

ART DISPLAY IS IN EUGENE

COLLECTION OF NOTED AMERICAN CANVASSES EXHIBITED

ALLEN EATON IS IN CHARGE

Valuable Paintings Can Be Seen Free of Charge This Week-End by Students and Towns-People at Commercial Club.

The American art exhibit is being unpacked this afternoon and arranged in the banquet room of the Eugene Commercial Club under the supervision of Allen Eaton, and will be formally opened to the public from 12:30 to 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon. This collection of paintings by American artists is pronounced by experts to be much more wonderful than mere description can convey, and the pictures must be seen to be appreciated. The paintings embrace views of all varieties, from still life to New York's busy streets, with a sprinkling of the impressionistic work of Childe Hassam, the famous artist, who is employed by the Panama-Pacific Exposition for some of the finer mural decorations in the buildings.

The $5,000 portrait by John Alexander is on exhibition, and will be pointed out to visitors by a special corps of assistant attendants, who will be on duty during the entire exhibition. The exhibit will probably be opened at 3:30 tomorrow, but the main exhibit will be seen by the public each afternoon from 12:30 to 5 o'clock except on Saturday night, when it will be opened from 7 to 9 in order that all may see it who are not at liberty to attend during the afternoon hours.

There will be a special view tomorrow, at which the supporters of the movement and their friends are invited, but on Friday night the exhibit will be closed, as Mr. Eaton does not wish to conflict with the U. of O. Dramatic Club's presentation of "Strife" at the Eugene theater. On Sunday the exhibit will be open from 2 o'clock to 5 p. m.

The forenoons are reserved for special appointments with the school children, students and others who wish more time to make a special study of the works on exhibition. Mr. Eaton has extended an invitation to all of the newspapers between Salem and Roseburg to take advantage of this exhibit, which will be shown nowhere else in the lower part of the valley.

Mr. Eaton will speak to the students of the University of Oregon at the University Library tonight on the subject of art, and at 3:45 o'clock today spoke to the teachers of the public schools. Tomorrow morning he will speak to the students of the Eugene High School and in the evening will talk to the supporters of the work in bringing the exhibit to Eugene and others interested in the products of American painters.

Just drop in and get refreshed in one of those cosy nooks at the Peter Pan.

YALE LIMITS PUBLICITY

Juniors Favor Less Publicity in the Ceremonies.

New Haven, Conn. — Radical steps for the elimination of alleged objectionable features of the present method of announcing elections to the academic Senior secret societies at Yale, are proposed by members of the Junior Class, as the result of a discussion last night at a meeting attended by about 100 Juniors, practically a third of the class.

Too much publicity, it is claimed, has been given to the "tap" day exercises, while the spirited contests which have taken place in public between the societies for desirable men has given the societies an undue importance in under-graduate eyes.

To curtail the publicity, it is proposed that the place for holding the annual ceremonies be Berkeley Oval, a more restricted spot, instead of the traditional corner of the college yard under the spreading maple tree. To eliminate the contests it is proposed that the societies previously agree among themselves as to men, and to aid in their choice it is further proposed that there be submitted to them a list of 70 members of the Junior Class, after it has been approved by some responsible person, as the choice of the class of those worthy of Senior society membership. The list, it is stated, would be simply a guide and might be disregarded.

Proposals that the members of the class decline to offer themselves as candidates under any conditions or under certain restricted conditions met with little favor.

One hundred and twenty-nine students have enrolled at the University of Missouri this semester, bringing the total registration to 2,768.

Eleven Chinese students are enrolled at Southwestern College, Kansas.

A. L. Mills, president of the First National Bank of Portland, will address the students of O. A. C. soon on the subject, "The Establishment of Our National Credit."

The tuition fees at Yale University have been raised by the Board of Trustees.

"STRIFE" SEAT SALE OPENS

TOMORROW NIGHT'S BIG SHOW WILL START AT 8:45

FINAL REHEARSAL TONIGHT

Last Week Has Been Spent in Drilling Fifty or Sixty College Men Who Participate in Mob Scene in Play.

(By Edison Marshall.)

The seat sale of "Strife" opened today, and according to Manager Michael, it is satisfactory. Tonight a dress rehearsal will be held at the Eugene theater.

The curtain will raise tomorrow night, promptly at 8:45. This will afford time for those that wish to see the basketball game to reach the Eugene theater. The hunger dance will take the place of a prelude to the play.

The last week has been spent in drilling the mob, which consists of 50 or 60 college men. During the mob scene, when the mob sways from one view to another, some of the most dramatic work of the entire play is brought out.

The play has three acts. The first is laid in the luxurious home of John Anthony, the president of the Trenartha tin plate works, where a strike has been going on for six months. The first scene of the second act, by contrast, is the barren, cold home of Roberts, the strike leader. The second scene is the mob scene.

The third act takes place in Anthony's house. Here the old, old clash comes, the leaders are broken, and the strike ended.

Although the play is a strong drama, bits of humor crop out throughout. Wilder, one of the directors, played by Ralph Ash, has comedy lines, and Scantlebury, played by Earl Bronaugh, is a "character part," according to Professor Reddie.

The strongest women's part is Mrs. Robert, played by Janet Young. She appears in the first scene of the second act.

The cast is as follows: John Anthony—Henry Howe. Edgar Anthony—Edison Marshall. Frederic Wilder—Ralph Ash.

William Scantlebury—Earl Bronaugh.

Oliver Wanklin—Elmer Furuset.

Henry Tench—Allen O'Connell.

Francis Underwood—Clarence Brotherton.

Simon Harness—E. Turner.

David Roberts—Professor Reddie.

James Green—Mr. Helm.

John Bulgin—Maurice Hill.

Henry Thomas—Willard Shaver.

George Rous—George Colton.

Evans—Max Reigard.

Jago—Mandell Weiss.

Jan Thomas—Josephine Moorhead.

Frost—Carl Naylor.

Enki Underwood—Elice Shearer.

Annie Roberts—Janet Young.

Madge Thomas—Beulah Stebno.

Mrs. Rous—Norma Doble.

Mrs. Bulgin—Effie Rhodes.

Mrs. Yeo—Marjorie Cowan.

Ellen—Miss Beer.

Gilmour Doble will remain as football coach for the University of Washington for at least three years as the result of a contract recently made.

Honorary degrees have not been granted at the University of Kansas since 1890.

Eight candidates are out for the editorship of the year-book at the University of Minnesota.
