DURING VACATION

One week of actual school work is left, and after that a scant week of examinations which will determine the fitness of those now in college to continue with University work next fall. It is to be hoped that all students finding it possible will remain through the Commencement exercises, but it is probable that for a large number this will not be practicable. Oregon is not a silk stocking college, and the early acquisition of a good summer job is necessary for many of those who wish to continue as members of the student body.

After the next three weeks have passed, Oregon students will be scattered far and wide over the state. College life will for a period of three months be over, and it is easy that for this time college life and its meaning should be forgotten.

Instead of this the summer months should be the busiest of the whole year, as far as the students' connection with the University is concerned For nine months, the Oregon man or woman has been helping himself and gaining benefits which will aid in his betterment through the agency of the state, and it is only fair that for three months he should endeavor to pay back a part of this debt, not only to the state but to the University as well.

For the most part, the connection between the state and he University is not manifested in a direct way. It is up to the University men and women who are spending their vacation in rest or arduous work, to demonstrate through their own actions just what the University means to the state and what the state means to the University.

It is an easy thing to speak a good word for the University, and it is a little easier to forget to do so, but the chances offered are many, and should be taken quick advantage of. Whether you are coming back next year or not, get out and boost for

THE STUDENT CONFERENCE

The members of the Oregon student body are to be congratulated on the manner in which they have demonstrated their interest in the Commonwealth exercises which have just come to a close, and particularly in the conduct of their own conference held yesterday morning. The program given was good, and the attendance argues that the much regretted Oregon Spirit is still enjoying the best of health.

Last year, student speakers ap peared in a general session of the Commonwealth proceedings, and were by no means the least in merit of those on the program. This year the idea has grown, until a special session has been turned over to the students. The practicability of the idea has been clearly shown. It should be made a permanent feature of all Commonwealth conferences in the future.

GETTING READY TO QUIT

Only one issue of the Emerald remains to be run off after the issue of today. Wednesday the Emerald of the year 1913-14 will take its curtain call, before the Oregon student body. Impending examinations, and the desire of the staff members to make their college hours constitute the excuse for not prolonging the life of the publication by one more gasp. So if any one wants to put in any kicks on the Emerald, or in regard to the way that the universe has been conducted the past year, it should be remembered that such complaints will only take effect if handed in before Tuesday evening.
