

BROTHER OF ALUMNUS TEACHES UNIQUE CSCHOOL

Leona, Ore., (Special to the Alumni Section)—A prospective student of the University of Oregon is revolutionizing the educational life of this little place. Robert Earl is the man. Young Earl is the brother of Virgil Earl, '06, former football man and now teacher in Washington High School, of Portland.

Robert Earl had three years of high school work in Portland and completed the course at Cottage Grove last June. He is teaching school to earn money with which to attend the University next year. About the time that school opened the sawmills of the vicinity closed, and many of the young loggers entered the school. Earl found it necessary to prove himself a better man physically than any of his pupils. This he did in the old fashioned way, when necessary.

Later, games were introduced. He is coaching the football team of the Drain High School and is himself a member of a champion basketball team, composed in part of his formerly refractory pupils.

Residents of the vicinity affirm that they have the best school in years.

Mr. Earl is taking correspondence work from the University in order to gain some advance credit.

BEN WILLIAMS JOINS STAFF OF INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Salem, (Special to the Alumni Page)—Ben H. Williams, '10, has begun his work as statistician for the Industrial Accident Commission of the State of Oregon. Mr. Williams secured this position on account of his legal training and as a result of his familiarity with the work of industrial accident insurance. This familiarity he gained as a result of careful study of the problem, beginning with a visit to the office of the statistician at Olympia, Washington, in the summer of 1910. Mr. Williams is living at 715 Center street.

MISS STRACHAN HAS GOOD PLACE IN WALLOWA CO.

Joseph, (Special to Alumni Section)—Miss Lexie Strachan, leading teacher in Joseph High School, is a former student of the University of Oregon. Miss Strachan has spent two semesters at the University besides attendance at summer school.

KOYL'S EMPLOYMENT SCHEME OPPOSED

"lem," Mr. Fisher continued. "The student work would necessarily have to be done in relays. This would mean one piece of work being handled by several inexperienced men. It is plain that the result would not be good. Take, for instance, the work on the campus lawns and gardens; trimming bushes and hedges is no simple task. The man who has that job now has been working at the same thing for several years and has become an expert. The same is true of nearly all of the outside work.

"Again, quite frequently, jobs come up which require the presence of my entire working force at once. It is doubtful if every student worker could be on hand at any time his services might be needed. My men know that if they are not on the job all the time they will be discharged. I say again that I would like to see all the students get work who need it and I will help them whenever I can, but I do not see how Koyl's plan could possibly work."
