CO-EDS' FAME TRAVELS

That Oregon co-eds show a vivid interest in debating is evident, in the fact that within the last four years, four debates have been held between Oregon and Washington.
Four dual debates have been held between the fair sex of the two universities in which the Oregonians won two and their opponents won two.

Each separate student body pays the expenses of its own teams and a chaperon, while each school pays for the entertainment of the visiting team. Members of the two Oregon teams, have been chosen and are beginning to get down to work for the dual debate which will take place the last of April or the first of May. —Daily Illini.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC TO ISSUE INDEPENDENT CATALOGUE

Book Will Contain Information
For Those Interested
In Music

"The University of Oregon School of Music has issued a new catalogue which will be distributed throughout all parts of the State so that people may see what we have to offer in Music and the courses of study which are prescribed for a person interested in working toward a music degree" said Prof Ralph H. Lyman Dean of the School of Music.

This catalogue contains a complete review of all the work available in the school of Music and it also gives an account of the activities of the various musical organizations within the University.

Complete courses in the Theory of Music in Piano, Voice, and Violin are offered, and Public School Music and Ensemble classes have been added.

The book also contains some excellent cuts of the various musical organizations and of the instructors in this department.

"If any students who have friends that might be interested in any of these courses will hand in the names to me we shall be only too glad to send them these booklets," says Prof. Lyman.

The student court at Wisconsin found three sophomores guilty of falsification under oath and wrongful use of class funds, the penalty being disbarment from office for the remainder of their college course.
Two of the justices dissented, and will appeal the case to the faculty on the ground that the punishment was insufficient.

UNIVERSITY OF KANSAS, Apr., —"We will not cross the bridge until we get to it," smiled Chancellor Strong this morning when asked concerning credits for those students who might be called to Mexico.

"The right thing would be done by the boys, though," continued the Chancellor.

It is the general opinion that in 1898 when war was declared with Spain that University students were given their credits for that semester.
However, there is no record on the minutes of the University Council at that time to such an effect.
