

TRIP TO END GLEE SEASON

CLUB WILL SING IN PORTLAND, CORVALLIS AND ALBANY

27 MEN ARE TO BE TAKEN

Advertising in Portland to Be Ended by Six Appearances of Singers at Y. M. C. A., Meier & Frank's and High School.

The season of 1913-14 for the Varsity Glee club will end next week with a trip to Portland, Albany and Corvallis. The club leaves here at 7:20 Sunday morning for Portland. It will make one appearance that afternoon, six Monday and then will proceed to the other towns on the trip.

The first appearance will be made at the Portland Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at a special meeting which has been arranged for the benefit of the club. Monday the club will appear before all the high schools in the city, singing at special assemblies. During the noon hour, the club appears at the Meier & Frank lunch room. The company is putting on a special Oregon day which is expected to draw large crowds. The club will sing during the noon hour for the benefit of the patrons.

Big House Expected.
An appearance will also be made at the Commercial club rooms if it is possible to find the time. An urgent request has been made by that body for an appearance and it is possible that time will be found to stop there. Monday night the club will close its season in Portland with the big concert which will be held in the Hellig theatre.

"We have found the spirit in Portland to be all in our favor," said Graduate-Manager Dean Walker. "Everybody, practically, that we have asked anything of has been more than willing to do whatever he could. We expect large crowds whenever the club appears and while the large number will detract from the main concert to a certain extent. I figure that the advertising which will be done for the University will more than repay a loss in the sale of seats at the theatre. However, from all reports I am expecting one of the largest crowds that has ever attended a University Glee Club concert to be on hand next Monday night."

Will Invade Corvallis.

Tuesday the club will journey to Albany where it will appear at Albany college and the high schools. The concert will be given in Bligh theatre that night. Wednesday, Corvallis will be invaded and appearances will be made at the high schools, the college's convocation exercises and the concert at the Presbyterian church that night. The theatre in that city has discontinued business which necessitates the appearance in the church. The club returns to Eugene Thursday at noon.

Twenty-seven men will make the trip, including 24 in the concert, Professor Ralph Lyman, Albert J. Gillette and assistant-manager Clark Burgard.

Twenty-Four in Club.

"We expect to make some money on this trip," said Walker, "but it is impossible to tell how it will come out. Portland people's pocketbooks have been drained the past week by the Bluebird. However, I believe that we will more than break even."

The names of the members of the concert who will make the trip are: First tenors, Fariss, Phillips, Lewis, Apperson, Avison, Huston; second tenors, Jerard, Cowden, Staggs, Williams, Langley, Dineen; first bass, Shaver, Giles, Fortmiller, Mann, Batley, Pobst; second bass, Stanard, Heidenrich, Reynolds, Brotherton, Baker and Ash; Gillette, soloist.

Look over your worldly possessions and see if you have lost anything that is included in the above inventory.

MASONS OF UNIVERSITY TO FORM MASONIC CLUB

Will Meet Tuesday Evening in Prof. Straub's Room in Villard

The Masons of the University are contemplating the formation of a Masonic club, probably reviving the old Acacia Fraternity, which disbanded in February, 1912.

"We have been considering such a move for some time. A committee has been appointed and it has held several meetings, but as yet no definite action has been taken. A meeting of all the Masons in the University has been called for Tuesday evening, March 31, at 7:30, in my room in Villard Hall," said Professor John Straub yesterday when interviewed upon the subject.

There are about twenty faculty members who are Masons and about fifteen undergraduates who belong to the order. Those in charge state that the object of the club, if formed, is not only for the mutual benefit of the Masons in the University but to help entertain Masons who may visit the campus.

The Acacia Club disbanded three years ago on account of a lack of Masons among the students.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS WANT TO BE GRADUATED

Juniors in Course File Petition Asking That Work Be Continued One Year

A petition signed by the entire Junior Class taking the course in electrical engineering was presented to the Board of Regents yesterday seeking to have the course extended for another year. The class consists of ten members and the petition reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned, comprising the entire membership of the Junior Class in Electrical Engineering at the University of Oregon, do ask that such courses of study be given next year (1914-1915) that will allow us to complete the Senior work in our major subject."

Last fall the Board of Higher Curricula transferred the School of Arts and Electrical Engineering to Oregon and the civil engineering to O. A. C. After a while this was changed and the civil engineering course was abolished from both schools and the electrical engineering given to O. A. C.

The Seniors at the University of Washington will leave a $200 loan fund as a memorial.

VARSITY TO PLAY BAKER

TRI-STATE LEAGUE TEAM TO APPEAR ON CAMPUS WEDNESDAY

THE SEATTLE TRIP APRIL 17

Manager Walker Is Scheduling Games With Centralia and Chehalis. May Invade Other Washington Towns.

(By Willard Shaver.)

The cancellation of the games scheduled for this week-end by the Mt. Angel manager left Coach Bezek's proteges without outside competition and a substitution of a game between the regulars and the second team men has given the baseball men the first real workout of the entire week. The games with Mt. Angel were cancelled because of the injury of Mt. Angel's best pitcher, and as Manager Walker was not notified until Thursday no other games could be arranged at such a late hour.

However, Oregon will have enough practice games to put her in mid-season form before the conference season opens, April 17. Manager Walker is arranging a game with the Baker team of the Tri-State league, to be played on the local campus on next Wednesday afternoon. The Baker team is now training in Salem, and as it returns to eastern Oregon next week-end a mid-week date is the only one that can be arranged. Bezek will take the team to southern Oregon next week-end. If games can be scheduled with Grant's Pass and Medford, and the Friday and Saturday before spring vacation will be filled by dates with Dallas and Chemawa. This is the first year that Oregon has had the advantage of so much outside competition, and the results of such a policy as Bezek has inaugurated are bound to be seen when the conference season opens.

As Oregon's first conference game is in Seattle, Manager Walker will endeavor to arrange games with some of the Washington towns before invading Seattle. Centralia and Chehalis have been tentatively chosen, and if a game can be scheduled with some Spokane team Oregon will play Pullman also.

It is the opinion of those who are competent to judge that Coach Bezek has the best material this season that Oregon coaches have ever had. The infield is practically airtight and the outfield is working exceptionally well. In fact, there is not a weak spot in the entire lineup.

APRIL FROLIC PLANS ARE NOW COMPLETED

Elaborate Stunts Will Mark Annual Women's Stunt Saturday

Plans are now completed for the annual April frolic, next Saturday night. Fourteen clubs and societies have signified their intention of participating in the program of the evening. The nature of the stunts will be kept secret until the frolic.

The price of admission for spectators has been raised to 25 cents, and 10 cents for the participants.

"We want this year's frolic to be the best ever," says President Eleanor McClain. "Every woman is invited and we hope every University girl will come in costume."

President P. L. Campbell returned Thursday from San Francisco, where, since last Monday, he has been transacting private business.

While south, President Campbell visited the University of California at Berkeley.

A secret society composed of preachers has its home at the University of Texas.

HODGE MAKES 20 LECTURES

SPEAKS ON GAME PROTECTION, ALCOHOL AND ELIMINATION OF FLY

HE IS INTERESTED IN BIRDS

Extension Professor Advocates Elementary Biology. Would Preserve Game Birds Until There Are Enough for All.

Dr. C. F. Hodge, biologist and instructor in the Extension Department, has just returned from a lecturing tour in the Northeastern part of Oregon, which started at Pendleton, March 9, and closed at Heppner, March 27. His main subjects were the protection of the game, alcohol and the elimination of flies. During his visits at the twenty various towns he spoke to the high schools, grade schools, civil leagues and teachers' association.

"One thing that I am particularly interested in," said Dr. Hodge, this morning, "is the protection of our birds. I am taking particular efforts to impress upon the school children the necessity of taking care of our birds instead of killing them off by the hundreds. I have endeavored, and with considerable success, upon my trip to interest the children in biology and gardening. It is my purpose to try and introduce elementary biology into the grade schools. I have gotten several boys and girls to build bird houses by their windows or upon barns so that they can observe their actions and mode of living. Then let them write compositions concerning the habits of the birds. When we get the children and birds together there will be no need for us to worry about the killing of our game. I do not mean to prohibit shooting but first let the state become flooded with pheasants and quails and then we all can enjoy a shoot without fear of killing too many."

Dr. Hodge said that the people were interested in the alcohol problem and wished a successful means for handling it. He stated that alcohol had taken on a new era, and that his conclusion why men drink was to mitigate sorrow and depression.

"I do not," he continued, "look down upon a man who drinks but instead pity him. He interests me for I do not see how a person could stand to get intoxicated time after time. It undoubtedly, in my estimation, is the result of the young man today having no place to go. There is no form of amusement for him, he takes no interest in his work and tries to drown his sorrows and loneliness by liquor. One can't conceive of a healthy young man busy all of the time and immensely interested in his work taking to drink. It is up to the people to provide physical amusements for the young men, something that will keep them busy and that will take the place of liquor."

RATES TO STUDENT AGENTS

Michael and Rice Put Up Guarantee for 125 Easter Passengers.

Sam Michael and Lyman Rice have made arrangements and personally guaranteed the Oregon Electric a sufficient number of passengers to make possible a rate of $3.60 for the round trip from Eugene to Portland during the Easter vacation. This rate, Rice states, will hold from April 10 to April 21, and will necessitate a total of 125 passengers.

It has been found possible to offer the reduction only on the full trip between Portland and Eugene, but the student agents suggest that those residing in Salem will make a saving by purchasing Portland round trip tickets.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO STAGE "A WOMAN'S WAY," APRIL 3

Janet Young to Appear in the Role of Mrs. Marion Stanton

The next dramatic event in connection with the University is "A Woman's Way," an American drama, to be produced by the Dramatic club April 3 at the Eugene theatre. Janet Young will play the resourceful Mrs. Stanton, the woman that has her way.

The play deals with how Mrs. Stanton reformed her husband, a believer in the double standard of morals. Howard Stanton has recently indulged in a wild joy ride, and the newspaper men want the story. In preserving his reputation, Mrs. Stanton reforms him.

Howard Stanton is played by Ralph Ash. Only two other Freshmen members of the club have been given parts in the play, Emma Wootton and Milton Stoddard. Ash is rehearsing three plays at once, as he has prominent parts in "King Lear" and "The Professor's Love Story," which are to be produced soon by the League for the Study of the Drama.

Rehearsals for "A Woman's Way" are going on constantly under the direction of Professor Reddle.

COUNCIL SAYS STUDENTS SHOULD SUPPORT BAND

Committee Appointed to Propose Amendment at Next Meeting

Steps toward finding out whether or not the band should be incorporated by the Student Body as a regular student body activity are being taken by Thomas Boylen and Maurice Hyde, a committee, who were recently appointed by the Student Council for that purpose. The matter will be referred to the next regular meeting of the Student Body, and will take the form of submitting an amendment to the constitution by these men, providing that the band should be maintained by the students' treasury. In addition to this, some form of remuneration for the players will also be included, such as an official sweater or making them exempt from paying any Student Body tax, since their services are continually required at all games.

Maurice Hyde, who is at the head of the present self-supporting band, hopes that favorable action will be taken by the Student Body in this matter. "There is no reason why Oregon should not support a band, as similar institutions do, and in fact," added Hyde, "some high school bands of the state are backed by the Student Body. No matter what the occasion is, there is always a demand for some sort of music, and it is extremely difficult to interest anybody unless there is some compensation for their trouble."

JAPS MUST CUT VISIT

Four of Kelo University Nine Hindered by Faculty.

New York.—The proposed American tour of the Kelo University baseball team of Tokio, Japan, will be greatly curtailed as a result of a faculty ruling announced Friday.

The Japanese players have been ordered to return to the University not later than June 16. This ruling will necessitate, the confining of the playing schedule to the Pacific coast and the cancellation of all games with eastern and middle western colleges.

Luton Askerson is soliciting signatures to initiative petitions calling for the abolition of the state senate and for the institution of a system of proportional representation for the lower house of the legislature.

Rex Turner, '12, is spending the week-end in Eugene.

U. ORCHESTRA DRAWS WELL

COMPOSERS REPRESENTED ON PROGRAM ARE OF VARIOUS TYPES

MUSICIANS SHOW ABILITY

Flexibility and Sympathetic Response of Orchestra Evidence Excellence of Training. Vocalists Aid Miss Forbes.

(By Alberta Campbell)

The University orchestra gave the second concert of its two years' history in Villard Hall Friday night before a large audience of students and friends of the University.

Owing to the untiring zeal and devotion of the founder and director, Miss Winifred Forbes, the occasion was one of immense profit and pleasure to its hearers.

The composers represented in the program were of interesting range and variety, including Jensen, of the German school; Dvorak, of the modern Bohemian; Rossini, not quite modern Italian; Greig, the modern Norwegian; Wieniawski, Russian; Puccini, the delightful modern Italian; and Elgar, most famous living English composer. And these numbers were played with a style and consistently excellent tone quality that is remarkable in an amateur orchestra. Also Miss Forbes has instilled into all the work a vigor and decision of rhythm that is most admirable, whether it shows more delicately in the sustained background of the New World Symphony Largo and the opening of the Hiliam Tell, or in the vigorous broad sweeps of the Festival Procession and the Pomp and Circumstances, or yet in the piquant and vivacious first Norwegian dance, or the humorous and rollicking movement of the second. Miss Forbes' highly artistic rhythmic sense met every interpretive demand of the program, and the orchestra showed its intelligent and painstaking training in the flexible and sympathetic way in which it responded to her direction.

The pianissimo agitato of the William Tell was charmingly sustained, and of the same sweet quality as other pianissimo work during the program, making a delightful contrast with climaxes worked up with great power and movement, and still great control. Themes were clearly and definitely handled, and nuances sensitively and beautifully developed.

The orchestra was assisted by Mr. Ralph H. Lyman, tenor, and Mr. Albert Gillette, baritone, and Mrs. May MacDonald Hope.

Mr. Gillette held his audience spell bound, by his wonderfully beautiful and sympathetic voice quality, and his temperamental interpretations.

Mrs. Hope, who appeared this time in the role of accompanist, has been a great treat and privilege to music lovers of Eugene, since her arrival in December. With her highly perfected technique and beautiful tone she awakened undreamed of possibilities in the old Villard piano and was a perfect supplement to each number.

CONCERT RATE SECURED

Prof. Ralph H. Lyman of the Music school, received telegraphic notification this afternoon that a rate of one and one-third could be secured from Eugene to Portland next week for the grand opera concerts if fifteen persons sign for the trip.

Dr. Joseph Shafer spoke to the teachers' association at Springbrook three times today; in the morning, afternoon and evening.
