

MERCHANTS MUST WORK ON CO-OPERATIVE BASIS

Professor Dubach, Political Economist at O. A. C., Lectures Before Class in Industry and Professor Dubach, head of the Political Economy Department at the O. A. C., proposed a plan before the class in Industry and Commerce Thursday afternoon, whereby constant contention between merchants of the various towns and cities would be eliminated.

"The age has come when the merchants must co-operate or go out of business. These two sins of selfishness and ignorance have caused more bankruptcies in the past few years than all other causes put together," said Professor Dubach.

Professor Dubach projected five ways in which merchants can co-operate and carry on a more profitable business. These remedies he enumerated along the following lines: Delivery of goods; credit basis; advertising; co-operative buying; co-operative marketing.

The mail order house is getting to be a strong factor which the common town merchant must consider. Professor Dubach thinks the co-operation of the merchants along the above lines will overcome the mail order evil.

CARTOON IS DONATION

Journalism Department Will Receive Framed Drawing by Hearst Cartoonist

Mrs. T. W. Davenport, of Los Angeles, mother of the late Homer Davenport, the famous cartoonist of the Hearst newspapers, has written to Prof. E. W. Allen, saying that she is sending, as a donation to the Department of Journalism, the framed original drawing of Homer Davenport's cartoon, "The World Wide Struggle for Money."

Homer Davenport was a native of Oregon, and Mrs. Davenport is having the picture sent from the old home, Silverton.

"My son loved Oregon and its people," writes Mrs. Davenport, "and in complying with your request we would be but fulfilling his wish."

The letter closes with good wishes for the future of the University of Oregon.

GRANTS PASS CLUB WRITES; PRAISES EXTENSION WORK

That the people over the state really appreciate and profit by the work of the Extension Department is partially shown by the following letter from Mrs. J. P. Johnson, Secretary of the Social Economy Club of Grants Pass, Oregon, which was received by Miss Mozelle Hair, Secretary of the Extension Department, a few days ago. University Extension Department, Eugene, Oregon.

Dear Friends:

At a late meeting of our Social Economy Club, under whose auspices Dr. Rebec came to our city and spoke to us, it was unanimously voted to extend our most hearty thanks to your department, and particularly to Dr. Rebec, for his most excellent address. His discussion was enjoyed by practically who heard him, and a large number were enthusiastic in their praises. We consider Dr. Rebec a very fine speaker and a most capable teacher. We hope to have him with us again at the first opportunity.

We wish Dr. Rebec to be made acquainted with the contents of this letter, and would very much appreciate it if the same could be published in "The Emerald," the college paper. We want everyone to know how we enjoyed his address.

Very truly yours,
MRS. J. P. JOHNSON,
Secretary of Club.

WAR CAUSES PROF DYMENT'S ALMA MATER TO CLOSE EARLY

The University of Toronto, Prof. C. V. Dymont's Alma Mater, will close three weeks early on account of the war. Two months ago, there were 1,200 University recruits drilling. The University is equipping a field hospital in France, with 1,040 beds.

TRIPLE B MAY START SOCIAL SERVICE WORK

Sophomore Woman's Society Is Established As Permanent Class Organization

Triple B organized into a permanent Sophomore society at a meeting held last Wednesday night at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

"It is our plan to have a permanent organization, so that we can hand the society down to the Triple A's when they become Sophomores," said Echo Zahl, President of Triple B.

It was also decided that this society should pay one dollar a semester towards the Woman's League fund, together with the other woman's organizations on the campus.

A special meeting has been called for the first part of next week at the home of Mrs. P. L. Campbell, for the purpose of starting social service work.

"We have found three families in Eugene who are in immediate need of clothing," said Miss Zahl. "In each of these families there are children ranging from one to six years of age, three of whom are cripples."

"After finishing with these families the society intends to find others and continue with this kind of work."

An honor system very much like the one already in use at Princeton has been adopted at Penn State. Students detected in cribbing will be suspended for one year for the first offense, and for a second offense will be dropped from the college.

Baseball has finally been recognized as an outdoor sport at Wellesley College, after a three years' fight. The present plan is to form a league when spring starts in, and it is possible that the winning team may meet a nine from Radcliffe.

Fraternity men at the U. of Minnesota plan to introduce an interfraternity bridge tournament. To put mental attainment on an equal basis with physical attainment is the motive of this novel idea.

Illinois' first co-ed has been rediscovered. Forty-five years ago next fall will be the anniversary of her entrance in the University of Illinois, and when a letter was sent out by Dr. V. V. Phelps, of the University Directory, asking for letters from all the alumni, Mrs. Ella Baker Willard, of Los Angeles, California, replied.

The Massachusetts State Legislature has authorized the Board of Education to investigate the advisability of founding a state university. Harvard considers this an unnecessary extravagance and advises the establishment of state scholarships instead.

PLAY CAST ANNOUNCED

"Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" Scenery Designed by Ellis F. Lawrence; Seats for All Assured

What promises to be the most spectacular out of door production ever attempted by the University will be the performance of Moliere's five act comedy, "Le Bourgeois Gentilhomme" (The Shopkeeper Turned Gentleman) to be presented on the north slope of the Butte natural amphitheater on the night of June 14, during the Commencement week.

Three thousand people witnessed the performance of King Lear last year on Kincaid Field, and many were turned away, due to lack of seating capacity. This matter will offer no difficulty this year, as there is room enough to seat 10,000 people within hearing distance.

With the introduction of singing and dancing, which is a noticeable feature of all Moliere's plays, a touch of pageantry will be added. The general effect will be a riot of color, designed by Professor Ellis F. Lawrence.

The cast is as follows:
A Music Master—Alexander Bowen.

A Dancing Master—Carl Naylor.
First Singer—Homer Kellems.
Second Singer—
Third Singer—Gladys Colwell.
First Dancer—Martha Beer.
Second Dancer—Luelle Hurd.
Third Dancer—Helen Driscoll.
Fourth Dancer—Theresa Cox.
Fifth Dancer—Helen Purington.
Sixth Dancer—Ruth McLean.
First Lackey—Richard Nelson.
Second Lackey—Ben Fleischman.
Monsieur Jourdain—Prof. A. F. Reddie.

A Fencing Master—A. Smith.
A Professor of Philosophy—Mandell Weiss.

A Master Tailor—Sophus Winther.
An Assistant Tailor—Eyla Walker.
Nicole, a serving maid of Jourdain—Joe Moorhead.

Madame Jourdain—Beulah Stebno.
Dorante, a count in love with Dorimene—Ernest Watkins.

Cleonte, in love with Lucile—Frederick Hardesty.
Covielle, a servant of Cleonte—Ralph Ash.

Lucile, daughter of Jourdain—Nellie Cox.
Dorimene, a marchioness—Helen Hamilton.

Dancers, as cooks—Mina Ferguson, Homer Kellems, Marian Tuttle, Echo Zahl.

Dancers, as Turks—Elta Aikens, Mina Ferguson, Homer Kellems, Helen McLean, Marjorie McGuire, Helen Purington, Marian Tuttle, Eyla Walker, Echo Zahl and A. Miller.

Northwestern College Freshmen are still permitted to cover their heads according to their own individual tastes, but the student council has recently written to some of the other colleges to make inquiries into the advisability of instituting a Freshman cap rule. Green skull caps will probably be prescribed.

Mike Dorizas, Penn's all-round star, feels sure that he will do better than 45 feet in the shot put this season.

John L. Phillips, the stellar star javelinist of the University of Idaho, smashed the collegiate record at the University of Pennsylvania carnival of relay races and field sports, when he hurled the ancient Greek weapon 177 feet 4 1/2 inches. The former record toss was held by Dorizas, a Pennsylvania man, but his best mark was nearly eight feet shorter. Nourse, a former Idaho man, now at Princeton, broke the old record a few minutes earlier with a throw of 176 feet, but a son of his alma mater crabbled the works, giving him second place in the event.

Six hundred and seven graduates of Williams College attended the annual reunion recently given in New York.
