

PORTLAND PLANS TO WAR ON FLY

WOMEN'S CLUB SUPERVISES CAMPAIGN MEETING HELD YESTERDAY

PROFESSORS TO LECTURE

Methods of Fighting Pest Will Be Explained. Moving Picture Theatres to Carry Films Showing Danger From Fly.

The "Swat the Fly" campaign, which was started last summer in Eugene by Dr. C. F. Hodge during his stay here at the summer session of the University, and which he has continued this winter in his extension work, is gaining statewide popularity and the movement has been taken up in Portland under the supervision of the Portland Women's Club.

The following, taken from the Oregonian of this morning, shows the earnestness with which the fly will be attacked in Oregon:

"Portland, the Flyless City," is the slogan at the fly campaign headquarters, which were opened yesterday morning on the third floor of the Meier & Frank store, under the supervision of members of the Portland Woman's club.

"Among the lecturers who will give fly talks," illustrated with lantern slides, during the 10-day crusade, will be Professor A. K. Sweetser, of the University of Oregon, at Eugene; Professor A. M. Bean, of Pacific University, Forest Grove, and Professor Harry B. Torry, of Reed College.

"The campaign headquarters will not open formally until Thursday morning. The lantern slide exhibitions and lectures will be given each afternoon, while in the morning enthusiastic club women will answer questions, explain the best methods of fighting the disease-carrying pests, give out educational literature, demonstrate the making of different flytraps by the use of models and in other ways promote the movement for a flyless city.

"Every moving picture theatre in the city and several vaudeville houses will assist in the campaign by showing enlarged pictures of the fly at his deadly work of transporting disease germs from filthy breeding places to the milk bottle and to the family food supply."

The state Agricultural College has also taken up the anti-fly propaganda, and has issued a bulletin on the subject, twenty thousand copies of which have been distributed about the state. Professor T. D. Beckwith, the college bacteriologist, is intensely interested in the movement.

Old Heck Hall, one of the first buildings erected on Northwestern University campus, and used as a dormitory for ministerial students of Garrett Biblical Institute was destroyed by fire recently. The loss is estimated at $50,000. V. M. Hashi Baksh, a student from Indian, lost $1100 worth of books and relics from his native land. The students are housed for the present in the new Northwestern dormitories at the north end of the campus.

Seventy-eight per cent of the men engaged in college activities at the University of Montana support themselves.

CLASS MEETINGS WILL OCCUPY ASSEMBLY HOUR

Seniors Will Plan to Cover the 1914 Oregon Deficit

Regular monthly class meetings of the various classes will be held tomorrow morning during assembly period.

The Seniors will hear the report of the committee recently appointed to audit the accounts of the 1914 Oregon. Plans for taking care of the deficit will be discussed by the class. The Senior Memorial Committee will report on the progress it has made towards a memorial. What time remains after the committee reports will be given over to a discussion of Commencement plans.

Juniors will meet in Dr. Schmidt's room and will transact regular class business. In the absence of President Jerard on the Glee Club trip, the Vice-President of the class, Josephine Moorhead, will preside.

The principal business to come before the Sophomores will be a report of the committee in charge of the Sophomore-Freshman basket social to be given April 24 in connection with the Sophomore-Freshman annual interclass debate. The date for the election of editor and manager of the 1916 Oregon will also be decided.

The Freshmen will meet together in Villard and regular class business will be taken up. The Sophomore-Freshman debate and basket social will be discussed here also.

HEINZLEMAN WILL SPEAK

Lecture to Be First of a Series to Class in Oregon Trees.

B. F. Heinzleman, United States forest conservation agent, will speak to the class in Oregon Trees, taught by Prof. A. R. Sweetser, in the biology lecture room at 8 a. m., April 9. His topic will be conservation of national forests, economic aspects and the value of forest conservation to the country.

Professor Sweetser states that this is the beginning of a series of lectures before the class.

At a later date, A. C. Dixon, manager of Booth-Kelly Lumber Co., will give the lumberman's view of trees. Professor Sweetser says that everybody is welcome to come.

HAMSTREET WILL SUFFER FOR SAKE OF HUMANITY

Prof. Bovard to Demonstrate Resuscitation at Y. M. Meeting

Prof. J. E. Bovard will demonstrate on Harold Hamstreet at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Wednesday night as to the best ways to resuscitate a drowned man. Harold Hamstreet has not given his consent yet, but as he is an earnest Y. M. C. A. worker, Leslie Toose, who suggested him, is quite sure he will be willing.

Bovard will show all the ways of resuscitation, without the aid of the pulmotor.

Hamstreet will not have to lie in the bottom of the gym tank for five minutes to be in shape for resuscitation, as was originally proposed. Bovard will merely show by partly pulling out Hamstreet's tongue, jerking his arms and knees, pressing his chest, and other mild exercises, the proper way to restore breathing after one has been rescued from the drink.

Graduate-Manager Wilcox of Stanford University stopped in this city on his way to Seattle Monday, to see Manager Walker. Walker, however, was in Portland on that day.

It is thought that Wilcox is going to Seattle to accompany the University of Kelo's baseball team to California, which arrives in Seattle soon. If possible, Manager Walker will schedule a game with the Nippon team on its trip south.

CESSATION OF MUSIC WILL MAKE DORM HAPPY

Grand Opera in Portland Will Attract Instructors This Week-End

Students residing at the Men's Dormitory are to have temporary relief from the various strange sounds which are heard in the south wing of the building at all hours.

This is because the studios occupied by the Department of Music in the University will be practically deserted this week-end, while the instructors in the department are in Portland attending grand opera.

Prof. Ralph H. Lyman is to be absent the entire week, having remained in Portland after the recent Men's Glee Club trip, while Miss Nell Murphy, Miss Winifred Forbes and Miss Hermione Hawkins are to go later in the week.

Twelve foreign countries and every state in the union except Nevada are represented in Yale's enrollment this year.

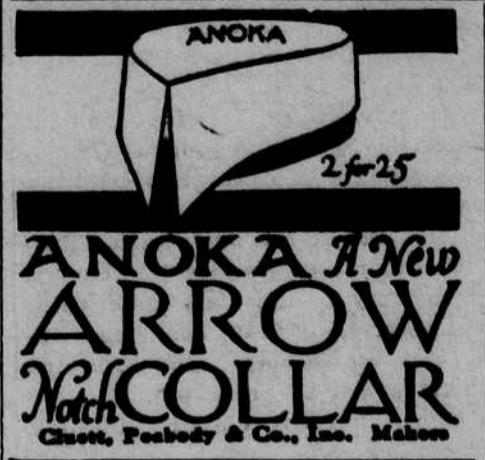

The annual spring vacation and cadet encampment at the University of Idaho has been set for the week commencing on April 20.

Drake University has a new dance of which necessity was surely the mother. The step is best executed on a slippery walk having not less than a half inch of rather glossy ice upon it, and no particular rules are to be followed during the performance save the one of general equilibrium.

Harvard dropped 44 students during the recent mid-year examinations.
