

NAMES OF FACULTY LISTED IN "WHO'S WHO"

Summary of Seven Members Appears in 1914-1915 Edition Now in University Library

Seven members of the University Faculty are listed in the new 1914-1915 "Who's Who in America," which was received by the University a short time ago.

The summary which President P. L. Campbell furnished the "Who's Who" is modestly restricted to the fact that he is a member of the State Text Book Commission.

The most complicated biography of the lot goes to Warren DuPre Smith, geologist. After his name, he is entitled to write the following titles: B. S., M. A., Ph. D., F. R. G. S., A. A. A. S., Mem. G. S. A., and P. S. E. "Who's Who" says Dr. Smith was born in Leipzig, Germany, and it gives his present address as 613 San Marcelino, Manila, P. I.

Dr. F. G. Schmidt was born in Untermergerbein, Bavaria. He is the author of Die Reiser Mundart, Munich, and the editor of eight other German works. The extra "G" stands for "Gottlob."

Professor T. D. Cloran's summary shows that he was connected with nine other institutions of learning before he came to Oregon. He puts himself down as a democrat. He is the author of a philosophical study of "Angier's Anglo-Norman French Translation of the Dialogues of Gregory the Great," and of a 1911 edition of Chateaubriand's "Atala."

A study of the record of Dr. F. G. Young revealed the fact that he has been the Professor of Economics and Sociology at the University of Oregon since 1895. One also learns that he is the author of a book called "Finances of Oregon," and also of "various historical and other articles in historical and other journals."

Apparently the fact that Ellis F. Lawrence is a University professor did not appeal to the compilers of "Who's Who," or else it had escaped their notice. He is listed as a member of the firm of Ellis F. Lawrence and William G. Holford, associate architects, of Portland. Among other associations, he is given as a member of A. I. A., the Oregon chapter of which he was President in 1912.

"CIVIC BIOLOGY," BY DR. HODGE AND CO-WORKER IS ON PRESS

"Civic Biology," a high school text, written by Dr. Clifton Fremont Hodge in collaboration with Dr. Jean Dawson, of the Cleveland High School, is now on the press. The object of this book is to supplement "Nature Study and Life," a text for the grades, written by Dr. Hodge, and is to prepare for the college text, "Dynamic Biology," which will be written in the near future.

The volume will contain from 400 to 500 pages, with several hundred illustrations from original sources. The house fly has one chapter to himself. Other subjects treated are: birds, forestry, plants, landscape gardening, home planting, and phases of agriculture.

RECOMMENDATIONS PREPARED FOR MEETING OF REGENTS

The committee of the Board of Regents, who met Friday, March 19, have prepared recommendations to submit at the special meeting of the Board, which will be held here April 10. This committee decided not to publish the recommendations until after they have been acted upon by the Board as a whole.

"Some statements which have appeared in the current press are unofficial and to some extent inaccurate," said President P. L. Campbell today.

OREGON LIBRARY NOW HAS 53,800 VOLUMES

Students Are Reading More; Many Books Sent Out Over State

The University of Oregon Library now ranks second in size of all college libraries in the Northwest. The University of Washington ranks first.

At present the Oregon library numbers 53,800 volumes, and an addition of 400 to 800 is made each year. There are of this number 470 books unaccountably missing.

Oregon students are said to be using the campus library much more this year than ever before.

Max Sommer is still at the head of the list of readers, reading more on his own initiative than any other student in college. Lawrence Dinneen is a close second. Many books are sent to people over the state. So far this year 1,443 books have been distributed by mail.

Lists of books have been prepared by the Librarians and sent out over the state. Special lists have been made on such subjects as child study, and outlined reading for doctors and ministers. Upon request the Librarians will prepare a list of books on any subject.

BEZDEK HAS NOT YET PICKED THE REGULARS

This shift leaves only one place, an outfield, for which there is not one candidate who stands head-high over the rest.

Coach Bezdek emphatically claims to be at a loss to know who the fortunate man will be. There are several out for it, and there are some regular ones in the list, but it is fast company they are trying to travel with, and, to use the coach's words, "the man who finds a home in that field has got to be a real ball player with college speed."

Captain Welch, "Bill" Tuerck and Johnnie Beckett are the pitchers unless some of the others uncover some new ones. There are men out for places on the pitching staff whom the coach says are "comers," but lacking in experience and strength as they line up now. They are being watched and coached along, and, sooner or later, may be developed into real "slab kings."

There is a possible chance that McMinnville may be brought here for a game this coming Saturday. Manager Tiffany said last night that he is in communication with them, but so far has no satisfaction as to what they will do.

Every other date is filled. The Colored Giants are on schedule for March 30; Chemawa, in Eugene, April 3; and then the team will leave on the vacation trip, meeting Salem High School, Willamette, Chemawa, Mt. Angel College, Pacific University, and then the University of Washington.

Coach Bezdek is planning on making these preliminary games count a good deal for the team, as this will be the last of the early training and the last lick to put the men into conference shape.

MARSH GOODWIN OPERATED ON FOR APPENDICITIS SUNDAY

Marsh Goodwin, a Senior majoring in the Law Department, was operated upon for appendicitis at the Mercy Hospital Sunday night. The operation is reported as having been successful and Goodwin will be able to resume his college work in a few days.

Goodwin first became ill Friday evening, and his condition became so bad that he was taken to the hospital, where it was decided that an operation was necessary.

Goodwin was manager of the Emerald last year.

Y. M. C. A. SECURES $1,800 IN WORK FOR MEN STUDENTS

Eighteen hundred dollars has been earned by men students of the University this year through the Y. M. C. A. Employment Bureau, according to Charles W. Koyl, General Secretary. The total for the whole year, Mr. Koyl thinks, will be greater than in past years. Last year $2,378 was earned. One hundred and ninety-six jobs have been given out this year to date, as compared with 155 during the whole of last year.

"Koyl's bureau is doing magnificent work," says Dr. John Straub. "It is helping to keep many men in school. Work is scarce just now. In the 37 years I have been connected with the University there has not been a year that was so hard for self-supporting students."

"But I am looking for better conditions after the April vacation. Building and gardening will open up then, and conditions ought to be better."

The Y. M. C. A. bureau keeps on the lookout for jobs, advertises for them in the local papers, and gets some work unsolicited. Yesterday, Mr. Koyl says, was the first time this year that he had jobs waiting. Four gardeners were wanted.

SIX HIGH SCHOOLS REMAIN IN INTER-SCHOLASTIC DEBATE

Six high schools now remain in the Oregon High School Debating League, and this number will be reduced to four by the first of the week. Pendleton is to meet Enterprise Saturday, March 27, and Medford will meet Bandon, Monday, April 29, possibly on the University campus. Thus far, Prineville has beaten Astoria and Salem has beaten Albany.

The four high schools which shall be the winners after the coming debates, are to meet in semi-finals soon, and the winners of this contest will debate at the University during Junior Week-End, on the night of May 8.

Four professors were recently asked to resign at the University of Utah, because they were not members of the Mormon church. The student body held a protest meeting, but without results.

The students of Cornell University recently have pledged $4,200 to the Christian Association.

Because the training rules were broken by a number of players on the University of Colorado football team, the right to receive and wear Varsity insignia was denied to seven of the first string men and to all but four of the second team.

Y. W. ADVISORY BOARD FETES CABINET AND HONOR GUESTS

The Y. W. C. A. Advisory Board entertained at the Bungalow yesterday at 12:00 o'clock with a "white and gold" luncheon for the Cabinet and special guests. The honor guests were Miss Ruth Guppy, Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Miss Elizabeth Fox, Miss Leslie Blanchard and Miss Mary Watson. Covers were laid for 22.

PROFESSOR DESCRIBES LIFE IN THE AGE OF REPTILES

Prof. W. D. Smith, head of the Department of Geology, gave an illustrated lecture on "The Vertebrate Animals" before his class in "Historical Geology" yesterday. "If we lived in the Jurassic Age," the professor said, "we would have 80 and 90 foot reptiles walking around us. The skeleton of a dinosaur, 104 feet from nose tip to tail was found the other day."

EASTERN CLASSICAL SOCIETY ASKS FOR DUNN'S PAPER

Permission to read a paper on "Byways in Caesarian Bibliography" at the annual meeting of the Classical Association of the Atlantic States, to be held at Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pa., May 7 and 8, has been asked of Prof. F. S. Dunn, of the Department of Latin, author of the paper.

The request comes from Mr. Chas. Knapp, Secretary-Treasurer of the Association. Mr. Knapp explains that the great war in Europe has made it worth while to study the life of Julius Caesar and that in this connection it is desired to read Professor Dunn's paper.
