

TWO NEW COMMERCE COURSES ANNOUNCED

Municipal Administration Business Administration Advancements Over Former Courses

Professor Don Sowers, of the School of Commerce, announces the formation of two new courses for the coming semester, open only to Juniors and Seniors. Both will be continuations of the lines of study taken up in two of the present courses: Business Administration being an advancement on the present Cost Accounting, and Municipal Finance, on Municipal Administration.

"Next year," said Professor Sowers, "high school bookkeeping will be a prerequisite to registration in the Accounting Principles. There will be a new class in Advanced Accounting, and probably an additional instructor in the department."

"Then, too, we are intending to work out a means whereby students will be able to secure positions in this line of work at least during the summer."

There are at present 100 students enrolled in the Principles of Accounting classes.

CO-EDS TO HOLD RALLY

Women's League to Superintend Manufacture of Pep Tomorrow Afternoon from 4:00 until 6:00

A women's rally, under the management of the Women's League, is expected to bring out every co-ed tomorrow afternoon between 4:00 and 6:00. The purpose is to generate "pep" among the other half of the Student Body, and every woman is expected to attend.

Tomorrow's rally will be a duplication of the men's smoker, minus the smoke, and possibly one or two other features which are common to masculine affairs of this nature. Stunts, refreshments and dancing will be included in the entertainment.

DRIBBLES AND SPIKES

By Rex Kay.

Judging from all the reports sent out from the conference teams, Oregon will be lighter than any of the others by several pounds to the man.

Dobie is now enjoying a little leisure and law practice, with some golf, et cetera, thrown in, but he has 3,000 perfectly good "one-spots" down in his jeans.

The Salem team thought that is was certainly going to beat the University, or it never would have invited Bezek to that basketball party, especially under intercollegiate rules.

Dudley and Brownell are having some race for the center job. At any rate Coach Bezek is not the only one to worry. All conference teams, with the exception of Washington, are crying for centers.

Soccer is considered one of the big sports at many Eastern colleges. The "Columbia Spectator" frequently gives more than one column on the front page to soccer, and in the same issue less than a quarter page to basketball.

Washington State continues to carry on practice games with the "Almira Club," a little sign board and whistle station in the Big Bend country. So far W. S. C. has won every game. They feel that the U. of W. has no cinch on things.

Bill Hayward and Jim Corbett are old friends. When the two met here in Eugene the other day, those who know say that it was hard to tell which showed the most pleasure. But they do know which way the wind was blowing.

"Tony" Savage, center on the U. of W. basketball team, is looked upon as the best student player the University ever had. Tony is coach, manager, trainer, and the mainstay of the team. A recent article in the "Washington Daily" handed him more than this.

We hear that the girls play some really exciting games of basketball. At least, it sounds exciting to one who happens within three or four blocks of the Girls' Gym on a practice night, and that is as much as we ever learn of the work in their athletic department.

President Craighead, of the University of Montana, is in right with his student body. The first time President Craighead addressed the student body after taking his position at the University, he praised her football team and said that to it is due the fact that Montana is now "on the map." And we all agree with him.

The following item, taken from the "Illini," makes the Oregon mill-race stunt of last year look tame:

"I don't feel any the worse, and I did not get many scratches," said Miss Clara Pause, 17-year-old Freshman at the University, after taking a Christmas swim at Wilson Beach, Chicago, in water filled with floating ice."

FROSH, ATTENTION

All candidates for Freshman basketball team report at Gym every afternoon at 3:00 P. M. TOM CAMPBELL, Manager.

DR. KENNETH LATOURETTE TO SPEAK AT VESPER SERVICES

Dr. Kenneth Latourette, a Yale graduate, who for several years was in the Yale Mission in Chancha, China, and is now Professor in the English department of Reed College, in Portland, will speak on "The Influence of Christianity on the Formation of the New China," at the special Vesper service next Sunday.

Dr. Latourette is a cousin of "Sap" Latourette, Oregon football captain in 1911.

This meeting will be open to all. Tuesday evening at 7:00 Dr. Latourette will speak to men only on the "American College Man's Part in the New China." He will be on the campus Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and will hold conferences with all who are interested in foreign mission work.

STUDENTS ATTEND M. E. CHURCH TO HEAR BOYNTON

More than 50 students of the University attended Prof. W. P. Boynton's lecture at the Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. The lecture was given in connection with Prof. A. R. Sweetser's Sunday School class, which is making a study of the "Bible of Nature," which Professor Sweetser asserts does not conflict with the Holy Bible.

Professor Boynton's lecture was on the life and work of Joseph LeConte, scientist and geologist, who up to five years ago was Professor of Geology in the University of California. LeConte was a strong believer in the theory of evolution and was personally acquainted with Professor Condon, formerly of the University of Oregon.

Next Sunday Miss Mary Watson, of the English Department, will give an account of the life and work of John Muir, for whom the Muir glacier in Alaska is named. These lectures are accompanied by stereopticon slides.

TEACHER'S ENGLISH CLASS ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Miss Ida V. Turney's course, "English for Teachers," given through the Extension Department, is attracting attention from the county and city superintendents throughout the state, according to reports from outside. The enrollment, which has increased 75 per cent, includes 11 of the Eugene public school teachers, for whom Miss Turney conducts a local class.

In connection with this class, an experiment in elementary school English is being tried out at the Lincoln School of this city. At the recent meeting of the Northwest Teachers' Association, Principal P. M. Corum, of the Lincoln School, presented an exhibit of English work done under the supervision of Miss Turney.

Results of this experiment are already to be seen. One of her eighth grade pupils has written a little Christmas play for children. The play is considered so good that it is now being published. The teachers, also, according to Miss Turney, are doing very meritorious work.

COMMITTEE ON FRESHMAN DANCE IS AT WORK

Work on the Freshman dance is being started by the committees recently appointed by President Kent Wilson. At a meeting of the general committee Monday afternoon, the situation was talked over and directions were given for the preliminary work.

This preliminary work consists of interesting all the Frosh to a degree productive of suggestions.

The dance will be held on Saturday evening, February 13, just one week after the end of the semester, and will be the first college affair after the examination grind.

Any plans being formed or any suggestions considered are being kept totally secret by those in charge.

HOLT RESIGNS AS HEAD OF Y. M. C. A. FINANCES

William P. Holt, who for the past ten months has been chairman of the finance department of the University Y. M. C. A., tendered his resignation at the weekly meeting of the Association Cabinet yesterday.

Pressure of other work is the reason for Holt's resignation. He is manager of the 1916 Oregon, which he says is now requiring a great deal of his attention.

His successor will be appointed at the next meeting of the Cabinet, Wednesday afternoon.
