

MARCH 14 DATE OF TRIANGULAR DEBATE

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS IS SUBJECT TO BE DISCUSSED

Each School Will be Represented by Two Teams Who Will Debate On Opposite Sides

The annual triangular debate between Oregon, Washington and Stanford will be held at the three Universities on Friday, March 14

Two teams will represent each school, as follows: Oregon goes to Stanford, Stanford to Washington, and Washington to Oregon. The question for debate is government ownership of railroads.

Oregon will have two other contests before this, one with Montana on March 1, and the other with O. A. C. some time in February. The Montana debate will be here and the O. A. C. debate will take place on O. A. C. territory.

The first tryout will be held on the Friday before Thanksgiving vacation. The team this year will consist of ten men, instead of the previous four, making five teams of two men each

Among the old debaters still on the campus are Bert Lombard, Fred Hardesty, Victor Morris and Peter Crockett.

Trying out are Prentiss Brown, Milton Stoddard, Lamar and Leslie Tooze, Cloyd Dawson, Nicholas Jaureguy, Bernard McFadden and Howard McDonald. The last two named are Freshmen.

In regard to co-ed debating, Bert Prescott says: "If the girls show any interest we will get them a debate. Girls ought to debate because they have equal suffrage. They ought to be able to discuss intellectually and effectively questions of public policy and government. They must take their places along side of the men in public affairs. Women cannot do this unless they learn to speak their thoughts while on their feet."

"Get busy, girls, or else co-ed debating will be definitely dropped."

playing his second year. Phillips is a fourth year man, weighs 190, and is a sure, steady punter. Kipp and Buffington are both old players and both weigh in at about 180. So far Coach Griffiths has been alternating them by quarters with Keane and "Baldy" Johnston. At the ends are Dwald and Dingle.

Dingle is a new man from Coeur d'Alene High School, and Dwald is playing his second year. Both weigh about 160. Garlough has been replacing Dingley at end in some of the quarters of each game this year.

Idaho's strongest point is the backfield. The ends are the weak point. Man for man, Griffiths has nothing on Bezdek's men for weight, in either the backfield or the line. All reports boast of the speed in the backfield halfbacks, and claim that Idaho has a great variety of fast open plays, but she has not used them because of the condition of the fields thus far used.

liott, Thackeray and Dickens, may live in the same age and under the same flag and feel these two forces alike, but each had his own mental endowments, and their individual forces differentiate them and determine their character."

Mrs. Middleton, of the School of Music, opened assembly with a solo. In the announcements of the morning, Dean Straub announced that a picture of the entire Student Body and Faculty would be taken next Wednesday at 10:00 o'clock.

Owing to the plans announced by the the San Francisco Exposition officials of conducting the 1915 inter-scholastic track meet upon a specially constructed oval on the fair grounds, the Big C Society, representing all the athletic enterprises at the University of California, has abandoned the idea of giving the annual meet upon the Berkeley track.

Y. M. SAYS "ALL RIGHT"

Association Bows Gracefully, to Decree Outlawing Financial Aid of Ads. in Handbook

Resolutions endorsing the recent action of the Student Council, which concentrated advertising in the Emerald and Oregon, were adopted at the regular meeting of the Cabinet of the University Y. M. C. A.

While the action of the Council will prevent further solicitation for the Y. M. C. A. Handbook, Charles Koyl, general secretary of the association, says that the handbook will be issued next year as usual. The expense of publication will be paid out of the general budget of the association.

The resolutions, which are addressed to the Student Council, read as follows:

Whereas, the advertising situation at the University of Oregon demands that some measure be taken toward limiting the advertising field;

Whereas, the Student Council of the University of Oregon has passed a resolution recommending merchants to advertise only in the Oregon Emerald and the Oregon;

Therefore, Be it resolved by the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, in regular meeting assembled, that we heartily endorse this action.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO ADDRESS JOURNALISM CLASSES

Elbert Bede, ex-president of the State Editorial Association, George Putnam, of Bend, and S. C. Kellen, of Forest Grove, are among the speakers who will address the journalism classes sooner or later throughout the year.

"I intend to lay special emphasis on the practice of cross questioning in my Freshman journalism class," said Professor Eric Allen. "Last year more time was devoted to the 'covering' of speeches, but this year I shall not try to develop that particular phase until I am sure the Freshmen know how to ask questions."
