

OREGON EMERALD

PUBLISHED THREE TIMES A WEEK

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, SATURDAY, SEPT. 26, 1914.

VOLUME XVI, No. 4

"CALAMITY" A WORD NOT IN "BILL'S" VOCABULARY

HAYWARD SMILES AS RECORD BREAKERS SHOW UP AT OREGON

ALL TRACK MEN OUT MONDAY

Oregon's Optimist Coach Says Prospects Are the Best He Has Seen

Fall track work will be officially launched next Monday afternoon when Hayward's bunch of athletes, near-athletes and aspirants for track fame will make their initial appearance on Kincaid Field.

This early season work will be in the nature of work-outs the development of form and of style. Later cross country running will be taken up.

"If a team beats us this year, it must be up and coming; the prospects are good better than they have ever been at this time of year since I have been here at the University," says Bill Hayward.

"No bear story. With most of the old men back, and with an abundance of new material, the prospects are great. This is straight goods."

The first meet of the season is scheduled for October 17, when an inter-class contest will be held. All of the regular events will be contested at that time.

With most of last year's championship team back and some of the others yet to be heard from, the prospects are of the brightest kind. Of last year's team, Boylen, Loucks, Payne, Nelson Heidenreich, Hamstreet, Parsons and Fee have already registered. Cook and Stuller and McConnell will also be here in time to take up the regular work.

There is also an abundance of new material in the present Freshman class. Goreczky, of Columbia, and Wilson, of Washington High, both with good "prep" reputations for the sprints, and Muirhead for the hurdles and high jump, are among the high lights in the baby class. There are many other "diamonds in the rough" that will doubtless show some speed as soon as they get into action.

Second and third place men, pole vaulters and javelin men are needed before a perfect team can be sent on the field.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB HOLDS TRY OUT

Virginia Peterson Prophesies Banner Year; Professor Lyman Promises Club Several Trips

The first tryout of the Women's Glee Club was held Wednesday afternoon in Villard Hall. Forty candidates were tested out for the eleven vacancies on the club.

Professor Lyman, director of the club, selected twenty-two women, who will meet with the regular club Monday at 5:30 for their final tryout. The first sopranos are Maud Newbury, Lois Ladd, Martha Tinker, Marjory Williams, Mignon Allen; second sopranos, Eunice Foster, Gladys Colwell, Vivian Kellems, Margaret Pratt, Dorothy Wheeler, Eva Hadley, Erna Petzold, Grace Richardson; first alto, Flo Killingsworth, Louise Manning, Helen Johns, Grace Bingham, Martha Beer; and second altos, Erma Keithley and Marie DePue.

"The material for this year is exceptionally good," said Virginia Peterson, President of the Glee Club, "and there is no reason why this should not be our banner year."

CROCKETT GRAPPLES WITH HIGH COST OF LIVING

Ciceronian Chooses Simple Life; His Residence Will be Leon Ray's Old Shack in Fairmount

The Ciceros and Demosthenes of the University have in the past always shown a prolific aggressiveness in attacking the high cost of grub. This year's champion of the simple fare is Peter Crockett.

It will be remembered that Leon Ray, '12, famous in forensics, built a shack in Fairmount, in which he spent his four-year study period. Crockett has rented this shack for the school year, and will move his goods and chattels to that residence in the next few days. By economical bacheloring, Crockett intends to materially reduce the cost of a college education. In addition to being a debater, Crockett is also a devout soccerite, and will try out for this year's team. During the past two years, Crockett has been out of college and has been located at Wasco, where he was preaching. Crockett is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB TO HAVE TWENTY SINGERS

Trip to Salem State Fair Thursday to be Made by Some of the Members

With a limitation of twenty men placed on the number that will comprise the Glee Club this year, the work of selection becomes no easy task, according to Professor Ralph Lyman. "This is especially true of the second tenor division, which was most hotly contested. The work is slow, but steady."

The tryouts of the last two weeks have boiled down the number to 24, six in each of the four sections. Twelve of these are new members. The next contest, which will be held on Monday, at 4:00 o'clock, in Villard Hall, the old as well as the new members will have to contend for their places. An elimination process will then ensue until the 20 mark is reached.

The new men that are asked to report on Monday are: first tenors, Harry Hargreaves, Pete Sexton and Paul Sprague; second tenors, Homer Kellems, Walter Church and R. Stanton; baritones, Gus Scholl, William Vawter; second bass, Curtis Beach, Howard McCullough, Harold Hamstreet and Don Newberry.

A new and unique feature will be introduced at the Salem State Fair by ten Glee Club men, who are to be an attraction for one day. The day assigned is Thursday of next week. The men will be under the protection of the state officials. All expenses incurred during the trip will be defrayed by them.

"The value of the advertising that the University will receive in this way will be great," said Professor Lyman. "As yet, I haven't selected the men, but in all probability they will include the old members of the Glee Club."

"The rumor to the effect that the Glee Club will appear at the San Francisco Fair next year is a possibility," added Professor Lyman. "If we are insured the proper backing, the trip will be taken, by all means. The scheme, however, is in its infancy at the present, and therefore I cannot say very much about it."

Crew Coach Hiram B. Conibear has adopted a new policy in athletics at the University of Washington this year, by which men not physically able to turn out for the Varsity may obtain all the benefits of crew without the hard training season of the Varsity turnout.

TRAINING TABLE STARTS EARLY 15 MEN ABSORB T-BONE STEAK

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE, 1914

- October 3—Multnomah at Eugene.
- October 10—Whitman College at Eugene.
- October 17—W. S. C. at Portland.
- October 24—Idaho at Moscow.
- October 31—Willamette at Eugene.
- November 14—Washington at Seattle.
- November 21—O. A. C. at Portland.

DOBIE'S TEAM SEEMS STRONGER THAN EVER

NINE STARS OF LAST YEAR'S CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM RETURN

Regular Men Pressed by New Material; Old Timers Have No Cinch on Their Places

Rex Kay.

Washington football stock has advanced fifty per cent as the result of Ex-Captain Anderson and Ray Hunt, two stars of last year, turning out for the game again this season. Anderson is expected to fill one of the tackle positions, and Hunt may take up his old place at the end of the line. Even Dobie is almost optimistic. Dobie's "bear stories" about light weight, raw and green material count for little when the true strength of his squad is known.

With the return of Hunt, Washington has last year's set of ends. Hunt and Leader, battling for place against such material as Savage, from the 1913 second team, Jack Abrams, the big Spokane boy, and Murphy, who attracted much notice while at Wallace, Idaho. Seagraves is back in the same guard position as he occupied for the past two years, with Van de Bogart, a heavy weight, in the other guard. Elmer Leader, another veteran, is reported to be better than ever at the tackling post. These old timers of the Dobie school have no cinch on their places, however, for according to reports, Shively, a former University of Chicago man, and Wruck, a star from Lincoln High, are hot contenders for places on the line. The matter of center is being fought out between Jolliffe and Gallatley, who are new men but who are reported to be heavy and exceptionally fast.

No one but Dobie has a complaint to enter as to line material, and there are grounds for such, to the paper "dopester" at least. For a time Captain Walter Shiel was playing on the line, but with this wealth of line material, Dobie has seen fit to shift him to fullback again. The old timers, "Hap" Miller and Noble, are playing halves for the present, but they are hard pushed for a regular position by Chapman, a man who played under Dobie two years ago. Smith and Bud Young are taking care of the quarterback job.

Figures show that Dobie's "pea-green flock of would-be's" is made up of no better than nine stars from Washington's champion Varsity of 1913, with contenders for every other position who have more or less "Dobie education." "Wise guys" around the University of Washington are doping Abrams, Wruck and Jolliffe to advance.

Continued on page 3.

BIG MEN PRIMING FOR OREGON-WHITMAN GAME

BEZDEK KEEPS LINEUP DARK

Huskies Eat One Bounteous Feast Per Day at Dorm; Two Later

By Harry Kuck.

T-bone season has "arriv." Fifteen very deserving young men, led by Captain Johnny Parsons, became the dinner guests of the University in the newly built addition to the Men's Dormitory Thursday evening. The men fortunate enough to come under Trainer Bill Hayward's care thus early in the season are Capt. Parsons, Cornell, Bryant, Malarkey, Weist, Beckett, Philbin, Powrie, Mitchell, Snyder, Nelson, Garrett, Monteith, Cawley and Cornwall.

Training table is starting much earlier this season than for several years past. The plan is to conduct the table once a day, in the evening after practice, for some time, and then probably after the schedule opens up two meals a day will be served. A glance over the table some evening would convince any dubious personages as to the desirability of owning a meal ticket at the "Beefers' Lunch." "Bill sure orders fine meals, and there is likely to be a lively contest among the rest of the squad for the "T-bones," salads and other good things provided, for Coach Bezdek says that other men will be added as soon as they show they deserve it.

Up to date, the squad has not met with a single serious injury. Trainer Hayward says that all the men are in fine condition, and here is where he has it on the rest of 'em, for every other team in the conference has at least one good man out of practices on account of injuries received in scrimmages.

A glance over the football schedule will show that Oregon has a very strenuous season before her. After October 3rd, upon which date Multnomah will probably be the contending foe, although this is not a settled fact as, November 7th is the only vacant Saturday during the entire season. The big game with O. A. C. on November 21 is to be played in Portland this year, where it is expected to be a big drawing card. Graduate Manager Tiffany expects a large financial return as a result of staging the contest in the metropolis.

Coach Bezdek has repeatedly refrained from giving out a line-up, and indications are that no one will be absolutely sure of a place before the whistle blows for the first game. At present, last year's quartet, Cornell at quarter, Parsons and Malarkey as halves, and Bryant fullback, seem to have the edge upon the backfield positions, although Monteith, Bigbee, Huntington and Cornwall are all strong contenders for the old guards' jobs. The center niche seems to lie between Nelson and Risley, with Nelson the favorite. For guards, Philbin and Powrie look the most likely, although Cawley is playing a bang-up game, too. Beckett and Snyder are being used pretty regularly in the tackle berths, although Teggart will make a good bid for one of the jobs. Weist is looked upon as a fixture upon one end, and the other extremity job seems to lie between Mitchell and Garrett.

According to Debate Coach William LaFollette, Washington's prospects for honors in the intercollegiate events are a great deal better than they were last year.

BEN DORRIS CALLS CLASS MEETING FOR MONDAY

Senior Lord Kitchener Lets Fall Weighty Words on Merits of Senior Class

Ben F. Dorris Jr., President of the Senior class, has begun to mobilize his scarred and scattered forces for the year's campaign. The heroes of a hundred conflicts with the faculty will assemble at 4:00 P. M. Monday for the first meeting of the year.

When seen yesterday in his private office, from which he controls the destinies of the Harriman railroad system, President Dorris simultaneously removed his feet from the desk and his El Sidelo from his mouth, and condescended the following interview:

"The class of 1915, although few in numbers, is undoubtedly the greatest that was ever known or ever will be known at the University. At the end of the present year we shall be able to say, in the words of the Apostle Paul and Sam Friendly, 'We have fought a great fight; victory is ours.' Ben pronounced these words quite calmly, as if he actually expected the reporter to believe them.

"As to the issues which will be discussed at Monday's meeting," continued the Senior Lord Kitchener, "they are so momentous that I dare not divulge them. However, I urge every member of our august class to grace the assemblage with his presence."

With this the great mangate dismissed the reporter and returned to his business cares. When last seen, he was dictating his official correspondence to half a dozen perspiring stenographers.

It is rumored that, to show his affection for the class and the University, Dorris himself will register before Monday's meeting.

300 ATTEND Y.M. Y.W. INFORMAL RECEPTION

LOMBARD PRESIDES IN ABSENCE OF TOMMY BOYLEN

The Y. M.-Y. W. C. A. reception was held Friday evening in Villard Hall. The general custom of having a formal receiving line was not followed, but a "mixing committee," composed of members of the faculty, the Associations' Cabinets and Charley Koyl, received the guests and saw that people became acquainted. Bert Lombard, Vice President of the Student Body and President of the Y. M. C. A., presided, in the absence of Tom Boylen, the Student Body President. He gave a welcoming address, which was intended especially for the new students. "The Oregon student body is the most democratic body of its kind," said Lombard, "and we must keep it so."

A twenty minute program of music and speeches was given as follows: piano solo, Miss Mona Dougherty; vocal solo, William Vawter; violin solo, Miss Winifred Forbes; talk on Y. W. C. A. work, Dr. Bertha Stuart; announcement of Buceel, Captain Thompson; vocal solo, Albert Gillette; talk on Y. M. C. A., Professor DeCou, President of the Advisory Board.

"I believe that the reception this year gave more satisfaction than ever before," said Charley Koyl, Secretary of the University Y. M. "Taking everything into consideration, the mix showed the results of more work and thought on the part of the different committees. The mixing, which is really the chief aim of the reception, was far more successful than in previous years."

About 300 guests were present. Ice cream and cakes were served.

SOPH-FROSH MIX PLANS BEGIN TO TAKE FORM

SOPHOMORE COMMITTEES ARE COMPLETE; FROSH CHAIR MEN CHOSEN

FEATURE PROGRAM IS SECRET

Difficulty Is Experienced in Finding Pushball; Sandbags Arranged for.

Plans for the Freshman-Sophomore mix are rapidly coming into shape under the direction of the various committee heads. The program for the day is not complete as yet, but arrangements have been made for the sandbag contest, the tieup and the tug-of-war. Difficulty is being experienced in locating a pushball, but it is hoped that through the Portland Hunt Club or Seattle Athletic Club one will be obtained.

Several mysterious stunts are also to be pulled off, but the exact nature of these will not be known until the time is ripe.

The following committees to have charge of the affair have been appointed: General director of stunts, Merlin Batley; chairman of Sophomore committee, Larry Mann; features, Allen Byron chairman, Leo Furney, Blair Holcomb, Sherman Pobst, Ivan Huston; decorations, Lois Ladd chairman, Merle McCloskey, Marian Reed, Alice Hill, Anne Hales, Bernice Lucas, Leone Williams, Clara Witouseck, George Colton, Nick Jaureguy, Milton Stoddard; field events, Jack Elliott chairman, Emmet Rathbun, Bob Langley, Walter Anspoker, Alex Bowen; tug-of-war, Harold Hamstreet chairman, Howard Bull, Howard Hall, John Bisher.

Only the following heads of the Freshman committees have been appointed, as follows: Decorations, women, Marie Sheehan; men, Pete Sexton; bonfire, Homer Kellems.

The chairmen of all mix committees will meet next Tuesday at 4:00 o'clock in Dr. Straub's room.

THUR. UNIVERSITY DAY

Special Edition of Emerald Will Be Published and Sent to Salem

In response to a request from the Alumni Association a special edition of the Emerald will be published for the University Day at the State Fair in Salem next week. Next Thursday has been set aside for the University, and on that day the edition will come out. An extensive exhibit and program will also be given in the interests of the University. Next Thursday is also Portland Day, and as a large crowd will be present, it is expected many people will be reached by this edition. The paper will be of the usual size, but will treat with the progress and development of the University. A special man will be sent to Salem to handle that end of the edition.

STUDENT COUNCIL WILL FILL THREE VACANCIES

There are three vacancies on the Student Council this fall, since three of the members, Harry Crain, Graham McConnell and Evelyn Harding, are not in school this semester.

The Student Council will meet to fill these vacancies soon after Tommy Boylen, President of the Student Body, returns, Sunday, from Pendleton, where he at present has charge of the seating of the Round-Up.

At the first meeting of the Student Council, candidates for yell leader will be considered.