

OREGON OVERWHELMS WHITMAN BY 29-3 SCORE SOPHOMORES SUBJUGATE FROSH 40 TO 25

VARSITY OPENS FOOTBALL SEASON WITH VICTORY OVER MISSIONARIES

BEZDEK'S MEN TEAR THROUGH WHITMAN LINE FOR FOUR TOUCH-DOWNS. PARSONS AND HOOVER GET PLACEMENTS. OREGON FAILS ON TWO GOAL KICKS

GAME IS FEATURELESS

Parsons, Bryant, Malarkey Cornell and Hoover Score; Beckett's Punts Average Forty Yards

In discussing the game, Coach Hahn said: "The wet field got us, all right. The team didn't get accustomed to it until the last half; they couldn't get their speed at all. In the first half they licked us three touchdowns, but in the last half we held them to one." Coach Bezdek refused to make any formal statements about the result except that he wasn't the happiest man in the whole world.

Playing old-style football from start to finish, Bezdek's experimental first team ran away from the Whitman eleven in the first conference game of the season on Kincaid Field this afternoon. Whitman's line crumbled before the onslaughts of Oregon's plunging backfield. Parsons, Malarkey and Bryant took turns at leading the attack, and each of the trio delivered yardage consistently.

Whitman's three points were scored on a difficult place kick by Hoover in the third quarter. Oregon also tallied by the pedal method in the final period, Parsons being the artist. Touchdowns were scored by Parsons, Bryant, Malarkey and Cornell.

The game was slow and featureless. Time was taken out repeatedly for injured Missionaries, but Bezdek's men were on their feet after every down.

In the kicking department, Beckett clearly outclassed both Bishop and Hoover. His spirals averaged 43 yards, while those of the Northern booters hardly went 30 yards on an average.

A crowd of 1,500 saw the game. Roscoe Fawcett, sporting editor of the Oregonian, gave general satisfaction as referee. Coach Johnson, of Eugene High School was umpire, and Sam Dolan, of O. A. C. head linesman.

First Quarter
Bishop, for Whitman, kicks off to Parsons, who returns the ball five yards. On the first play Beckett punts 50 yards, the ball rolling out of bounds on Whitman's 20-yard line. Whitman fails to gain on fake punt. On the third down Whitman makes two yards on fake punt. On fourth down Whitman punts 20 yards out of bounds. Parsons goes through the line for five yards; Malarkey jabs the line for three; Bryant follows through the same hole for four yards. Oregon is sweeping Whitman off her feet by superior speed. Parsons carries the ball to the one-yard line. Bryant takes it over for a touchdown. Beckett fails to kick goal. Oregon's touchdown came after four minutes of play.

ANNUAL SOPHOMORE "PROGS" BLOSSOM FORTH AT LAST

Frosh Offenders Told Where to Head In; Red Ink Used Extensively

Larger and more lurid than ever before, the annual proclamations against the Freshmen made their appearance early this morning. Bloody red is tastefully combined with funeral black, to impress the Frosh with their own depravity and the dire calamity which threatens them should they persist in their offenses. A huge skull and crossbones at the top serves to remind the first-year readers of the brevity and uncertainty of human life.

As a specimen of acrimonious composition, this year's poster would make Cicero's famous diatribe against Catiline sound like a faculty colloquium. Several of the most deadly masters of invective in the Sophomore ranks are suspected of having had a hand in its production.

The posters were sown broadcast over all the territory adjacent to the campus, fences, telegraph poles, and sidewalks being utilized by the 1917 paper-hangers.

Phi Gamma Delta—Joe Jones, '14; William Cake, '10.

Fred Porter, of Portland, is visiting at the Beta Theta Pi house this weekend.

Mr. W. H. Utfinger, of Astoria, is a week-end guest at the Sigma Nu house.

"OPEN SEASON" FOR FROSH STARTS TODAY

"PEP" AND PAJAMAS FEATURES OF RALLY

"Best Spirit In Years," Says Hug—Bowen and McMurray Are Prize Winners

By Milton A. Stoddard.
"This is the best spirit in years." Thus the bizarre hilarity and effervescent enthusiasm of the pajama parade last night was characterized by George Hug, Principal of Eugene High School, and a football star of yesteryears, who spoke to the serpentine, marching, singing, shouting, comedy-stricken crowd of Varsity men in front of the Osburn Hotel.

"Whitman has a hard nut to crack tomorrow, and if every man on the team and on the side-lines does his best, we'll win," said Dr. Read, amid irrepressible shouts.

The pajama parade had a larger variety of costumes and comedians than ever before. Besides the many pajamas, there were clown-like painted faces, ill-fittings wigs, and make-ups that brought forth many a laugh from the spectators along the curbs.

Ernie Vosper, yell leader, directed some of the yells from the shoulders of four or five Seniors, and the rooters responded with "pep."

Led by the University Band of 25 pieces, the procession picked up its men house by house until before it reached town it was the longest rally-parade ever seen here. The men marched to the Osburn Hotel, where they heard Dr. Read and George Hug.

Next, through every sorority house the pajamists serpentine, keeping time with their bodies to the yell of "Oregon Oregon! Rah, Rah, Oregon!" The girls on the stairs laughed and cheered as they saw the muddy-footed rooters making a path of dirt on the carpet-cleared floors.

Several paraders who were made up as women received much attention from the other painted cut-ups who crowded adoringly around.

Alex Bowen and Bob McMurray, two Sophomores dressed respectively as a savage and a Mexican, were awarded the prizes for the best costumes by the three women judges.

Dr. J. H. Gilbert, Professor of Economics, delivered an address at Dayton, Oregon, Friday evening, October 9, on the subject of "The Tax Measures to Come Up at the November Election." His audience was composed chiefly of farmers from the surrounding sections

STUDENT-LABOR ON NEW FIELD IS PLAN

Work Will Start as Soon as Architect Is Ready. March Is Date Set for Completion

Plans for the new Athletic Field are now in the hands of the architect and actual work upon the field is simply awaiting their return. Coach Bezdek has in mind a plan by which he expects to have the new field ready for use by next March.

"I am going to ask the students to do the work themselves. It will be a good way for them to spend some of their spare time, and when the field is finished, they will think twice as much of it as they would if it had been done by someone else. A squad of students, under the direction of a competent foreman, could accomplish more in one day than outside help would accomplish in a week."

The baseball diamond will be separate from the gridiron and will have a separate grand-stand.

The running track will be built around the gridiron.

YOUNGER GENERATION WINS INTER-SCHOLASTIC LAURELS

Robert Malarkey, who made Columbia's only touchdown in the recent 7-7 game between Columbia University and Washington High School in Portland, is "Tick" Malarkey's brother. Charley Parsons, who made Washington's touchdown, is Johnny Parsons' brother.

UNIVERSITY MUSIC TEACHER INTENDS TO GIVE CONCERTS

Mrs. Middleton, teacher in the University School of Music, leaves Friday morning for a short concert tour with Mme. June Reed. They will give a joint concert in Salem Friday evening, and in Monmouth Saturday evening.

Mme. Reed toured England and Scotland with the famous soprano, Ellen Beach Yaw. She has appeared with Schumann-Heinck, David Bispham and many of the greatest artists.

Mme. Reed met Mrs. Middleton this summer at Wilhoit Springs, and was so charmed with her singing that she suggested a joint concert at Newport, which was duly carried out. The evening was an entire success, and it is expected that many such concerts will be forthcoming in the future.

STUDENT BARD GREETSS GRADS IN POET-LORE

Chester A. Fee Writes "Welcome Home" to Grads Who Are Present on Homecoming Day

Weary wanderers in labor, Alma Mater awaits you here,
With a laugh to break your sadness, and a smile to dry your tear;
Mater of the tribe of brothers, leaders of the world of men,
Greetss you after years of patience, clasps you to her breast again.

In the home, where once you worshipped, grows a race within her care,
Who have nurtured you in fancy as a spirit of the air;
We will herald you as heroes, as before you did the same
To the men who were returning, and had left a mighty name.

Life is running just as smoothly as it was when you were here,
With a cheer for every labor, and a joy for every cheer;
But there's something haunts our fancy, something that we always lack;
It's a cry for those who've left us, those who never will come back.

Day by day the years are rolling, with a task for each to do;
Absence makes the heart forgetful, even in a bosom true.
Come again each year in autumn, you will find a welcome sweet,
At the door that's always open, at our guarding Mother's feet.
—Chester Anders Fee.

CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN

University Orchestra to Make First Appearance December 8; Officers Are Elected

The first concert of the University Orchestra will be given on the evening of December 8, in Villard Hall. It will be a Student Body activity, but a small admission will be charged for townspeople.

The Orchestra has 25 members, of whom 17 play stringed instruments. The recently elected officers are as follows: President, Mary DeBar; Sec.-Treas., Minnie Schwarzschild; Business Manager, Howard McCulloch; Director, Miss Winifred Forbes.

Miss Forbes remarked yesterday that the Orchestra this year is splendid and that she expects a successful year.

The Sophomore upheld the honor of their class and, incidentally, college tradition, by winning the fourth annual Inter-Class Mix from the Freshmen this morning on Kincaid Field. The score was: Sophomores 40; Freshmen 25.

The mix was notable for the precision in which the different events were staged. Notwithstanding the muddy condition of the field, everything went off without a hitch, making the affair probably the most successful ever held.

The program began at 10:30 o'clock. Headed by the Senior police, "Captain" Strang and the Frosh band, the '18-ers entered the field for their stunts. Four Frosh carried on their shoulders a coffin, on which were painted the numerals of the 1917 class. Marching around the field in front of the grand-stand, the green-cappers lowered the coffin while the band played "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The Freshmen then filed past the bier, tenderly placing corn-husks on the coffin lid. The discharge of several sticks of dynamite under the coffin completed their stunts.

The Sophomores then came onto the field for their feature program. The women of the class, wearing middy blouses and orange-colored caps, led the parade. They were followed by the Sophomore band and the men of the class.

Their stunts consisted of burlesques of the tug-of-war and the sandbag contest. At a table in the foreground "pink tea" was served while a banner bearing the words "Our Seminary Mix" explained the nature of the burlesques. The Sophs were awarded points for features, yells and parade.

Each class decorated their section of the grand-stand. The Freshmen were awarded the ten points given for decorations.

The first field event was the tying contest. After a ten-minute contest in a slough of mud, the Sophomores were declared winners, having tied
