SAVE THE FURNITURE

The present year is witnessing a revival of sculpture at this institution. If you are skeptical, inspect the chair-arms and desks in almost any classroom.

From the prevalence of Greek characters, the observer might imagine that he had discovered some inscriptions of the ancients. According to the best authority, however, the furniture was planed, re-varnished, and rendered immaculate during the summer of 1914 A. D., so that the work has all been done by students during the past six months—and not by primary children, but by college students at that.

Carving one's initials, fraternity letters, or other designs on any available wooden surface—except that of one's head—may be a refreshing diversion from an arid lecture, but generally speaking, it does not improve the appearance of the furniture, nor does it cultivate a respect for property. Neither does it interest the average warmer of a chair to learn that Bill Jones of the Heava Sigh fraternity had previously reclined in the same chair, and furthermore, that Bill had thought it a "h—l of a class," and had duly recorded his sentiment in bas-relief.

It is interesting, in comparing the amount of decoration in the various class-rooms, to note that where the most soporific sessions are held the pen-knife has been plied most assiduously. To put it inversely, the interest of a professor's discourse can be measured by the degree of mutilation of the furniture.

But if we must find relief in this manner, let us use scratch paper for the purpose. The University buildings and fixtures are not so ravishingly beautiful that they need toning down. Besides, there is the old saw about fools' names, like their faces.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

NOTICE TO FAIR GUIDES

On account of the illness of Marsh Goodwin, Mr. Robert Prosser has been chosen to take Mr. Goodwin's place. This leaves a vacancy for the position as guide on May 1. If any guides who have already been chosen would rather go on this date than the date assigned them, please notify the President's office before April 3. If no one desires to take advantage of this date, an alternate will be chosen.

W. M. SMITH,
Secretary to the President.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

Members of the Senior class must hand in their summaries to the Oregonian by Monday noon at the latest. All those who fail to do so must rely upon the staff for their epitaphs. This is a threat, not a promise.

The following notice has been posted by the Administration: "The attention of the Student Body is called to the University regulation forbidding the shooting of the rapids at the head of the mill race. This regulation was the result of a series of accidents several years ago, culminating in the death of one student. It is meant for your protection."
P. L. CAMPBELL,
"President."

Examinations for incompletes and conditions will be held May 31 and June 1 of this semester. Conditions may also be made up at the regular examination time.

The 1915-1916 catalogue will be ready for publication about May 1. Nearly all the material is now in the hands of the State Printer, who is doing the work. Five thousand copies will be turned out.

The Southern Pacific Company will run a special train to Portland for the accommodation of students going home for the spring vacation. The special will leave on April 9 at about 1:00 o'clock P. M., returning Sunday evening, April 18.

The Oregon Electric also will arrange to accommodate those who leave on April 9 at about 1:00 regular 1:50 train.

A special will be run for students leaving Portland on April 19.

Both railroads will offer reduced round trip rates between Eugene and Portland.

GRADES SENT TO PARENTS AND PRINCIPALS OF HIGH SCHOOLS

At the end of each semester grades of each student are sent to his parents and to the principal of the high school from which he graduated. The idea of the plan of sending the grades to the principal of the high is that deficiencies in the high school course may be noted and improvements made if necessary. Registrar Tiffany said: "These grades are sent out twice a year. It is not the intention of the principals of the high schools to print in the town papers the results of the students' in college, but the grades are sent with the understanding that the principal will use the information in increasing the efficiency of the course in the high school."

Francis Sayre, son-in-law of President Wilson, has told a special committee of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin that he would not accept the position of business manager of the University.

All political and religious organization are now abolished from the University of Minnesota.
