THE FOOTBALL SITUATION

No football championship race ever looked prettier at this stage of the season than does the present Northwest Conference scramble.

Saturday's scoreless game at Albany only served to intensify the interest—from an Oregon standpoint, at any rate. No doubt both the Corvallis and Seattle rooters grieved because the result left the issue between the two teams still undecided. However, as matters now stand, each college is still in the running for the bunting, and meanwhile each can bring forward conclusive alibis proving that it deserved to win.

If either team had lost, it would have robbed Oregon's meeting with that team of much of its thrill. As it is, Oregon will face both Washington and O. A. C. with the knowledge that she must win or renounce her ambitions for the championship.

And Oregon must, win, or there will be no champions. Should Washington or O. A. C., or both, trim us, the conference race will end in a hopeless muddle, and there will be no college to receive Willamette's challenge for the championship. So it seems to us highly desirable that the catastrophe be averted by a couple of Oregon victories. We trust our opponents will see it in the same light.

Apparently all three teams are of about equal strength. Stewart's and Dobie's armies bombarded each other for two halves, and neither made any impression on the score board. Oregon defeated Whitman by practically the same margin as did Washington, and the Washington Aggies by exactly the same score as did the Oregon worshippers of Ceres.

This suspense is agonizing. Two more weeks until the 14th.

CAMPUS NOTES

Colin V. Dymont, of the Department of Journalism, returned Sunday evening from Reno, Nevada, where he spent four days as guest of Archer W. Hendrick, the newly elected President of Nevada and an old college friend. Mr. Dymont went to Reno at request of President Hendrick, who found numerous organizational and other problems in the new field, and wished to talk them over with someone whom he knew.

Gamma Phi Beta entertained with a formal Hallowe'en dance Saturday night. Decorations were autumn leaves, cornstalks, and jack o' lanterns. A unique feature of the dance was a "special," during which fireworks sparkled from jack o' lanterns and sparklers outlined a typical Hallowe'en cat. Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. John Graham Mitchell and Mrs. Fuller.

Anne Florence Thrall became the bride of Frederick G. Stickels Tuesday evening, at the Central Presbyterian church, with Rev. William Parsons officiating.

Phi Delta Theta entertained several guests at Sunday dinner.

Clark Thompson, of Portland, was a guest Saturday at the Sigma Nu house.

Sigma Nu entertained Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Paine at dinner on Sunday.

Miss Whittle and Miss More, of the University of California, and Mrs. Parsons, were guests at luncheon at the Kappa Alpha Theta house on Tuesday.

Delta Delta Delta entertained with a formal dance Saturday night. Cornstalks and autumn leaves were the chief motif of decorations.

Mrs. Straub entertained the Beth Rhea house Friday night.

Ruth Peterson is spending the week-end in Sutherlin.

Cora Hosford, Julia Murphy and May Sutherland are guests at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Mrs. J. P. Brown and Lurline Brown were dinner guests at the Delta Tau Delta house Sunday.

Delta Gamma is entertaining with an informal Hallowe'en dance Saturday night.

Ruth Peters, Beatrice Thurston and Edith Merriman are guests at the Delta Gamma house.

Ruth Holmes is spending the week-end at home.

Delta Tau Delta gave an informal dance Friday night in honor of the Chi Omega house.

Madeline Harding, Marguerite Rhose and Gladys Cartwright are spending the week-end at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained with an informal Hallowe'en party Friday night. The color scheme of yellow was carried out by decorations of coreopsis and jack o' lanterns.

Ethel Clark, Florence Hofer, Paula Linn, Carolyn Dick, Genevieve Dickey, Mamie Gillette and Dorothy Dunn are guests of the Gamma Phi Beta house.

Catherine Carson, '14, spent the week-end at the Gamma Phi Beta house.

FORWARD PASSES

By Rex Kay.

The O. A. C. management sent 15 complimentary tickets to the Oregon squad.

Every man on the Oregon team expressed himself as certain of giving Dobie another hard rub.

Dobie, for the first time in six years, failed to win, yet he said: "I am perfectly satisfied."

Lutz, the Aggies' left half, played a sensational game from start to finish. He is quick, tactful and speed itself.

George Varnell thinks Oregon has a good chance to end up mighty near the top of the list.

Until last Saturday, Washington had never played on a clay-mud field; they lay their poor showing a great deal to this fact.

The O. A. C.-Washington game was the only one played in the Northwest conference last Saturday. Each college which has still to meet either team had several scouts on the scene.

Dobie has three full teams out for practice every night; Bezdek has trouble getting enough men for two teams.

About 90 rooters, including the band, followed Washington to Albany. They lacked but ten of having enough to get a special train.

In case Cook is not able to play against Washington, Cossman will probably go in at right tackle, and the general lineup will be changed.

Bill Hayward may dig up his "motion muggers" for the O. A. C. and Washington games. The pictures will be shown at the Rex.

Dobie took his seat on the side lines and not once showed the least excitement or moved from the bench during the game; but he was the first one to congratulate the O. A. C. team.

Oregon is represented in all college sports, with the exception of rowing.

Cornell took issue with the Washington decision about rowing and proved it not injurious. Then Dr. Hall, of Seattle took the same stand, and the sport is now reinstated. The showing of the Washington crew in the East during the past two years has made it one of the best known colleges in the United States.

In spite of heavy rain, the tryout for the distance run was held yesterday. About 15 turned out. Huggins finished first, Bostwick second, the rest, (?). Payne and Nelson were not out.

COMMUNICATION

TO THE STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Beginning Wednesday at noon, the members of the circulation staff of the 1916 Oregon will call at the different fraternity and sorority houses at meal times to secure subscriptions. They will also call on the students who do not live in the various houses as soon as possible. Now it is necessary that we sell at least 600 copies this year, and everyone who possibly can should help to dispose of this number on the campus. At the class meetings last Wednesday many signified their intentions to purchase a book, but there are over 300 students who were not present at these meetings, and they have had no chance to express their wishes on the matter. The members of the staff will be supplied with cards, and everyone who expects to purchase an Oregon will please sign one of these cards. We will then know how we are coming out, and we can figure more accurately as to the number of books that we must publish, and avoid a possible loss through an over supply.

But more important still is the matter of payment for your copy. We need working capital, and need it badly. Small bills have been accumulating against us since last May, and these should be paid at once. Also we expect to pay a large part of the expense of publication through advertising secured outside of Eugene, and we must have money with which to carry on this campaign, for nothing comes in from this source until after the book is off of the press. The price of each copy has been set at the same amount as last year—$3.00 per copy. However, we will make a reduced price to those who pay before January 15, 1916, of $2.50—$1.50 to be paid in advance and the remaining $1.00 to be paid upon delivery of the book. By taking advantage of this offer you will save a few cents for yourself, and help us out greatly. Let me impress upon you the necessity of making the first payment as soon as possible. The amount is small and it can be made without entailing any sacrifices on the large majority of the students, and as you are going to part with so much cash the sooner it is done the better. Thus you will not cause any hardship on yourself by making the first payment early, and you will be doing us a great service. The success of the 1916 Oregon will depend in a large part on the spirit of the students as a whole. For the benefit of the University, we implore you to give us your hearty support. Subscribe for the 1916 Oregon, and make the first payment early.
