

AGGIES OUT AFTER WASHINGTON GOAT

Both Camps Maintain Strict Censorship; Old Style Game Is Probable

The first game to be played between the western trio of the Northwestern Conference will be played Saturday at Albany, when "Doc" Stewart, coach of the Oregon Aggies, will attempt to break that long series of unbalanced scores in Dobie's favor.

Six consecutive years Dobie has defeated all comers, and with a veteran team, it is generally conceded that he is the only one that can clear the present dilemma.

Nine of Dobie's men that will play Saturday wear the official "W," and among these we find such men as Miller, Anderson, Noble, Savage and Leader, all tipping the scales between 180 and 200, and all have had their names smeared over the sporting pages of all Northwest dailies.

A strict censorship prevails about both camps with respect to the average weight of the teams, but it is gleaned from various reports that the Washington team will average about 183 and the Aggies' team about 177 pounds. Washington's line averages 182 and the Aggies 181 pounds. The backfields will average about 187 for Washington and 172 for the Aggies.

"Doc" Stewart is putting his men through hard scrimmage under closed gates this week, and aside from a few strained tendons and broken collar bones, his team is ready to meet the Dobie aggregation.

The ground in Albany is in splendid shape and there will be ample accommodation for all comers.

It is conceded by football authorities that this will be an occasion to see a game played after the old style football. The loose, fast playing which has been notable in the West will give away to close, hard fighting.

Everett May, assistant coach of the Oregon Aggies, after seeing Dobie's machine in action at Seattle, said: "We are due for an awful walloping, that's all."

The Oregon rooters are requested by Yell Leader Vosper to take the official train, which will leave the S. P. depot and arrive within two blocks of the grounds, and will return here in due time for all dances.

Bryant and Snyder stationed themselves at end, Weist and Parsons were the tacklers, and Garrett and Bigbee played guard.

They have limbered up since then, however.

Coach Bezdek and the members of the team wish to thank the girls who wired encouragement to Moscow. In discussing this incident, the coach says: "We read the messages just before the game, and believe me that 'our team' stuff goes a long way."

The underclass elevens will line up as follows:

Sophs	Frish
Watkins-Scaife l e r	Tregilgas-Baker
Nickleson l t r	Nail
Sweek-Huston l g r	Johnson-Bills
Merriam-Turner c	Wolff

would thus decrease the income of the University $20,000.00 the first year. Mr. Eaton urged all to vote no against this measure.

On the motion of Henry Howe, it was decided that a committee be appointed to consider the adoption of some kind of distinctive headgear for the Sophomore men.

When Ernest Vosper asked everyone in the room who would go to Corvallis for the Oregon-O. A. C. game to stand, practically the entire Freshman class rose to their feet. "That's the old Oregon spirit," the yell leader said.

After 'serpentineing' to Villard Hall Wednesday morning, the class of 1918 heard the announcement of the Oregon from Leslie Tooze.

Professor Straub cautioned the class not to indulge in the "Alligator Rag" and similar fads when in the dance hall; at home or at the University. "It is not becoming to first class men and women," he said, "and the public are fastly becoming disgusted with it."

After a report from the chairman of the bonfire committee, and after deciding to postpone the passing of the resolution submitted by the Senior class relative to getting the Oregon-Washington game at Eugene next year, the meeting was adjourned.

Hazing has been given up by the students of the University of Missouri. An ultimatum of the faculty was the cause of its discontinuance.

At a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet yesterday afternoon, Lamar Tooze was elected editor for this year's Y. M. C. A. edition of the Emerald.

Tooze was also editor of the issue put out by the association last year.

Heretofore, both the editorial and managerial staffs have been taken over by the Y. M., but this year the only duty that will be taken over is that of writing editorials. The size of the paper will not be enlarged. Last year's edition was published in ten pages.

The edition will be published within the next two weeks.
