LIBRARY USE IS EXTENDED

MINISTERS OVER STATE CAN
SEND FOR BOOKS
WANTED

PARCEL POST UTILIZED

Only Requirements for Those
Taking Advantage of Chance,
Are Payment of Postage and Return Within Month.

The University Library in conjunction with the United States parcel post system, is planning an invasion of the State in order that its advantages may be available beyond the boundary of the Campus and more generally throughout Oregon. M. H. Douglass, Librarian, is mailing a circular letter to all Oregon ministers informing them of the plan and sending copies of the lists of books which are added weekly to the library. The following is an excerpt from the letter:

"At a conference of ministers held at the University last summer, the request was made that the University library be made available for the use of the ministers of the State. In response to that request, we are pleased to say that books that can be spared will be sent out on the following conditions:

"(1) Transportation charges both ways are to be met by the ministers borrowing the books.

"(2) Books are to be returned within a month after they are sent out and are subject to recall if needed sooner by the University."

No special limit will be placed upon the number of books which may be drawn out at a time.

The lists of the weekly additions are sent in order to indicate the scope of the library. Among the subjects included are: Political and social sciences, education, natural history, chemistry, useful arts, literature, description and travel, philosophy and psychology history, etc. Ministers who may be interested, are invited to write the library for information regarding particular topics of interest.

RUSHING RULES ALTERED

Sororities at Whitman College Unite to Change System.

Sororities at Whitman college, Walla Walla, have adopted new rules in regard to pledging, which to away with much of the excitement coincident with pledge days. Following is the rule:

"Uniform invitations, consisting of the words, 'The _____ Sorority invites you to become one of its members,' and a list of active members will be sent out through the dean of women on Saturday noon. (Date to be designated later.) Written acceptances and regrets, both in case of more than one invitation, must be handed in on the following Monday at or before 7 o'clock."

During this time, from Saturday noon until 8 o'clock, absolutely no communication, written or otherwise, will be allowed between Freshmen and Sorority women. This restriction applies not only to those sorority members now in college, but to ex-members, alumnae, and patronesses of the Sorority.

In case of Freshmen rooming with a member of a Sorority, arrangements shall previously be made whereby they shall be separated during the stated time.—Idaho Argonaut.

GYM EXHIBITION PLANNED

Annual Indoor Event Held by Women Will Take Place April 9.

"The combination Indoor Meet and Exhibition to be given by the Women's Gymnasium classes of the University, will be held April 9," said Miss Harriet Thompson today.

It is expected that the plans for the event will be completed in three or four days. The two meets have been given separately in previous years, but this year they are to be combined.

All the women students of Kansas must learn to swim before they receive their diplomas.

AMUSEMENTS.

McIntyre and Heath undoubtedly owe much to their long and careful study of the varying dialects and mannerisms of the Southern negro as to their own innate sense of humor. They had the best of opportunities to study the negro at close range during the early years of their partnership, when their first formed organization, "McIntyre and Heath's Minstrels," was struggling through Southern territory not very long after the Civil War. McIntyre recently admitted in a reminiscent mood the following: "Sometimes we had to go out in our burnt cork after mealy bad business and by talking to the negroes get enough to eat." McIntyre and Heath in a communication that was read a few years ago before the New York Association of Ethnological Science, asserted that the colored roustabouts of Charles, ton, S. C., wharves spoke with a distinct Irish dialect, due to the association with the Irish immigrants who landed in South Carolina about seventy years ago. The New Orleans negro introduces many perversions of French and Spanish dialect.

The negro of the New Orleans levees can scarcely understand the darky deckhand who comes flat-floating down from the Red River country, the once dreaded land which was the scene of many of the incidents in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Again one finds heavier and lower pitched voices in South Carolina than in Virginia, Kentucky or Tennessee, where today the negro continues to be more purely African than in other sections.

McIntyre speaks the Alabama and Heath the Georgian dialect, a study of the pronunciations prove most interesting. The two comedians will appear in John Cort's elaborate revival of their most successful musical comedy, "The Ham Tree," at the Eugene theatre, Friday, February 20.

RECITAL IS FOR MONDAY

Prof. Lyman Brings Talented Musicians and Promises More.

Professor Ralph Lyman, who has arranged the initial recital of Sybil Sammis-McDermid and her composer-husband, James G. MacDermid, in Eugene, is confident that music lovers in the University and in Eugene will be anxious to take advantage of the opportunity offered to hear these two artists, Monday evening, February 16. Villard Hall has been named as the place in which the recital will be held.

In bringing the MacDermids to Eugene, Professor Lyman is carrying out his plan of developing the university town into a musical center. In case the recital is successful, it is Professor Lyman's intention to follow it with other high class musical attractions.

$1 is the admission charged.

Women students at Stanford University have been called "the non-unks," because so few have "flunked" or dropped out of the ranks for low per cents in their studies. In the half year just ended, out of the 500 women students, seven have received notice that their work must improve. Out of the 1,100 men 95 have received similar notice. No women failed during the past semester. Eight per cent of the men failed. The figures are about the same every half year.

Ercel Kay and Don Rader are at the Sigma Nu house this week-end.
