

U. OF W. SORORITIES
ADOPT NEW RULES

Women Will Use Methods of Rushing in Vogue Among Fraternities

University of Wash., Jan. 14, 1914.—A radical departure in the system of sorority rushing now in effect among the local Greek co-ed societies will be adopted in February, when the open matriculation rush will take the place of the old two weeks of entertainment and formal invitations sent through the dean of women.

Faculty objection to the present system, which has been observed for so long, was one of the important reasons for a change. Two weeks' entertainment was too much of a financial strain on the young women, and the time spent, too much of a sacrifice from regular college work. Too, the rushees gained a wrong impression of college life.

The sororities had two open courses, one to adopt the open matriculation pledge and the other to try semester pledging. There is a certain support for the latter plan, and college women say that it will probably be adopted next year.

Under the matriculation pledging plan, certain rules have been laid down by the Pan-Hellenic association, which distinguish it from the methods of the men. Each sorority may ask a rushee for a matriculation date, and only one "sister" may help the rushee register. No sorority is to have two consecutive dates, and but one date can be made ahead. First dates shall be limited to three hours; from 12 o'clock till 3 shall be luncheon date, from 3 o'clock till 6, afternoon date, and from 6 o'clock till 9, dinner date.

M'MILLAN'S VACATION TRIP
AGAIN PROLONGED WEEK

Last Year's Experience With Storms Repeated by Junior
From Garibaldi

The adventures of the University of Washington Professor who was detained in his return to college after his trip from Garibaldi to Eugene, his trip from Garibaldi to Eugene. During the storms which occurred the latter part of December a tidal wave swept away part of the road bed of the P. R. & N. railway. With the steamer service between Tillamook Bay and Astoria uncertain on account of the rough weather the only recourse left McMillan was to walk up the coast to Seaside—a distance of thirty miles, there take the train to Portland, and thence to Eugene. McMillan left Garibaldi in ample time to reach college on Monday, Jan. 5, under ordinary conditions, but unfortunate circumstances delayed him until last Monday night.

Crossing the Nehalem river by ferry, McMillan took the Neah-Kah-ni mountain trail for a distance of twelve miles to the lower end of Cannon beach. The trail was washed out in many places, and frequently obstructed by fallen trees, which placed the student in constant danger. He safely accomplished the journey over the trail only to face new dangers in traveling up Cannon beach. First he was compelled to crawl around Hug Point—a feat which is now considered dangerous even in the summer unless conditions are favorable. The high tides and running seas, which are unusually high this winter, made traveling difficult, especially where it was necessary for McMillan to pass between cliffs and the ocean.

McMillan's sister, who attends the Oregon Agricultural College was unable to make the trip and will thereby lose a semester's credit.

The railroad will not be in operation again for over a month, and in the meanwhile the only communication between the Tillamook Bay and the outside world will be by means of the uncertain freighter service between Garibaldi and Astoria.

POWER OF RADIUM DOUBTED

Efficacy as Cure for Cancer Is Not a New Discovery.

University of Pennsylvania, Jan. 8.—Following the announcement of the efficacy of radium as a cure for cancer, made at the college of physicians by Dr. Howard A. Kelly of Johns Hopkins and Dr. Robert Abbe of New York, a number of prominent Philadelphia physicians made very hopeful and encouraging statements as to their belief in the ultimate cure of the dread disease by this method.

Dr. H. K. Pancoast of the University hospital refused to comment on the announcement, but did say that his experiments had not shown radium to be more efficient than the ordinary X-Ray in cases of cancerous growth.

"Radium has been used in the treatment of cancer for the last ten years," he said, "and has been more or less of a success as a cure. There was nothing remarkable in the stories of Dr. Abbe and Kelley as far as newness of discovery was concerned. They merely gave a symposium of their success with radium, and, being experts in their line, their experiments were well worth listening to."

SENIORS' RAILROAD FARE
AMOUNTS TO $45 MONTHLY

Peter Crockett Holds Down Preaching Job While Attending University

Forty-five dollars a month railroad fare to attend the University sets a new record for expense accounts. However, it costs Peter Crockett, a Senior from Pendleton, at least that much every month and will continue to do so the remainder of the year.

Crockett is the Christian minister at Wasco, Oregon, about one hundred and eighty miles east of Portland. He spends the week-end, from Saturday morning at 2 to Monday at midnight, making his trip to and from Wasco, where he preaches two sermons on Sundays.

Next semester he intends to carry twenty-two hours of college work and perform his duties as pastor, besides entering into oratorical work. At present he is working on an oration for the coming tryouts. Two years ago, Crockett was the star debater of the University, but has been compelled to stay out of college since then. Too late for debate this year, he is going into oratory, where his ministerial experience may be of value.

ALL MEN DOWNSTAIRS AT BASKET-BALL GAMES

Order of "O" to Form Block in the Center of the Oregon Rooters

From the Order of the "O," and the Seniors—who are co-operating—comes the announcement that for the coming basket ball games, the seats downstairs will be held for the men, and that men sit elsewhere at the peril of severe reprimand.

The members of the Order of the "O" will always sit downstairs in a block "O," with the balance of the rooters surrounding them.

This action is in pursuance of an agitation which is on foot to cut out reserve seats for the men and allow the women the whole front row in the balcony, with probably a section reserved for townspeople who attend the games. This with the ultimate purpose of establishing a custom of all men sitting downstairs, and rooting together.

The band will be on hand at each game to assist the rooters.

CONVICT TAUGHT BY MAIL

Lansing Prisoner Studies Pharmacy
From Ohio University.

University of Kansas, Jan. 9.—A prisoner who wants to fit himself to lead an honest life when his term is over will always have friends to encourage him on his upward path to decency.

"Eph," his fellow prisoners at Lansing call him, has been studying pharmacy by correspondence with the University of Kansas for a year and a half. Recently the story of his efforts was sent to the outside world and now the mail frequently brings a letter of cheer to the conscientious prisoner.

Last week a letter came from J. C. Booth of Waterburg, Conn. Here is part of it:

"What a splendid thing it is to occupy your time in this way. It takes your mind off your troubles and relieves the hopelessness which it seems to me must be in any man's heart placed as you are. My heart aches for all who are in such a position. Better men than those outside, many times.

"I wish all prisoners were as wise as you and would take up some study in which they are interested.
"I wish you all success, and hope you will find kind friends when your term is ended."
