

JUNIORS WILL START REVELRY WITH PARADE

PROCESSION WILL LAUNCH FESTIVITIES AT 2:30 P. M. WEDNESDAY

PROGRAM IS NOW COMPLETE

Classes to be Dismissed Thursday Afternoon; Unparalleled Entertainment Promised

- * Wednesday—
- * 2:30 P. M.—Parade starts from campus.
- * 3:30 P. M.—Baseball; Oregon vs. Washington, Kincaid Field.
- * Thursday—
- * 2:30 P. M.—Baseball; Oregon vs. Washington, Kincaid Field.
- * 4:00 P. M.—Water Fete, mill-race.
- * Friday—
- * 8:00 A. M. to 12:00 M.—Work on campus by men.
- * 12:00 M.—Lunch on campus, prepared by Women's Leagues.
- * 2:30 P. M.—Track Meet; Oregon vs. Washington.
- * 8:00 P. M.—"Jeanette's Way," Eugene Theater.
- * Saturday—
- * 9:00 A. M.—Preliminaries interscholastic track meet.
- * 2:30 P. M.—Interscholastic track meet.
- * 8:00 P. M.—Junior Prom, in Gymnasium.
- * Sunday—
- * Special services for students at all churches, 11:00 A. M.

The final plans are now moulding into form and Junior Week-End for the year 1915 promises to be a success, according to the Junior committees, who have the matter in charge. Classes will be formally dismissed Thursday at noon.

At 2:30 Wednesday afternoon the Week-End activities will be officially launched by the beginning of the parade, made up of automobiles carrying the notable personages for the four days' entertainment. The features of the parade will be the floats and automobiles carrying the Oregon and Washington baseball teams, who will play later in the afternoon. The procession will be made up on the campus in two divisions, and proceed to Willamette, thence to the Oregon Electric depot, back to Eleventh street and then to Kincaid Field. The first division will consist of autos, followed by the Senior men, wearing white flannel trousers and white shirts; the Junior men with white flannel trousers and blue coats; the Sophomores in original uniforms; and the Freshmen with their green caps and civilian clothes.

At 3:30 P. M. Oregon and Washington will cross bats. Thursday at 2:30 P. M. the second game between Oregon and Washington will be played. At 9:00 P. M., on the mill-race, the original water fete, under the direction of Don Orput, will be staged. The cup to be given to the winning canoe is now on display in the library.

The second division will consist of features, "take-offs" on the track meet, the ball games, the Junior Prom and University Day, besides the characterization of "movie," local and campus characters, in fact, as Marshal Gavin stated in this "a bunch of funny stuff." It is in this part of the parade that the voluntary co-operation of the student is urged by Chairman Simpkins, who requests that any student or students who will undertake any of these features, excepting the Junior Prom, which has already been provided for, will call him up about it.

The entire parade will be generously sprinkled with posters of the

(Continued on page 3.)

AVISON TO SIGN UP PREPPERS FOR FUTURE MISSIONARY WORK

Registration Booth to be Conducted for Week-End Guests in Y. M. C. A. Headquarters

A registration bureau, which will enable the University to keep tab on the preppers who will be here Junior Week-End, is the project of "Botts" Avison, chairman of the Junior Prom committee.

Heretofore visitors have been allowed to come and go without having left any address or other clue by which they could be located later. With Avison's system, the University will be able to keep in touch with likely candidates for a certificate of admission, and to ship them literature from time to time.

A book will be kept in the Y. M. C. A. office in Deady basement Friday and Saturday of Junior Week-End, in which each prepper will be expected to inscribe his name, address, year in high school, and his preference among college. As a bait to entice the guileless ones into Koyl's lair, they will be given complimentary tickets to the Prom.

This will be the only way "dead-heads" to the dance can be obtained by the preppers. Avison urges all members of the houses and other students to see that their guests report for registration.

JOURNALISTS MEET AT OREGON MAY 21 AND 22

A Dozen Technical Topics Will be Discussed and Neophytes Will be Initiated into Sigma Delta Chi

Attendance at the Northwest Conference of Teachers of Journalism, which will be held on the campus May 21 and 22, and which is to be a round table of about a dozen technical Journalism topics, will be larger than at first expected, according to Prof. C. V. Dymont, of the Journalism Department, who, with Prof. E. W. Allen, head of the department, and the other members of the University School of Journalism, will be hosts to the visitors.

"In addition to A. L. Stone and Carl Getz, member of the faculty of the University of Montana School of Journalism, and Messrs. Kennedy, Agnew, and possible Kane, of the University of Washington School of Journalism, there will probably also be at the Saturday session several Portland newspapermen, who are expected to arrive in Eugene on the night of May 21, for initiation into Sigma Delta Chi, the national honorary Journalism fraternity," Professor Dymont stated. "These men, who members of the Portland Oregonian editorial staff, are E. N. Blythe, Chester Moores and Dean Collins, all graduates of the University of Oregon."

"George Palmer Putnam, Secretary to Governor Withycombe, and Ralph Moores, also a University graduate, who is now secretary of the Salem Commercial Club, will be present for the initiation. These men will all be asked to remain for the Saturday session."

A banquet will be given following the initiation ceremonies, to the visiting neophytes, to the outside persons in attendance at the conference, and to two undergraduates, Harold Hamstreet and Leigh Swinson, who are also to be initiated into Sigma Delta Chi.

At the University of Illinois, the Freshman class has resorted to tags to secure payment of class dues. Green tags are given to each man as a receipt. On one side is printed "Class Dues," while on the reverse side the word "Paid" appears.

OREGON'S NEW TEAM DEFEATS WILLAMETTE

REJUVENATED NINE SHUTS OUT METHODISTS AND COMES BACK IN EVERY WAY

BIGBEE PITCHES GOOD GAME

Six Innings Go By Without Score, and Then Bez's Crew Comes in for Six Runs

By Harry Kuck. Bezdek's new club, with Lyle Bigbee on the mound, shut out Willamette this afternoon in a fast 6 to 0 game. For six innings both teams struggled along without a score, playing good, clean ball. Then, with one down, Dick Nelson singled to right field and went to second when the outfielder muffed up the grounder. He advanced to third on Buck Bigbee's infield sacrifice, and scored when Huntington grounded to short.

Adams, on the rubber for the Methodists, got away lucky until the seventh. He had been nixed for five bingles, but they were scattered and failed to materialize into runs.

The cloud burst in the seventh. The rooters stood up—the band played, and "Bunny" Philbin started the procession with a screaming single into left field. Lyle walked and Sheehy laid down a neat bunt, moving both runners up a peg, from whence they registered on "Skeet" Bigbee's clean hit into right field. Skeet stole second, went to third on a passed ball, and scored when Nelson got his third hit of the matinee. "Maureese" Bigbee did things up right by bagging a four-ply swat, and two more runs registered.

Huntington ended the nightmare by striking out.

Lyle Bigbee feared his return to the pitching corps by striking out 12 men and allowing but five hits, three of which are placed to the credit of his opponent, Adams.

Dave Philbin caught a good game. He held Lyle up in big league style and rapped out a brace of hits. If the big boy keeps up this gait, "Bez" will probably use him against Washington next week.

Score by innings:

	R	H	E
Oregon	0	0	0
Will.	0	0	0

CALIFORNIA MEET

- * Mile—Huggins, Oregon, first, 4:31.3.
- * Two Mile—Payne, Oregon, first, 9:54.
- * Quarter Mile—Kadlerly, O. A. C., first, 51 3-5 seconds; Loucks, Oregon, third.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN WIN

Oregon Evens Up With O. A. C. Hockey Team by Defeating Aggies 3 to 1

The University of Oregon women's hockey team won the return game with O. A. C., 3 to 1, this morning at the field south of Kincaid Park. Vera Moffat, captain of the University team, made two of the goals and Margaret Crosby the third. Oregon made two goals in the first quarter, and the score remained 2 to 0 until the last quarter, when Ruth Blake, O. A. C. center scored a point.

Oregon's territory was seldom invaded by the O. A. C. girls.

Miss Vance, of Corvallis, who is connected with the Y. W. C. A. work there, will speak at a conference meeting to be held here May 22, at the Bungalow.

JOY-RIDERS COME TO GRIEF IN SENIOR PLAY

AUTO SMASH-UP STARTS FUSS BUT ACCRESS SAVES DAY FOR FRIENDS

TICKLES AND THRILLS MANY

Caste Includes Celebrities Among Sheepskin Squad—Friday is Evening of Performance

That the course of true love and joy-riding never did run smooth, is the text of the sermon the Senior players will hand across the footlights to the Junior Week-End audience next Friday evening.

Sermon is hardly the word, however, to characterize their pepful and purely farcical vehicle, "Jeanette's Way." Like the average musical comedy, it makes no pretensions of having a serious theme; but unlike a musical comedy, it has a plot which is unmistakable. In fact, the situations in "Jeanette's Way" are said to be about as perplexing and thrilling as those of "Seven Keys to Baldpate," the mystery play which recently visited Eugene.

"It was all a harmless auto ride," pleads Bert Gerard, as Joe Pennicouque, "our hero." Nevertheless, it is the ride which starts the trouble, Joe, Tod Warrington, his pal (Don Orput), Ruth Bryant, Joe's fiancée (Hazel Ralston), and Jeanette Augarde, an actress (Georgia Cross), are the passengers. Joe loses control of the steering-gear and the machine tries to climb a tree. Joe, Tod, Ruth, Jeanette and the tree escape without serious injury, but the machine is a smear.

All this is supposed to happen before the rise of the curtain. The morning after the night before finds Joe, Tod and Ruth duly repent and apprehensive lest the papers uncover the "story" and make capital of the actress' part in it. Their fears are realized when Williamson, a news-sleuth of the irrepressible type (Lee Hendricks), forces his way into Joe's and Tod's room and pulls the facts on them. The exciting scenes that follow attract Mrs. Bryant (Josephine Moorhead), mother of Ruth, and Joe's and Tod's landlady. Tod and Joe are finally provoked to the point of throwing Williamson down stairs, but their purpose is defeated by the entrance of the elder Joseph Pennicouque, Joe's uncle, who is putting the young man through college—played by Maurice Hill. The old gentleman is sorely peeved by his violent collision with Williamson at the door, and he is scarcely placated when Professor Gaylord (Frank Staiger) rushes in, brandishing Williamson's paper, playing up the whole story of the smash-up on the front page.

Trouble comes in bunches from this time forward. In the midst of the rumpus Jeanette Augarde, the actress, herself, appears, closely pursued by Wilde, a theatrical manager (Clark Burgard), who seeks her signature to his contract. Jeanette is the only cool member of the company, for she herself has given Williamson the "story" for its advertising value to herself. She takes the situation in hand and inveigles the elder Pennicouque into taking her out to the road-house of Adolph, a German innkeeper (Gene Good.) Williamson, realizing the value of an arrest to her story, sneaks out, swears out a warrant charging Joe with speeding, and returns with Slink, a constable. Meanwhile, Joe and Ruth, hearing of the warrant, escape to Adolph's inn. Mrs. Bryant dispatches Professor Gaylord to bring Ruth back. The scene closes with the elder Pennicouque, the actress, Ruth, Joe, Wilde and the Professor off to the road-house, while Mrs. Bryant

(Continued on page 4)

DASTARD'S SPYING CURIOSITY AROUSES AMORIST'S FEROCITY

Fiendish Imp that Haunts the Night Makes This Spooner Want to Fight

When you are floating down the race, the moon peeks over Spencer hill, with silver lips does kiss her face, you let the barge drift down at will; the hellish-panic rules are broke, the girl should be at home asleep; you take a quiet little smoke, and just a little nearer creep. 'Tis then that some benighted bloke, with noxious, crude, unseemly cheek, a flashlight in your face does poke and at your picture take a peek. The lady gives a startled squeak and nearly dumps you in the drink; the bad words that you crave to speak, a gentleman can only think.

By the gods, one of these nights my barge I'll load with "fighting fools," and when some Filbert throws his light, with paddles, clubs and other tools, my roughs will jump astride the pest and keystone him till he can't see; and maybe on my next mill-fest these spotlight birds will leave me be.

Statistics presented before the meeting of the National Collegiate Association in Chicago recently show that it is not the chosen few who receive the entire benefit from college athletics.

SIGMA CHI WINS CUP; DEFEATS SIGMA NU 11-14

Victors Finish at Top of Doughnut Baseball League by Downing Faculty and Dorm

Sigma Chi won the baseball championship of the Doughnut League last night, defeating Sigma Nu 11 to 4.

The only remaining game is between Sigma Nu and the Dorm for the second place.

Dudley's arm was all in before the game started, and the "Chis" scored four runs in the first canto. Winship took a turn at flinging and was touched up for two runs in the third and five in the fourth inning.

The game was called after the first half of the fifth by mutual consent. The Sigma Chis hit safely seven times and Sigma Nu secured three bingles. Errors were too numerous to mention.

Two more close and hard-fought baseball games were added to the number of thrilling encounters that have marked the Doughnut series this year, last Tuesday, when the Kappa Sigs' third man fanned in the last inning of their game with the Sigma Nus, when the tying run was on third; and when the Sigma Chis cut down the Dorm's early lead of three runs and beat them out 6-5 in the last of the semi-finals Wednesday evening.

The Kappa Sig-Sigma Nu fracas was the play-off of the 5-5 tie which the two teams played some time ago. After the early innings no scoring was done and the 2-1 score stood till the end of the game.

Dudley, for the winners, and Earl, for the Kappa Sigs, both pitched flawless ball.

Discounting an adverse score made by the Dorm early in their little meeting last night, the Sigma Chis earned a victory in the finals by nosing out the Dormers, that made possible their final win. The game was a ragged, see-saw affair, that belonged to either team until "Botts" Avison brought in the winning run with a three-base bingle, his only hit of the season.

Bullock, who passed out the pokers for the Sigs, pitched in fine style, which was almost equaled by Harry Kuck, the Dorms' sniper.

EIGHT MORE ASPIRANTS SEEK STUDENT OFFICES

FITZMAURICE AND WESTERFIELD CAST THEIR CHANCES FOR EMERALD MANAGER

PROSSER ENTERS AGAINST KUCK

Lucille Watson, Echo Zahl, Bob McMurray, Karl Beck and Wilmot Foster Break Into Lists

- * Additional nominees for Student Body offices:
- * Vice-President—Bob Prosser.
- * Manager of Emerald—Floyd Westerfield and Bob Fitzmaurice.
- * Senior Men for Student Council—Wilmot Foster.
- * Senior Women for Student Council—Lucille Watson.
- * Junior Men for Student Council—Karl Beck and Bob McMurray.
- * Junior Women for Student Council—Echo Zahl.

While there was not a single candidate for the position of Manager of the Oregon Emerald at the regular meeting for nominations held last Wednesday at 10:00 o'clock, the names of two men, whose sponsors in turn declared that each really wanted the job, were put up at the special meeting at 3:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Villard Hall. The men were Floyd Westerfield, whose name was presented by Peter Crockett, and Bob Fitzmaurice, who was put up by Wallace Eakin.

While Crockett stated that it was "useless to waste dying oratory," he gave two reasons why, in his opinion, Westerfield is the man for the place. First, he said, Westerfield is majoring in Journalism and intends to make the newspaper business his life work. He has had, besides the training received from his position on the Emerald staff, opportunity to observe real newspaper management, for his father is editor of the Grass Valley paper. Crockett's second reason was that his candidate is working himself through college, and so he really wants the job.

Eakin admitted that his candidate was not majoring in Journalism, but said that he was nevertheless versed in every detail of the newspaper business. For eight years Fitzmaurice has had experience on his father's paper, at Condon, Oregon, continued Eakin. He has worked at Yoran's printing office, and last year helped out the Oregonian. Eakin also asserted that his nominee really wants the managership, and knows the business end of the newspaper game from start to finish.

The name of Bob Prosser, the additional candidate for Vice-President, was presented by James Donald, who stated that he was sure everyone was well enough acquainted with Prosser and his executive ability to realize his fitness for the position. Prosser will run against Harry Kuck, of The Dalles, who was nominated by Bert Gerard at the Wednesday meeting.

The argument advanced for Wilmot Foster for Senior man on the Student Council, by his sponsor, James Donald, was that there were times when outside questions arise in the Student Council, and that Foster is a man who would be in touch with these questions.

"I have the peculiarity of nominating good people for office, therefore I nominate Miss Lucille Watson for Senior woman for the Student Council," was the entire speech of Sam Michael, Miss Watson's champion.

Karl Beck and Bob McMurray were nominated for Junior men for the Student Council by Anthony Jaureguy and James Donald, respectively.

Echo Zahl was nominated for Junior woman for the Student Council by Earyl Bronough.