IMMENSE RANCH IS HOME OF STUDENT OF EARLY DAYS

Four Corners, Ore., (Special to the Alumni Section)—Mrs. Chas. Beckley, formerly Miss May Stearns, and her husband live on a ranch of 3,000 acres near this place. Mrs. Beckley was a student in the University when the faculty consisted of only three men, President Johnson, Professor Straub and Doctor Condon.

Mrs. Beckley is the daughter of George Stearns, of the banking firm of E. G. Young & Co., of Oakland.

Beatrice Littlefield, '16, is employed in the grades at Milton.

More Than Score of Graduates Have Left Mainland of United States

Twenty-five graduates of the University are at work outside of the mainland of the United States, according to the record in the office of the Secretary.

Morey L. Applegate, '06, is shipping bananas from Mexico for a syndicate. His address is Tempic, Mexico.

Mrs. Julia Hill Atwell, '98, later took a diploma in fine arts from Columbia University and is now to be addressed at the University of Rio Prebrox, Porto Rico.

W. Gilbert Beattie, '01, and his wife, Willa Hanna Beattie, '95, are at home in Juneau, Alaska, where Mr. Beattie is superintendent of schools. He works directly under the United States Bureau of Education.

Mrs. Gaeta Wold Boyer, '01, took her master's degree in the following year. Her address is Westminster Hotel, 240 Jarvis St., Toronto, Canada. Richard Scott Carrick, B. S. in E. E., '13, was last heard from at Hilo, Hawaiian Islands, where he was engaged in the work of a civil engineer. Recent letters addressed to him at that place have been returned unclaimed. Many of Carrick's friends have hazarded the opinion that he has been drawn back to Europe by the news of the war.

Vanda Ruth Coffee, '05, is teaching at Fairbanks, Alaska.

Mrs. Elizabeth Logan Ennis, '02, is a missionary in Darkest Africa. Letters for her have to be addressed to Benguela, West Africa, via Lisbon, and in care of the American Board of Foreign Missions.

Roy Wallace Hammack, '07, took his degree of M. D. from Johns Hopkins University in 1911. He is now a member of the faculty of the University of the Philippines, at Manila. He teaches pathology and bacteriology.

Howard A. Harrold, '09, is a civil engineer in Vancouver, B. C. George Washington Hill, '84, is a missionary at Rokumantai Chi, Tennoji, Osaka, Japan.

William C. Kiltz, '10, is a lumberman in British Columbia. He may be addressed at 1634 Woodland Drive, Vancouver.

Mrs. Adele Jackson Pickel Kramer, '01, is at home in Valdez, Alaska.

Mrs. Helen Washburne Martin should be addressed in care of the Northwest Steel Company at Vancouver, B. C.

Three men beside Hammack who are in the Philippines are Condon C. McCornack, '01, Chas. Herbert VanDuyn, '13, and George White, '11. McCornack has the degree of M. D. from Jefferson Medical College and is captain of the Medical Corps at Manila. VanDuyn is engaged in educational work at Cavite, in the Province of the same name. White is also in educational work. His address is Kabanatuan, Nueva Ecija, P. I.

Louis E. McCoy, '11, is superintendent of a power plant on Nugget Creek, at Treadwell, Alaska.

Arthur Roland Moore, '10, is a civil engineer at Kelowna, British Columbia.

Thos. C. Powell, who is now U. S. Marshal at Nome, Alaska, was graduated from the University of Oregon in 1880. He received the degree M. A. in 1883.

Florence DeBar Stackpole, '06, is at home in Ketchikan, Alaska. Mrs. Stackpole is also a graduate of Wellesley, in the class of 1907. secretary of the Boon Itt Institute for Young Men, at Bangkok, Siam.

Harvey A. Wheeler, '07, M. A. '09, and his wife, Ruth Baldersee Wheeler, '10, are missionaries in Japan. Their address is 12 C. Higashi Yamate, Nagasaki, Japan.

Peter Irving Wold, B. S. '01, is Professor of Physics in Tsing Hua College, at Peking, China.

Raymond V. Thomas, '12, is teacher of Science in the high school at Elko, Nevada. This is a substantial promotion from the place held last year by Mr. Thomas in the high school at Ashland, Oregon.

UNIVERSITY WILL HELP PUT NAMES ON MAP

Do you know any Umpqua Indian words? This question is being asked seriously of pioneers, old Indians and others by the Department of History of the University.

A. F. Kerr, '09, a member of the office force of the Umpqua National Forest, with headquarters at Roseburg, has suggested that the University may render a signal service by furnishing names for natural features of the great forest area which is slowly being mapped and named by the men in the office at Roseburg. S. C. Bartrum, supervisor of the forest, is in hearty accord with Mr. Kerr's suggestion.

In addition to writing letters to pioneers who may know something of the Umpqua dialect, the University and Mr. Kerr are arranging for interviews with a few Indians still living, who may have some recollection of the Umpqua tongue. "Jake," who lives back from the towns of Comstock and Yoncalla in Douglas County, and "Mais Tipton," of Glide, are two Indians of great age who may be able to tell what names the Indians gave to certain important features.

Many of the names applied by hunters and early explorers are far from satisfactory. They had a fondness for naming hills and valleys for the evil spirits, with a result that there are so many "Devil's Knobs" and "Devil's Valleys" that the names result in confusion. Further so, names have been given for the good spirits, and such names as "God's House" and "God's Dog" have found their way onto the map.

Suitable Indian words will probably be substituted for such names as are unsuitable, provided they have not yet found a place on the engraved maps furnished by the Geological Survey at Washington, D. C.

Miss Edith Baker, '11, is teaching history and language in the high school at Weiser, Idaho.
