certain satire at Mr. Tully's pen.

Miss Lenore Ulrich, a nineteen-year-old discovery of Manager Morosco's just at the close of last season, plays Luana with almost sensational force and an insight which is absolutely startling. William Desmond, who has just returned from a starring tour in Australia, is appearing as Paul, and the remainder of the cast is of the highest order. Indeed, there is no play outside New York City, with a cast of this size, having a salary list so high. The original Hawaiian troupe of Hula dancers, acclaimed the world's champions in their peculiar branch of terpsichorean achievement, are included in this season's roster.
