

DEAN STRAUB HAS BIG SUCCESS ON TRIP

High School Students Accompany Representative of Oregon While He Talks About the "U"

"A big success" is the phrase with which Dr. John Straub characterizes his trip to Eastern Oregon last week. As a result of the Extension lectures he has been invited to deliver commencement addresses at Drain, Woodburn and Sutherlin. The address at Sutherlin will have to be cancelled, however, for it comes on the same night as the commencement of the Drain '15 class, which he promised first.

Many personal touches that displayed interest in the University and its agents were experienced by the Dean. At Drain he addressed the high school between 9:00 and 10:00 A. M. and talked a half hour with the members of the Senior class. He then had to go to Yoncalla to deliver an address between 2:00 and 3:00 that afternoon, and as there were no trains he had to walk. Dr. Straub had just got out of the building when the superintendent called him back and asked:

"Would you like to have the boys walk over with you?"

So with the boys, and girls, who followed later, the Dean set out to Yoncalla, walking a mile with four or five of the students at a time, telling them about the University. Yoncalla is six miles from Drain. Arriving at Yoncalla the crowd picnicked in the basement of the high school. Dr. Straub delivered an address at 2:00 before the two student bodies. The students of both high schools then accompanied the veteran "Oregonian" to the train, where he departed for the next lecture stop.

At Wasco, after Dr. Straub's address, the double quartette of the high school got up and sang, "There's a pretty little village."

FRATERNITY MEET IS BILLED FOR SATURDAY

the participation of men who were conceded to be of Varsity caliber," said Millar McGilchrist after the meeting last night.

Even as early in the track season as yesterday, a number of cinder path artists were out dusting their spikes for the final workouts of the D. V. nut season. Many of the men tried to go through the whole P. N. A. order of events, looking for a stunt in which they might excel. Others were developing a little speed, or form, or perspiration, or buck shins or "Cholly hosses."

Tommy Boylen, Gene Good and Dobie Garrett have appointed the following officials:

Referee—Ed. Shockley.
Clerk of Course—Gene Good.
Announcer—Dobie Garrett.

"IN THE OREGON COUNTRY" BY PUTNAM, AT BOOK STANDS

George Palmer Putnam's last book, "In the Oregon Country," is now on sale at J. K. Gill's, in Portland. It contains an introduction written by Governor James Withycombe.

Mr. Putnam, formerly editor of the Bend Bulletin, and now Secretary to the Governor, visited on the campus and spoke at assembly last November.

New bleachers constructed of steel and planning to seat 7,000 spectators are being constructed on Soldiers Field at Harvard. An arched entrance is also being built back of home plate. This will not interfere with the early season games and will be ready for use in the Princeton game on June 5.

For the first time in the history of the chapter, juniors were elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Princeton. Six of the third year men were so honored.

Y. M. TO SEND 15 MEN

Conference to be Held at Seabeck, Washington; Lectures and Sports on Program

The University of Oregon will be represented at the Pacific Northwest Student Conference, at Seabeck, Washington, June 11 to 20, by probably fifteen men. Six have signed up for the trip and eight others are sure of going.

Seabeck is a little resort on the shore of Puget Sound, a few hours by boat from Seattle. The sound offers facilities for swimming and boating and the broad beach will be the scene of athletic contests.

The expense of the trip, including railroad and boat fare, board for nine days and the fee for the conference, will be $25.75.

Each morning and evening will be devoted to attending lectures and addresses. Among the speakers are Dr. John H. Boyd, of Portland, Prof. Norman H. F. Cole, Reed College, and Prese. M. A. Brannon, University of Idaho. The afternoons will be devoted largely to swimming, canoeing, tennis, indoor and outdoor baseball, volley ball, hikes and track meets.

In past years Oregon has sent from five to thirteen men to the summer conference. Last year there were only five.

ICE CREAM TO BE SOLD

Y. M. to Resume Custom of Selling "Bricks" as Long as Wrappers Are Kept Off Campus

Beginning the first of next week, the Y. M. C. A. will resume its hot weather custom of selling ice cream bricks. The profits from the sales will probably be added to the missionary fund of $1000 which was pledged to the support of Jim Lyman, a former Oregon student, now working in Turkey as a missionary.

"We will continue the sale of the ice cream just as long as the wrappers are kept off the campus," said Charles Koyl, who has charge of all the Y. M. C. A. sales of edibles. "We cannot afford at this time of year, with the prospect of a large number of visitors, to allow the campus to be all littered up with papers. The ice cream was in demand last year by the students, and if they want it this year they must keep the wrappers off the campus. In this connection I believe it might be a good plan to place a few small, neat paper receptacles, painted green, about the campus or on the trees for the wrappers."

EXTENSION WORKERS AID PORTLAND FLY SWATTERS

Material is being furnished by Dr. C. F. Hodge and Earl Kilpatrick, of the Extension Department, to the city Board of Health in Portland to help the board in its anti-fly campaign. The campaign has reached such proportions that it has been arranged to distribute 20,000 traps. School children are taking part. The new Chamber of Commerce is said to be in sympathy with the movement.

CHURCH'S DESIGN FOR SETTING OF PLAY CHOSEN BY GUILD

From among ten unsigned drawings recently submitted by the class in Architecture for the outdoor setting of the commencement play, "The Shopkeeper Turned Gentleman," the one by Walter Church was selected by the Drama Guild committee. The design, however, must be considered by Prof. Ellis F. Lawrence, head of the Department of Architecture, before it is finally accepted.

A strict guard system as recommended by the faculty and student committee until such a time as the students shall, of their own volition, adopt an honor system, has been unanimously endorsed by the faculty of the University of Washington.

Ralph Young, for three years full-back for the Washington and Jefferson eleven, has signed to coach Depauw University.

Journalism Department Receives Copies of Old Papers Held Very Precious by Donor

Copies of "The Christian Union" and "The Union Signal," dating from 1875, have been sent by the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Creswell to the Department of Journalism for preservation in the Journalism museum.

"You will see that we feel that we are entrusting to you some very precious relics," writes Mrs. E. M. Thompson, the Corresponding Secretary.

"The papers were the property of Mrs. Louise Howe Johnson, who was a subscriber. She mentioned especially The Christian Union, to which she subscribed for nearly 30 years, saying, 'It was my church and all the religious food for my soul, except my Bible, which I would have for months at a time. The Union Signal has been my weekly visitor ever since it was published.'

"Mrs. Johnson is the mother of L. H. Johnson, Steward at U. of O., and a charter member of our W. C. T. U."

NOMINATIONS ARE MADE FOR NEXT YEAR'S STUDENT OFFICERS

C. A. Cabinet, and that he is also a member of the Student Council.

That Max Sommer has proved himself the man best qualified for the editorship, was the contention of Lee Hendricks. "I do not come here as editor of the Emerald to try to dictate who shall be my successor," declared Hendricks, "but only as one who has been in a position to know what the various candidates have done to deserve the job." Hendricks said he could not name a long list of societies of which his candidate was a member, or offices which he had held, because he was neither a "chronic joiner" nor an "office seeker." Instead, the speaker pointed to Sommer's high record in scholarship during the past three years, and to his work as managing editor of the Emerald. "In considering the qualifications of a candidate for this position, we don't care how he parts his hair or whether he dances the Lulu-Fado," was one of the speaker's statements. "We want a man who will go down into the shop, roll up his sleeves to the shoulders, wallow in the grime and ink, wrestle with the printers, and put out a paper three times a week which shall represent the best brains and sentiment and pep in the Student Body."

Hendricks emphasized that if his candidate were elected, the Student Body should have a paper which reflected their sentiment, and not that of the faculty.

The only nominee for the office of Vice President was Harry Kuck, of The Dalles, whose name was introduced by Bert Jerard. The latter told of Kuck's work as sporting editor of the Emerald, as a member of the basketball squad for three years, and as a member of the Inter-Fraternity Athletic Association for two years.

Eva Brock, Marie Churchill and Louise Bailey were nominated for the position of Secretary of the Student Body by Rex Kay, C. C. Baker and Anthony Jaureguy, each of whom explained why, in his opinion, his candidate had proved her fitness for the place.

Wallace Eakin and Fred Dunbar were nominated by James Donald and Marsh Goodwin as members of the Executive Committee of the Student Body.

For member of the Athletic Council, Anson Cornell, Lyle Bigbee, Sam Cook and Bill Tuerck were, in succession, nominated by Victor Morris, Prentiss Brown, Dean Crowell and Marsh Goodwin.

Three Senior members for the Student Council are to be elected, and the nominees for these positions were Bothwell Avison, Don Orput and Cleveland Simpkins, who were lauded in turn by Earl Blackaby, Boyce Fenton and James Donald.

The names of Genevieve Shaver and Arvilla Beckwith were presented for Senior members of the Student Council by Marsh Goodwin and Lee Hendricks, and that of Mildred Broughton for Junior woman member of the same body by James Donald.

Fred Kiddle was nominated by Sam Michael as a Junior member of the Student Council.
