RAISING "SPUDS" WOULD PUT STUDENTS THROUGH

Land Available for Latest Prop-osition for Making Expenses

By raising "spuds," is the novel way whereby several students may earn their way through college, if there are any so inclined, is information given by Charles Koyl, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Seven and one-half acres of land near the city limits are available for this purpose and may be used by any college students. James Fullerton, who owns two and one-half acres of the piece, declares that enough potatoes can be raised to pay the entire expenses of six men in the University for one year.

The land should be made ready right away to secure the best results according to the owner. Seed potatoes may be secured from any of the farms along the river at a cheap price. Secretary Koyl believes that the plan is feasible and with working on Saturdays and in the afternoons the men could easily pay their expenses while in college. If they had some other work in town, there would be no need of spending their entire time on the potato patch.

Fullerton will give his land on a fifty per cent profit division; he to furnish the tools and will also secure an additional five acres of land, free of charge, which is located next to his farm in College Crest addition. The potatoes would be harvested in August and would net the laborers between $200 and $300, according to the opinion of those concerned.

Any students desiring to take advantage of this offer will communicate with Koyl at the Y. M. C. A. The work should be started as soon as possible.

DRAMATIC CLUB WILL GIVE PLAY ON APRIL 3

"A Woman's Way" Is Name of Production Which Is Now Being Rehearsed

The Dramatic club has at last secured a date, April 3, for the production of "A Woman's Way," after being pushed off the boards, so many times that Manager Walter Dimm had even considered giving up the play. The date was secured by persuading the Freshman-Sophomore debate committee to postpone the debate from April 3 until after Spring vacation.

Dimm has a long tale of woe concerning his efforts to secure a date for the play. He says that the Student Affairs committee granted him March 13, but he had to yield to the Oregon-Stanford debate. The student affairs committee granted him the date without knowing the debaters had already secured it.

The only other date left open was one on which several house dances were to be held. He saw Allen O'Connell, head of the Sophomore debate committee and O'Connell agreed to try to get the committee to yield their date, April 3, to the Dramatic club, and hold the debate the same night as the Sophomore basket social, after Spring vacation. The committee agreed and yielded the date.

"A Woman's Way" is a drama, having the double standard of morals for a theme. The plot deals with the successful effort of a woman to reform her husband.

WRESTLERS FAIL IN PRELIMINARIES

INEXPERIENCE HANDICAP TOO BIG IN CONFERENCE MEET

FINALS WILL BE TONIGHT

Jackson and Fuji Maki Put up Good Fights. Both Losing Through Accidents. Other Men Show up Well for First Appearance.

The University of Washington and the Oregon Agricultural College won nine out of twelve falls in the preliminary bouts, Saturday night, of the first Northwest Conference wrestling meet held at the Multnomah Club in Portland, Oregon, due mainly to two accidents and inexperience, was unable to place any of the men in the finals.

This is the first time that Oregon has taken part in a conference meet, and all of the men will witness the finals tonight in hopes of picking up some new points, that will be of use to them another year.

Jackson and Fuji Maki, for Oregon, put up the best scrap of the five men that went to Portland. They were after their men every minute of the game and made use of every opening that was offered. Both men suffered from an accident one minute from a possible draw.

Jackson, Oregon's 108 pounder, started the bouts with Blomberg of W. S. C. It appeared as though they were going to fight to a standstill, but Blomberg accidentally threw Jackson against a table stunning him. This accident rendered Jackson incapable of continuing the bout and it was forfeited to Blomberg. Time 9:13.

Fuji Maki, Oregon's 115-pounder, was compelled to quit after a hard fall off the mat. He had apparently an even break with his Washington opponent, Dickson, up to the time of the injury.

Carl and King, of the 145 and 158 pound weights, also put a good fight for a short time. Carl had a tin ear which left him open to a strong handicap.

Following were the results of the preliminary bouts:

- 108 pounds—Blomberg, W. S. C., decision over Jackson, University of Oregon.
- 115 pounds—Pearcey, O. A. C., decision over Campbell, W. S. C.
- 115 pounds—Dickson, University of Washington, won from Fuji Maki, University of Oregon.
- 108 pounds—King, O. A. C., decision over Yamada, University of Washington.
- 125 pounds—Gridley, W. S. C., won from Martin, University of Oregon.
- 125 pounds—Bolin, O. A. C., decision from Gale, University of Washington.
- 135 pounds—King, W. S. C., decision from Amort, O. A. C.
- 135 pounds—Hobl, University of Washington, drew a bye.
- 145 pounds—Mosby, O. A. C., won from Savage, W. S. C.
- 145 pounds—Hancock, U. of W., won from Carl, U. of O.
- 158 pounds—Cornwall, W. S. C., won from King, U. of O.
- 158 pounds—Al Worth, O. A. C., won from La Chappelle, U. of W.

NEW COUNCIL STARTS WORK

Eleanor McClaine, Del Stanard and Bert Jerard. The last named being president of the junior class, will represent third year interests during Junio week-end, while the rest of the committee will consider the general interests of the student body as a whole.

In connection with this the offer of the Y. M. C. A. to take charge of the entertainment given on the night of the Junior prom to non-dancing preppers, was brought up, but it was decided to let this remain in its present position of being given by the Oregon student body, and not by any one part.

An innovation in the training of yell leaders was suggested by Coach Bezdek, that is the selection of the best men in each freshman class for such a position, and the gradual elimination of the unfit until in the senior year, a man with ability and training was ready to take the job.

"We must make the yell leader's job worth while," said Dean Walker. "The yell leader has the chance to be one of the biggest men in college, but there is no incentive offered for him to expend his best efforts."

Eleanor McClaine, Hazel Rader and Henry Fowler were appointed to form a committee to secure a free student telephone to be installed on the campus.

The committee adjourned to meet again Wednesday evening, the regular time provided for the bi-weekly meetings.
