43 POSITIONS OBTAINED FOR STUDENTS IN NEED OF WORK

266 MEN SELF-SUPPORTING

Sum of $413.40 Is Obtained Through Y. M. Book Exchange. Increase of Sales Is 33 Per Cent Over Last Year.

The Y. M. C. A. Employment Bureau has supplied work amounting to $1,650 to needy students since college opened in September, according to figures recently prepared by General Secretary Charles Koyl. Last year, cash help rendered through the Y. M. C. A. up to February 1, amounted to $1,082, while for the whole year the total amount was $1,970.

The total number of regular jobs secured during the past five months is 43, as against 45 during the nine months of last year. Sixty-six odd positions have been filled, as compared with 124 last year.

Among the 21 varieties of work that have employed self-supporting students during the five-month period are included collecting, carrying in and cutting wood, doing of chores, acting as janitors and night watchmen, washing dishes, waiting on tables, scrubbing floors, mowing lawns, and playing in orchestras. Several students are earning as high as $60 per month.

An employment census that was recently taken by the Y. M. C. A. reveals the fact that out of the 368 men who are registered in the university, 266 are earning their way, either partially or wholly. Of this number fifty-eight non-fraternity men are self-supporting and 49 are earning but a part of their expenses. The different fraternities and clubs are accredited with 71 students, who receive no financial assistance, and 88 who receive but a part.

The average number of books on hand is about 1,000.

BIBLE STUDY CLASSES ATTENDED BY 117 MEN

Six Sunday Schools and Five Fraternities Enroll One Hundred Eighty-one.

(By W. P. Murphy)

A total of 181 men were enrolled in the Bible study classes conducted last semester under the auspices of the Bible Study Department of the Y. M. C. A. The average attendance of the classes was 117.

The aim of this department is to make it possible for every man in the university to have the opportunity of studying the Bible. In order to do this, classes are being conducted in Sunday schools, fraternities and other social organizations.

That the best results may be obtained, it is necessary that a very efficient organization be maintained by the department. Beside the regular committee, there are sub-committees which supervise the classes located in the Sunday schools and fraternities.

Classes are conducted in the following churches: Baptist, Christian, Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian. There are also classes located in five fraternity houses, and there is one in the Eugene High School.

The leaders of the various classes are Dr. James B. Taylor, Dr. Wm. Parsons, Prof. A. R. Sweetser, Dr. E. S. Conklin, Prof. Charles Converse, Prof. Caswell, M. H. Douglass, Charles Koyl and David Glass.

The Bible study committee is composed of Will Murphy, chairman; Roy Stephens, Wilmot Foster, Ira Gaston and Erie Lane.

108 MEN ATTEND Y. M. SEX HYGIENE LECTURES

Gain Over Last Year's Attendance is Given as Fifty-Eight

(Leslie Tooze)

An average of 108 men attended the sex hygiene lectures given last fall by the Social Service Department of the Y. M. C. A. An average attendance of 50 was made during a similar series conducted last year.

The big feature of this year's series was Dr. Winfield Scott Hall, professor of physiology in Northwestern University, and a recognized authority on sex hygiene, who delivered addresses before two large men's meetings in Villard Hall, October 23. The attendance at the two meetings averaged 225, or over 60 per cent of the men students of the university.

The other lectures of the series were delivered by Dr. James B. Taylor, Dr. Clifton F. Hodge, Dr. Omar Gullion, Prof. John F. Bovard and Prof. Sweetser.

At the present time the department is conducting a series of first aid lectures, the first of which was delivered last Wednesday evening.

The following is a schedule of the remaining lectures:

March 4—"Injuries and Emergencies of Indoor and Outdoor Sports," by Dr. J. Eberle Kuykendall.

March 11—"Injuries to the Eye, Ear and Nervous System," by Dr. J. B. Taylor.

March 18—"Injuries in Which the Skin Is Broken," by Dr. G. S. Beardsley.

March 25—"Unconsciousness, Partial and Complete, and Poisoning," by Dr. C. H. Edmondson.

April 1—"Care of Partially Drowned Persons," by Prof. J. F. Bovard.

Last year's series have been considerably changed and many new subjects will be covered this semester.

In these lectures an attempt will be made to deal with most of the accidents that commonly occur to college students, and to describe the first aid methods that should be used in such emergencies. First aid apparatus will be shown wherever possible.

The members of the committee are Leslie Tooze, chairman; Ernest Walkins, Robert Young and Millar McGilchrist.

William T. Neill, '13, is an electrical inspector employed by the State Railroad Commission with residence in Portland.
