- * Right Half ..... Monteith
- * Full ..... Hendricks

By Harry Kuck.

Coach Bezdek is going to pit his reserve force against Willamette tomorrow, in order to allow his regulars to rest up and get into shape for the Washington game on November 14.

But don't think for a minute that his selection won't be a formidable aggregation.

Cossman, at center, has had lots of experience under "Bez" and will hold down his job in good style. Cawley, at guard, is a strong man, and was making a good showing for a regular berth when he received injuries that put him out of the running. Johnson, his running mate, is not a large man, but his lack of weight is balanced by lots of "sand." Powrie and Callison, playing the tackles, are expected to open up large holes in the Methodists' line. Mitchell is a natural end, and Cornwall, although just switched to the extreme post, is a hard man to get away from. He is rather destructive on interference, too. Sharpe will call signals, and although he is not the field general that Cornell is, he can certainly carry the ball. Bigbee, Monteith and Hendricks are counted on to annex most of the score and are all good backs. Monteith has been chosen to do the booting. He has been punting 40 yards consistently.

Coach Bezdek considers the Methodists to be fully 50 per cent better than when they were defeated 64 to 0 by O. A. C. They have made rapid improvement lately and a good game is expected.

At 1:30 o'clock the Sophomores will meet the Freshmen in a preliminary contest. The Freshmen have accepted the "Bull" challenge and expect to secure revenge for the beating handed them by the Sophs in the "mix."

The Sophs figure nothing to it but '17. They beat Eugene High School last night 14 to 0, showing some real class. Captain Nelson and Scaiefe made the touchdowns.

Both teams have been practicing faithfully for about a week and the conglomerative struggle promises to be fully as interesting as in previous years.

Considerable anxiety has been aroused over the possibility that "Tick" Malarkey might not be able to enter the Washington game, but the Irishman is coming around nicely and will be out in a week.

It will take about the same length of time for "Nance" Cornell's knee to right itself. At present he uses a cane to facilitate his pedal progress.

The regulars were so stiff Tuesday night from the effects of the Idaho game that they had to exchange places to get up a sweat. Cornell played center, Risley quarter, Beckett and Philbin halves, and Sam Cook full.

PREPPERS FAIL TO STEM TIDE OF MIGHTY SOPHS.

Eugene High School Submerged 14-0; Captain "Swede" Nelson is Hero of the Hour

By Dewitt Gilbert.

Martin Nelson's Sophomore squad administered a crushing 14-0 defeat to the forces representing Eugene High School yesterday afternoon at Cowpasture Park, somewhere near the outskirts of the city.

Captain Nelson made the first score after a sensational sprint through the entire Eugene team. The Norwegian Albino shook off would-be tacklers with utter abandon as he traversed the entire field unaided. The other touchdown came when Scaiefe fell on the ball that had been fumbled by the High School kicker behind the Eugene goal line.

The Soph linemen with fiendish energy tore ragged gaps in the White and Purple defense, and through these the flying backfield plunged for enormous gains. The ferocious Sophomore herd held the preppers completely at their mercy, never allowing a semblance of a chance to score. Time and again the High School assault was hurled against the impregnable wall only to be thrown back, crushed and broken, by the severity of the impact. The long, elusive spiral punts that Captain Nelson offered proved too much for the preppers to handle. Aside from the open field running of the blonde captain, the line plunging of Bull and the all-around work of Pobst stood out remarkably.

Several near fatalities occurred, among the most serious of which was the injury suffered by Pobst. His jersey was rent limb from limb. Several stitches were necessary before it was of further use to the fighting guard.

160 TO GO TO ALBANY

Will Witness Washington-O. A. C. Game; U. of W. to Send 300 Rooters

It is estimated that about 160 students will go to Albany Saturday to see the Washington-O. A. C. game. The trains will leave here about noon and will go direct to the grounds. They will return immediately after the game, arriving here at 7:00 in the evening. A special rate of $1.30 has been given by the railroad company. The University of Washington has chartered a special train to take its rooters to the game. A round trip fare of $9.80 has been granted them, provided that 175 buy tickets. At the last report over 300 had signed up.

NOTICE

The Sophomore football team will meet that of the Freshmen in mortal combat on Kincaid Field tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock sharp.

DR. MARCOTTE TO SPEAK AT SUNDAY'S VESPER SERVICE

Dr. Henry Marcotte, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Portland, will talk at the University Vesper service next Sunday at 4:30 in Villard Hall.

The following numbers will be given by the Vesper Choir:

- * Crucifix, Faure, duet by Sprague and Gillette.
- * Lord Is My Light, Allitson, solo by Vawter.
- * Hark, Hark, My Soul, Shelley, chorus, solo parts by Misses Brock and Perkins.
- * Savior, When Light Involves the Skies, chorus, solo by Vawter.

CLASSES MEET AFTER POSING FOR PICTURE

SENIORS DECIDE TO STAGE CLASS PLAY; ALL OFFER SUPPORT TO OREGANA

TO REPEAT LOTTERY DANCE

$25 Left in Treasury From the Underclass Mix; Advisors Address Respective Classes

The Senior class will present before the Student Body and the people of Eugene a class play some time during the coming winter. It was so decided at the meeting held in Professor Dunn's room in Deady Hall yesterday morning.

A committee consisting of Maurice Hill, Bert Jerard and Helen Hamilton, was appointed by "Prexy" Dorris as a board of censorship to pass on several plays which will be submitted by well-known playwrights throughout the country. The nature of the play has not yet been decided upon, but the committee has promised something spicy in the way of modern drama.

The lottery dance was also made an order of the day, the class voting to conduct the drawing in open meeting, rather than trusting to the integrity of the dance committee. The question of partners will be decided at the next gathering of the Seniors.

At the close of the meeting "Prexy" Dorris made an earnest plea for football candidates for the Senior team to report regularly for practice.

Sixty-nine out of the 72 members present at the Junior class meeting Wednesday morning have handed in their names as subscribers to the 1915 Oregana.

In his report upon the Underclass Mix, Merlin Batley stated that a surplus of $25.00 would be left in the treasury after all expenses of the Mix were paid.

Professor Allen, recently elected supervisor to the class, gave a short talk, in which he urged the hearty support of the Oregana by every member.

Talks were also made by William Holt, Business Manager of the Oregana, Charles Collier, Class Treasurer, Allen Eaton and Ernie Vosper.

The Sophomore class meeting was addressed by Dr. E. S. Conklin, class adviser, Lamar Toozee urging the support of the Oregana, Ernie Vosper, Varsity Yell Leader, and Allen Eaton, all four of whom talked to the class. Dr. Conklin said that he attaches much value to student activities and for that reason considers that a man should be ashamed of himself who habitually fails to attend class meetings.

The importance of carefulness in the financial affairs of the class was emphasized by Dr. Conklin, who cited the case of last year's Senior class, which was in debt at the time of graduation. "Be economical in your expenditures," was his advice.

Subscription blanks for the Oregana were given out to the class, and everyone was urged to subscribe.

Ernie Vosper spoke about the trip to Corvallis for the Oregon-O. A. C. football game, explaining that the round trip fare would be $1.35, and the admission price 75 cents. He made a plea that all go to the game with their enthusiasm.

Allen Eaton briefly called attention to the fact that the $1,500 exemption bill on the ballot would effect the University if it passed, in that it would reduce the income from the millage bill that goes into effect the first of the year. The exemption bill, Mr. Eaton said, would exempt $150,000.00 worth of property from taxation and

ACCEPTANCE

To the Manager of the Sophomore Football Team, namely Howard Bull:

The Freshman football team of the University of Oregon hereby accepts the challenge of its worthy Sophomore opponents to a game of football to be played Friday, October 30, on Kincaid Field under the aforementioned conditions.

Signed, 1918

SIGMA DELTA CHI INITIATES NEW MEN

FOUR NEOPHYTES RIDE THE GOAT TONIGHT, MAKING 9 ACTIVE MEMBERS

Omicron Local Chapter Is Ninth to be Installed by National Journalistic Fraternity

Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, the Oregon chapter of which is holding an initiation today, was founded at DePauw University, April 17, 1909. The local organization was installed April 10, 1913, as the thirteenth chapter of the fraternity. Earl Onthank, Franklin Allen, Leland Hendricks, Harold Young, Carleton Spencer, Andrew Collier, Sam Michael, Henry Fowler, Fendel S. Waite and Donald B. Rice were the charter members.

The Omicron Chapter as a local was known as the University of Oregon Press Club, and was founded in 1909 by several college newspaper correspondents, who organized for the double purpose of fellowship and mutual instruction in the art of journalism.

Besides undergraduate students, President P. L. Campbell, Professor Eric W. Allen and Professor Colin V. Dymont are honorary members of the organization. In addition to the charter members, the following students have been initiated into Sigma Delta Chi since its organization a year and a half ago: Clarence Ash, now with the Albany Democrat; Earl Blackaby, Jessup Strang, Clarence Brotherton and Tom Boylen. Today's initiates are Fred Dunbar, Wallace Eakin, Leslie Toozee and Lamar Toozee.

The fraternity plans a series of lectures this year by prominent journalists from over the state, and several "mixers" will be held. Last year Sigma Delta Chi entertained all of the men in the Journalism Department at a "mix" at the Kappa Sigma house.

REPORTERS

The Emerald will be issued Saturday morning on account of the O. A. C.-U. of W. game. All copy must be turned in before noon tomorrow.

FOG FACILITATES THE TAKING OF STUDENT BODY PANORAM

Splendid results were obtained in the taking of the picture of the entire University personnel on the campus yesterday morning, according to C. E. Barclay, of Sheridan, the photographer. The slight fog that prevailed furnished conditions that were really better for the purpose than sunlight would have been. The trees in the background are dim, but every face is easily recognizable.

Harold Hamstreet, '17, has taken charge of the distribution of the prints and is now receiving orders. "I expect that the demand will reach fully 700 from the students alone," he said, after his first half hour of taking down names. "In 30 minutes I have sold 45 prints. Many students are ordering more than one, so as to be able to send to their homes or to friends at a distance. The prints, which are 40x8 inches in size, are 50 cents each, and will go through the mail for two cents postage."

335 STUDENTS PROMISE TO GIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS TO 1916 OREGANA

SOLICITOR VISITS CLASS MEETING AND OBTAINS ASSURANCE OF SUPPORT. FRESHMEN HEAD LIST, ALL BUT NINE UPPERCLASSMEN PLEDGE AID

Three hundred and thirty-five students of the University have already definitely expressed their desire to subscribe for the 1916 Oregana.

Yesterday morning, members of the circulation staff of the year book called upon the various classes during the regular class meeting period in order to ascertain the attitude of the Student Body with reference to support for the Oregana. As there were at least 200 students who did not attend the meetings of their respective classes, the result of the canvass does not show the support of the Student Body as a whole.

In point of numbers, the Freshmen, with 113 pledges, lead all other classes. Next in line are the Sophomores, 97 of the 115 at the meeting declaring their intention of subscribing for the book. The Juniors follow next with 70 pledges secured from the 75 who attended class meeting. The number of Seniors signing the cards totaled 55, including all but four who were present at the 1915 convolve.

William P. Holt, manager of the publication, is highly gratified over the results of the canvass.

"The number of students signifying their desire to subscribe for the Oregana was greater than we had expected. The circulation staff will make a thorough canvass immediately after November 1, of all students, including not only those who have signed the pledge cards, but also those who have not had an opportunity to express their desires in the matter.

"There are a number of current expenses to be met, and we are depending upon money from subscriptions to meet them. For this reason it is the earnest desire of the Oregana management that the students make the $1.50 payment at once.

"The reduced rate of $2.50 will continue only until January 1. All students subscribing for the book after that date will be obliged to pay the regular rate of $3.00 per copy.

"It will be of great assistance to us if all students not living in fraternities, dormitories or clubs, will pay their subscription at the Y. M. C. A. Book Exchange," concluded Hyde.

ALUMNI COME THROUGH TO AID WAR VICTIMS

500 Grads Subscribe for Emerald; State Fair Edition Attracts Attention to Alma Mater

Five hundred and more alumni have sent in their subscriptions to the Emerald already this fall, and more are coming in all the time.

"Mr. Earl Kilpatrick, '09, of the University Extension Department, and who is Secretary-Treasurer of the Alumni Association, succeeded in securing a large number of subscriptions from old graduates who called at the University exhibit at the State Fair," said Anthony Jaureguy, business manager. "The fair edition of the Emerald seems to have reached a great many University supporters.

"Recently I have received a number of inquiries from former University people who are in all parts of the world. These old graduates take deep interest in the Emerald in spite of the fact that the news is a month or more old before it reaches them.

"We are striving to make the Emerald one of the best college papers on the Coast this year," continued Mr. Jaureguy. "It contains much more news than most of the other college papers, and the subscription price is only about half that of similar publications."

"When the staff is a little better organized, we will try to get the Emerald out at 5:00 P. M., so that the fraternities and sororities may have it before dinner. I have not been around to get the fraternities' subscriptions yet, but the sororities have subscribed almost to a member. I will try to see every student by the end of next week; so everyone have his dollar ready."

"Incidentally, I have a place on the managing staff for some ambitious Freshman boys who are not afraid of work and who have had some experience either in business or on high school publications."

A golf club with a membership of 270 is the boast of the University of Washington.

Y. W. C. A. Girls Will Have Sewing Bee at the Bungalow Saturday Morning to Help European Women

To make much needed clothing for the women and children among the war sufferers is the purpose of a sewing bee that will be held at the Y. W. Bungalow Saturday morning. The garments, when finished, will be sent to the National Red Cross Society in Chicago, which is sending a relief ship to the war realm.

The women of the Y. W. C. A. Advisory Board have cut out the garments, and all the girls have to do is to sew them up. A box has been placed in the Library for contributions to pay for the material.

"We need all the help we can get," said Miss Gillies. Every girl that possibly can should be at the Bungalow Saturday morning."

TEACHERS MEET HERE

University to Entertain Guests on the Campus During First Three of Christmas Vacation

The campus of the University will be the meeting place for the Teachers' Association of the state during the first three days of Christmas vacation. Those who attend the meeting will be the guests of the University during that time. The two Glee Clubs and other musical organizations of the school will furnish music. Earl Kilpatrick, of the Extension Department, has charge of the high school section program. J. Percy Wells, of Jacksonville, is the President of the Association.

The Lane County Teachers' Institute will meet here at the same time.

Creston Maddock is confined to his room at the Iota Chi house with a serious case of poison oak.
