AN ALL-UNIVERSITY EVENT

The Weatherford meetings which begin tomorrow evening are your affair. The fact that they are being backed by a committee of more than 50 students, representative of every caste and clan on the campus, inside and outside the Y. M. C. A., places it in a class with any other big student enterprise.

The promoters of the meetings therefore have a right to expect the support of all the students. Apparently they will get it. An interest such as has never before been shown in a movement of this kind is manifest on the campus—and this interest seems to be general.

Unless he has been badly overrated in the other colleges, this speaker has much to say which all of us ought to hear.

BACK TO THREE PER

In the issue of January 16, in which we announced that temporarily the Emerald would appear but twice a week, we promised to go back to the regular tri-weekly schedule after March 15.

Accordingly, with this issue, we resume the old pace, appearing on Thursday instead of Friday.

Financially, we are at peace with the world; while the prospect for a plentitude of live news during the remainder of the college year is enticing.

Our brief respite has convinced us of one fact: that two issues of the Emerald a week are inadequate to cover the news of the campus. During the few weeks of our retrenchment we have been obliged to reject good, legitimate "stories" each issue, and to pare others to jejuneness.

In fact, there is now sufficient news "breaking" at the University of Oregon to warrant a daily as large and readable as those published at institutions many times the size of this. Undoubtedly the Emerald eventually will become a daily, and we predict the change within a briefer space of time than most of its present readers imagine possible. It will come as soon as the University and town become large enough to support the venture financially. The news possibilities are here now—if the Emerald's columns do not at present demonstrate this, it is our fault, and not that of the field.

Meanwhile, we would remind our staff that while we have often been choked with news during the past few weeks, we are likely to starve with this increase in our power of consumption, unless they come to the rescue with more copy. Beware of spring fever.

Have the Emerald sent home.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR JUNIOR WEEKEND

Committees Promise New Ideas for Festivities in Annual Celebration During May

Preparations for Junior Week End have been begun and the committees appointed by Prentiss Brown, President of the class.

The Prom will be slightly different this year, in that the grand march will be shortened so that the dancing may be begun earlier, entanglements reduced and the tiresomeness of the marching eliminated. The feature committee promises a "bear" of a feature dance which can be put on in spite of the crowd.

The two special days set aside for the Week End will be May 19 and 20. Ray Gorman, chairman of the program committee, promises "something new" in programs. The programs will contain a complete schedule of all events taking place and will be sold for ten cents each.

The committees appointed are as follows:

General Prom Committee—Bothwell Avison, chairman; Dean Crowell, William Tuerck, Arvilla Beckwith, Louise Bailey, Marie Churchill, Fred Dunbar.

Feature—Merlin Batley, Kate Stanfield, James Cellars.

Music—Floyd South, Mona Dougherty, Claude Hampton.

Programs—Ray Gorman, Lucile Watson, Bess Cushman, Cloyd Dawson.

Refreshments—Walter Kirk, Margaret Belat, Gertrude Miller, Gavin Dyott.

Decorations—Robert Bean, Roscoe Hurd, Herbert Normandin, Mae Neill, Hermes Wrightson, Harry Kuck, Virginia Peterson.

Reception and Floor—Anson Cornell, Jesse Purdy, Emerson Merrick.
Programs for Junior Week End—Wallace Eakin, Roy Stevens, Max Sommer, Donald Orput.

DR. HODGE WILL LECTURE AT SOUTHERN UNIVERSITIES

"I expect to have the time of my life seeing the exact conditions of the Southern states just when everything is humming," said Dr. C. F. Hodge, head of the Social Biology Department, speaking of his intended trip to the South.

Dr. Hodge is scheduled to give lectures in the summer schools of the following universities: Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, and possibly Oklahoma. His addresses will be on Civic Biology for the Public Schools.

"As soon as I can get examinations out of the way, I will leave. I had intended going by way of San Francisco and San Diego, through the canal to New Orleans, but because of lack of time I will have to take a more direct route. However, on my way back next fall I hope to take the trip through the Panama Canal."

A total of about 800 letters have been sent out to Oregon alumni by Anthony Jaureguy, manager of the 1915 Oregonian, with a view to sales. About 300 were sent yesterday to Oregon Law School alumni. The book sells at $2.00.

Thirty members of the class in Historical Geology made a trip to the Springfield basalt quarry last Saturday morning. The structure, form and probable cause of formation were studied in the field.

Mrs. Mabel H. Parsons talked to about 60 girls at the Y. W. C. A. meeting Tuesday afternoon. She spoke of a growing feeling that the maxim, "turn the other cheek," has been over-emphasized, and that war and Christianity have something in common.

The Junior electrical engineers at the University of Missouri recently established the rule that the one who makes the highest grade in the class on each quiz must treat the rest of the class.

Miss Ruth Guppy was a luncheon guest at Mary Spiller Hall Tuesday.

Clara Witowsk returned Monday from a week-end visit in Drain.

Eight Mary Spiller girls made a trip to the top of Spencer's Butte Saturday. They carried provisions for three meals with them.
