NEW SCHOOLS AUTHORIZED

PLAN TO TEACH COMMERCE AND ARCHITECTURE AT UNIVERSITY

NEW CONSTRUCTION GIVEN

Architect Lawrence Submits Sketches for Campus Quadrangles to Board of Regents at Recent Meeting.

Authorization for the establishment of Schools of Commerce and Architecture in the University and the adoption of the plans for the new $100,000 building, as prepared by Architect Ellis F. Lawrence, was the principal business that came before the Board of Regents at their regular annual meeting Saturday.

The action of the board in creating the two new schools came as a result of a decision made some time ago by the Board of Higher Curricula that the University should be given the exclusive right to establish a School of Commerce and a School of Architecture.

The Board placed President P. L. Campbell in charge of the organization of the School of Commerce. President Campbell will report his plans at the June meeting of the Board. It is said that H. B. Miller, formerly United States Consul at Shanghai, China, is in line for the deanship of the new school. The school will be devoted mainly to preparing students to become expert accountants, professional marketers and distributors, and for the consular service.

Architect Ellis F. Lawrence was authorized to make plans for the organization of the architectural courses and will also report at the June meeting of the progress made.

Plans Are Ratified.

Architect Lawrence's plans for the new building were submitted and ratified by the Regents. The new structure will be of the Ionic style of architecture, two stories high, and will be built of brick and terra cotta. The building will be fireproof throughout.

The offices of the president and registrar are to be located on the second floor. In order to eliminate the crowding that now prevails during registration time, a large lobby will be made on this floor, with the business offices facing off of it. The lobby is to be lighted by a large skylight.

The first floor of the building is to be given over to class rooms. Just what departments will be given locations on this floor has not yet been decided. The basement will probably be given over to the department of journalism.

Quadrangles Planned.

Architect Lawrence also submitted sketches to the Board, providing that the University campus be divided into quadrangles. Under his plan, the new building will be located on one quadrangle, where the sun dial now stands. Mr. Lawrence says that Kincaid Field will not be removed to make room for the new building; at least, not at present. He says that it would involve an expenditure of $10,000 to remove the athletic field to the 34-acre tract adjoining the present field.

According to Mr. Lawrence's plans, a second quadrangle will be located at the western end of the campus, including the present baseball diamond, tennis courts and duck pond.

In order to permit the present Junior class in electrical engineering to graduate, the Board appointed Assistant Professor C. R. Reid to a professorship at a salary of $1800 a year. Professor Reid will take the place of Professor R. H. Dearborn, who has been transferred to the Oregon Agricultural College.

Following the recommendation of President Campbell, the civil engineering department will be discontinued at the end of the present year, although the Board of Higher Curricula recently stipulated that the present classes might be graduated. President Campbell advocated the discontinuation of the department as he did not think the number of students enrolled was sufficient to warrant its further existence.

President Campbell's report also contained a recommendation for a considerable extension in the scope of the graduate school and the addition of such courses as would induce alumni to return for work in the department.

The addition of a second year of law was authorized by the Regents and Dr. Hope was granted an assistant in the department.

Miss Katrina M. Davis, instructor in English in Columbia University, of New York, was elected instructor in rhetoric to temporarily fill the place of Miss Julia Burgess, who leaves this summer for a year's sojourn in Europe.

All of the Regents were present at the meeting except Governor West, Secretary of State Olcott and C. A. Dolph.

MATHEMATICS ATTRACTS MANY THROUGH LETTERS

Professor Frink Teaches Over 150 Students by Correspondence

Teaching 15 different courses in mathematics to more than 150 students by means of letters, is the work that Prof. F. G. Frink, of mathematics, in the Extension Department, is engaged in at present.

Over one half of the students taking correspondence work in mathematics are teachers handling principally this work, and all are mature in years and experience. Some are engaged in engineering or other building enterprises, studying mathematics and structural subjects.

"Many of our students," says Professor F. G. Frink, "have had some college work and of these many are planning to return for graduation. Some desire a review in certain subjects, and some wish to increase their usefulness by taking advanced work. Practically all are filling positions and have a specific object in their selection of subjects.

"Under such circumstances a very high quality of work reaches the department. At least 95 per cent of the work is perfect and the work of marking the papers is one involving criticism of methods and of helpful suggestions in which the mecahnical checking of results is merely an incident."

Following the decision of the Board of Higher Curricula by which the University loses Engineering and retains Architecture, a revision in the correspondence courses in Engineering and Mathematics is necessary.

BIG GYM EXHIBIT IS PLANNED.

Men in Classes Under Shockley Will Probably Give Outdoor Show.

Sixty Sophomores and Freshmen will be seen in drill about the last of May. "Bill" Hayward, trainer, is formulating plans for the event, but nothing definite about the exact date will be known until after the spring vacation.

Director Shockley began training the regular gymnasium classes the first of the week, but has experienced a great deal of trouble in getting the men to march and to do the other various drills. He believes, however, that in a month he will be able to get them into shape.

The women have had the gymnasium from four o'clock until six this week, but immediately after spring vacation the coast will be clear and Shockley will devote his entire time to drilling his men.

Sophomores and Freshmen!

Second annual underclass debates Friday afternoon and night in Villard Hall. Evening debate followed by basket social and dance in Men's Gymnasium. Both debates and dance free. Bidding on baskets liimted to 75 cents. Every Sophomore and Freshman turn out to the first underclass "get-to-gether" in years!

Two Harvard students will pay Unclet Sam $8000 each under the income tax law. Hundreds of others at the same university with less to pay will swell the amount to approximately fifty thousand dollars.

UNDERCLASSMEN PLANNING SOCIAL

FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES TO JOIN FORCES IN FRIDAY'S AFFAIR

DEBATE STARTS PROGRAM

Basket Social and Dance Follow Forensic Contest. Partners Will Be Obtained With Boxes, Sold at Auction.

Sandwiches, boiled eggs, salad, pickles, olives, fruit, candy and cake.

These are a few of the good things to be offered by the women of the Freshman and Sophomore classes who will bring baskets to the first underclass basket social and dance in the men's gymnasium Friday night, April 24.

Plans for the dance and social have been decided upon by the committee in charge. According to present arrangements, the second of the underclass debates will be held in Villard Hall just before the festivities in the gymnasium. The first of the debates will be held Friday afternoon. The debates are on the question: "Resolved, That all International Disputes Should Be Settled by Arbitration."

Each class will have an affirmative and a negative team, each composed of three men. Each speaker will be allowed eight minutes in constructive argument and the leaders of the teams will have five minutes more for rebuttal. The entire debate will last an hour.

Two Debates Planned

The Sophomores will be represented by William Holt, Cloyd Dawson, Leslie Tooze, Allen O'Connell, Prentiss Brown and Lamar Tooze. The Freshmen teams will consist of McKinley Helm, Ernest Watkins, Nicholas Jaureguy, Milton Stoddard, Howard McCulloch and Martin Nelson. The Sophomores affirmative will cross swords with the Freshmen negative team in the afternoon while in the evening, the Frosh will uphold the affirmative and the Sophs the negative side of the question. Both debates will be free.

Last year, the Freshmen team, composed of Prentiss Brown, Allen O'Connell and Lamar Tooze, won the silver debate cup presented by the class of 1912. The purpose of the interclass debates is to produce debating material for Varsity teams.

After the evening debate, which will be over by 8:15, all Freshmen and Sophomores will repair to the gymnasium. Dancing will commence at 8:30 and will continue until 10:30. Music will be furnished by the Dormitory orchestra and the latest music will be played. In order to prevent confusion, programs will be printed for the occasion. Chairman Joe Gilpin of the joint committee announces that the floor will be put in good condition and that the program will include several Paul Jones and one-steps. There will be no admission charged.

Auction Follows Dance

After the dance the baskets will be auctioned. In order to expedite matters, five auctioneers will conduct the sale of the boxes. Bidding will be limited to 75 cents. Baskets will go to the highest bidder. Every woman attending the social is expected to bring a basket. Names will be placed in the inside of the box. The women on the committee have started a thorough campaign among the feminine element of both classes, urging them to be present with baskets. The committee further urges that the boxes be inexpensive.

While the boxes are being opened, a short informal program will be rendered. The complete program will be announced in Thursday's Emerald.

As a means of advertising the debates, social and dance, postal cards will be mailed to members of both classes. Placards will also be posted about the campus.

Chairman Gilpin, in speaking of the plans said today: "This is the first underclass 'get-together' that has been staged for a number of years and it is sincerely hoped that every Sophomore and Freshman will get out Friday night. We have definitely decided upon our arrangements."

The joint committee consists of Joe Gilpin, chairman; Jessie Lieser, Rose Price, Evelyn Harding, Virginia Peterson, Louise Bailey, Bess Cushman, Helen Wiegand, Frank Beach, Dean Crowell, Hermes Wrightson, Vernon Garrett and Leo Potter.
