

LIBRARY ADDS NEW BOOKS

TOTAL SINCE SEPTEMBER GROWS LARGER EVERY DAY.

POLITICAL SCIENCES LEAD

Literature is second in number of volumes purchased. Works of Scandinavian authors included.

"Not a day goes by that we do not order several new books for the library," said M. H. Douglass, University librarian yesterday. "We have added 2,050 new books to the library since January 1, and 3,805 new books since September 1. The last shipment of books contained 150 volumes, costing $194.01, ordered for the departments of history, economics, zoology, law, English, literature, political science, psychology and physical education.

"Our regular appropriation each year for all new library books, bindings and periodical subscriptions is $10,000; this year, however, on account of extra expenses we have only $5,000, with the promise of $15,000 for next year.

"We have ordered more books this year in political and social science than in anything else. The books for the literature department come second. More books on art have also been ordered than ever before.

"The Scandinavian literature department is being built up by Prof. Thorstenburg; and now we have in the library all of Bjornson's works as well as books by Selma Lagerlof, winner of the Nobel prize, Axel Lundberg, Viktor Rydberg, August Strindberg and Helena Nyblom. There are also books of Scandinavian folk songs, lyrics and paintings, as well as criticisms.

"When we have the new addition, it will be much easier to handle all the books. State Architect W. C. Knightson was here Monday getting information and conferring with authorities in reference to new additions and alterations."

FRATERNITY COUNCIL PLAN PLEASES ALUMNAE

C. W. Walls, '12, Gives Opinion of System in Letter to Emerald.

Salem, March 25, 1914.

To the Editor: Let all Oregon men, graduates and under-graduates, give thanks that "Oregon Spirit" is about to be saved.

The gradual weakening of "Oregon Spirit" has been very noticeable to all who have watched our Student-Body since the days of two fraternities, to the present day, when there are ten. Many have realized that the disease was the dreaded "hookworm," but no one was ambitious enough to attempt a cure. "Oregon Spirit" knew that it was not as strong and vigorous as it used to be, but, as is characteristic of one afflicted with this malady, it was not able to do anything for itself. Help must come from the outside.

From over the mountains, last fall, came Hugo Bezdek, to direct athletics at our alma mater. He got together a fine bunch of young men, and did all in his power to produce a championship team, but "Oregon Spirit" was too weak. Again in basketball, he worked hard with the material at hand. Only Whitman kept Oregon out of the cellar.

But "tis an ill wind," you know, and now we find Bezdek calling a conference of fraternity men—"a get-together meeting," he called it. He is elected president of the Fraternity Council. The hookworm is out, and as soon as the patient recovers from the shock of the operation we can expect "Oregon Spirit" to take a new lease on life. It does not necessarily mean more athletic victories, but it does mean more "Oregon MEN."

Thrice hall, Hugo Bezdek!

HAYWARD LIKES COOS COUNTRY

TRAINER IS BACK—FINDS

ATHLETES

LECTURES BEFORE 1200

Walks 34 Miles During Trip. Material Here Good—Second and Third Place Men Strong—Distance Men Strong.

(By Willard Shaver)

After visiting Marshfield, Bandon, Coquille, North Bend and Myrtle Point, where he delivered stereopticon lectures to more than 1200 persons, mostly high school students, Bill Hayward is again at the University and will begin to enforce strict training rules immediately so that his team will be in shape by the time the Columbia meet is held.

"The Coos Bay country is great after you get into it, but hard to reach," said Hayward, yesterday. On his way to Scottsburg, after riding a weary two miles in the stage, he tired of that mode of travel and walked the remaining 34. On his return he took the boat from Marshfield to Portland.

Hayward usually leucured at night. The following afternoons he taught the track men of each school the rudiments of efficient training. In his way he had a chance to judge the ability of the men he temporarily trained and he says there are several likely men who will enter the University next fall.

"Where men have gone to California and Stanford in former years, I find them contemplating entering Oregon," said Hayward.

With the Columbia meet only three weeks away, Bill's chief worry is the development of second and third place men. He said yesterday that he had one or two quarter men whom he would train in the half, and he would be strong in the distances and middle distances, but in the sprints and one of the field events he would be very weak.

SENIORS WILL WEAR GOWNS

Want Faculty Gowned.

The members of the committee to see the faculty concerning the wearing of caps and gowns by that body have not been selected as yet. This also has been a bone of contention for each successive graduating class. An effort is made to get the faculty to conform to this rule but so far the attempts have been unsuccessful. It is hoped by the seniors, however, this year that they will see the matter in the right light and that they will see the idea of conformity that it will lend the occasion as well as the added dignity and stateliness.

The bulletin board which the class recently voted to present to the University has been erected in front of Deady Hall in a conspicuous place which will be used for announcements that are of the interest to the classes and the students in general. The board is divided into five sections, one for each class and one large compartment that is reserved for general announcements. The front of the board is constructed of sliding glass doors so as to protect the notices from the weather. Vernon Genn has been appointed Royal Keeper of the Board and it will be his duty to see that the board is not abused and to keep it in a respectable condition.

The chorus of 30 seniors, which will consist of 15 men and 15 women, to be used in connection with the senior play is yet to be selected. The caste has been announced for the play.

SOCIAL MIXER AFTER DEBATES

SOPHS AND FROSH TO JOIN IN DANCE AND INDOOR BASKET PICNIC

DATES WILL BE APRIL 23-24

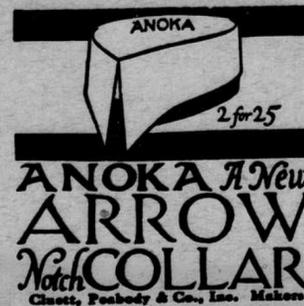

Affair Will Be Strictly Informal. Every Girl Will Bring a Basket. Each Man Will Bring a Girl.

Sophomores and Freshman will give the first annual underclass "get-together" and basket social in the Men's gymnasium, April 24.

The party, which will be strictly informal, will follow the Freshman-Sophomore debates. The latter have been postponed, because of a conflict with the Dramatic club play, from April 3 to Thursday and Friday, April 23 and 24.

The first part of the get-together will consist of dancing, after which a short program will be rendered. After this program will be the auction of baskets. Bidding on baskets will be limited to $1. Every girl who attends the party is supposed to bring a basket and every man will be expected to bring a girl.

Efforts will be made by the committees of both classes to have every Freshman and Sophomore at the party. The members of the Sophomore committee are: Joe Gilpin, chairman; Louise Bailey, Leo Potter, Evelyn Harding, Dean Crowell, Jessie Lieser, Vernon Garrett, Bess Cushman, Hermes Wrightson and Virginia Peterson. The Frosh committee has not yet been appointed.
