STUDENT AFFAIRS.

Apparently the student affairs committee means business at last in the regulation of student social functions. According to the decision recently arrived at by the committee, conflicting dates will be made impossible, while undue growth of the social side of life at the university, as exemplified by the staging of parties and the like without the permission of the committee, will be prevented by a strict regulation cancelling the dates of the offending organization.

This is all very well, and, indeed, in most respects it is most commendable, but the rulings should be made elastic enough to protect those who offend against the letter of the law while strictly within the spirit of the edict. The case of an Oregon sorority which has had its dates cancelled for the heinous offense of entertaining the members of the University of Washington basketball team during their stay here in the earlier part of the week is one in point.

In an event of this kind it was absolutely impossible for the members of the offending sorority to be certain that the Washington team would be allowed to accept the invitation offered them; hence the impossibility of arranging beforehand for a dinner date. A little elasticity in the interpretation of the rules would go far toward remedying such a condition. As to the actual offense committed, it was rather a good which was done than a detriment. Such actions of kindly hospitality to visitors from other universities are among the most powerful causes acting to bring about harmony and friendship between rival institutions. The results growing out of such an act cannot be other than good.

But now, because an informal dinner, which should receive the sanction of the Oregon students, has not been previously listed with the committee on student affairs, that body steps in and inflicts a penalty which would be in keeping with a real breaking of the law.

There can be no doubt that social affairs at Oregon do need regulation, and rather strict regulation at that, but the rules which have been laid down should not be considered by their guardians as hard and fast edicts, to be interpreted exactly as they are written, with no meaning to be read in between the lines. No harm will result from occasional liberality.

SOCIETY

By Beatrice Lilly

Tri Delta held initiation on Friday night, after which an elaborate banquet was given at the Hotel Osborne. The active members of the Sorority, the Alumnae, Mrs. Sweetser and Mrs. Kuykendall were present. The decorations were in yellow daffodils, and the placecards were carried out in the same color and scheme.

Tri Delta is entertaining with a dance in honor of their initiates on Saturday evening.

Chi Omega entertained the Washington basketball team at dinner on Wednesday evening.

Bishop Scadding was a dinner guest at the Gamma Phi Beta House on Wednesday evening.

Tri Delta gave a tea in honor of their house-mother, Mrs. Foster, on Thursday afternoon, at which the house-mothers of the different Sorority houses were present. The afternoon was spent, informally, in sewing, and tea was served.

Mrs. F. E. Gullick (Edith Slusher), Miss Nan Stuart of Lebanon, Gladys Cartwright, Marguerite Rhose and Miss Marie Williams of Portland are guests at the Kappa Kappa Gamma House this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Bede, editor of the Cottage Grove Sentinel, and Ralph Moores and Hawley Bean were dinner guests at the Gamma Phi Beta House on Friday evening.

Geary Garret, Spud Normandin and Frank Cronan are visiting at the Sigma Nu House.

Ralph Moores, Class of '12, is visiting at the Kappa Sigma House.

Bishop Scadding and Mr. and Mrs. Elliot of Salem were guests for dinner at the Kappa Sigma House on Thursday evening.

Jennie Lilly, '10, is visiting in Eugene.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained informally with a supper and dance on Saturday evening.

Kappa Kappa Gamma held initiation on Friday night.

Dick Schwely and William Demme of the Washington basketball team were luncheon guests at the Phi Delta Theta House on Wednesday.

The Seniors of the Delta Gamma House entertained informally with a dance after the basketball game on Friday evening.

Mr. Ralston of Albany and Mr. Gorman of Tacoma have been visiting at the Avava House this week.

Helen Jane Hamilton and Mildred Waite are visiting at the Kappa Alpha Theta House.

Bishop Scadding was entertained for dinner at the Beta Theta Phi House on Thursday.

Agnes McGlauchlin, who has been visiting in Eugene during the past week, has returned to her home in Portland.

A. H. Howard of Salem was a dinner guest at the Alpha Tau Omega House on Thursday evening.

Kappa Sigma entertained informally with a dance in honor of Chi Omega on Friday afternoon.

HUNGARIANS FIGHT FLIES

Dr. Hodge Recieves Letter From Budapest in Regard to Work.

Requests for literature, advice and methods of procedure come to Dr. C. F. Hodge every day from all over the country in regard to the extermination of the fly.

The latest request comes from the director of the Museum of Social Service of Budapest, Hungary. The letter asks for models of Dr. Hodge's flytrap, for posters, and for sundry literature that is used in conducting fly campaigns.

STUDENT INJURED WHILE WORKING IN WOODSHOP

Loren Roberts Is Forced to Leave College for a Week.

Loren C. Roberts, a Freshman, seeking medical aid for a torn nose which was lacerated by a flying block of wood from a plane in the wood shop, rode his bicycle from his class to the Kuykendahl hospital about 2:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

"Roberts was turning a large stick of ash cord wood into a cylinder," says J. Albert Baker, assistant instructor at the wood shop, "when his gouge caught, jerking the wood from the lathe. With a force generated by several thousand revolutions per minute, the cylinder was catapulted, striking endwise under his nose."

"The weight of the projectile forced the nose upward and to one side, tearing the flesh and cartilage entirely loose, without breaking the bone."

Ellit Roberts, his brother and a Senior, states that eight stitches were taken and that the boy submitted to the surgical operation without any anaesthetic.

Young Roberts stayed at the hospital all Thursday night and went to his home in The Dalles Friday morning.

The physician who attended him says that the boy ought to be well enough to return to college in about two weeks.

With only 17 candidates out for the Varsity, and three boatloads of Freshmen, Washington's crew prospects are poor, according to Coach Conibear.

Virginia has recently completed a new athletic stadium at a cost of $23,000 and seating 7,500.

WASHINGTON MAY GET CAMP OF INSTRUCTION

General Llewellyn Writes to Find Out Sentiment of Students.

Men of the University of Oregon will have an opportunity to take advantage of the annual Students' Camp of Instruction, to be held next summer at American Lake or Spokane, under the supervision of the Military Department of the state of Washington, provided the students are eligible under the conditions. This encampment has previously held at Monterey, Cal.

The letter from Brigadier General Fred Llewellyn to President P. L. Campbell said in part:

"This movement has received the approval and active encouragement of President Woodrow Wilson. The two camps of last year were well attended and eminently successful. It is, however, impracticable for any great number of students from the northwestern states to go as far as Monterey, Cal., and therefore a camp will be held this year, either at American Lake or Spokane, if an attendance of not less than 150 is assured."

General Llewellyn asked that the proposition be put before the students so as to ascertain how many will be able to attend either at American Lake or Spokane.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 20.—At the end of examinations at Washington University, 350 students celebrated by burning the faculty in effigy. A figure representing the faculty was placed in a coffin and carried to a bonfire. Speeches were made and the students threw their books into the fire. The bonfire has been an annual event since 1905.

It will be good if you buy it at the Peter Pan.
