

NEW SPECIALISTS ARE ADDED TO FACULTY

Nineteen College Courses and Additional Instructors Help University Curriculum.

By Clytie Hall.

The new faculty members, each a specialist in his department, according to Dr. John Straub will strengthen the University curriculum. Nineteen new courses broaden the opportunities for students of English, Philosophy, Commerce and Law, at the beginning of the fortieth year of the State institution.

Of the new instructors added, two, Prof. R. P. Reeder, recently of the University of Philadelphia, and Prof. W. W. Merritt, a graduate of the University of Michigan, are in the Law department.

Dr. E. S. Bates, who was recently at the head of the department of English at the University of Arizona, and has spent the last year on a leave of absence in New York, comes to take the place of head of the Rhetoric department here.

Other new epople who come to take head of department positions, are Dr. D. W. Morton, formerly of the University of Illinois and more recently of the University of Wisconsin, who will be dean of the School of Commerce, and Miss Mabel L. Cummings, of the Normal University of Illinois, who succeeds Dr. Bertha Stuart as head of the department of Physical Education for Women. Dr. Stuart has accepted a similar position at Reed College, Portland.

To the instructing force of the Latin department is added Prof. H. A. Clark, recently of the University of Wisconsin.

To the departments of Psychology, Economics and Secondary Education have been added respectively, Prof. R. H. Wheeler, a graduate of Clark University; Prof. E. C. Robbins, from Mount Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass.; and Prof. B. W. DeBusk, of Clark University.

In the executive department, Prof. N. C. Grimes, of the University of Illinois, formerly of the Universities of Arizona and Wisconsin, succeeds Dr. W. M. Smith as secretary to the president and professor of mathematics. Dr. Smith now holds a professorship of mathematics in Lafayette College, Eastern Pennsylvania.

Dr. J. F. Bovard, head of the department of Zoology, has returned from a year's leave of absence, spent at Harvard University, and is again meeting his classes in Deady hall.

Among the instructors who have left to accept positions in other institutions is Dr. Karl M. Dallenback, of the Psychology department, who has received an interim appointment to the department of psychology of Ohio State University at Columbus.

Dr. J. E. Gutberlet, interim professor of Zoology, has received an appointment in zoology in a Wisconsin college.

Miss Kathrina M. Davies, instructor in English, has been appointed to the English teaching staff of the faculty of Rockford College, Rockford, Illinois.

Dr. R. C. Bennett, of the Law department, is now in Chicago, and is considering several offers for the coming year.

Of the new courses added, seven are in the English department, namely: Technique of the Drama, Technique of Poetry; Edgar Allen Poe, a Study of Romantic Pessimism; Walt Whitman, a study of Romantic Optimism; Nineteenth Century Literary Criticism; Anglo-Saxon Literature in Translation; and Chaucer and Other Middle English Literature.

Ethics and History of Art and Civilization are additions to the Philosophy courses offered.

New Commerce courses are: Accounting Principles, Cost Accounting, Practical Banking, Accounting Problems, Business Law, Insurance, Domestic Commerce, Public Utility Accounting, Resources of the Northwest. There will also be a Commerce seminar.

Miss Ruth Beach, who was graduated from the University in 1914, spent the first week of college at the Gamma Phi Beta House. Miss Beach left Tuesday for Yoncella, where she will visit for several days before returning to her home in Portland.

Miss Grace McGowan of Dodson, Oregon, who had registered with the Freshmen class at the University of Oregon, was forced to leave for home Tuesday afternoon by a telegram stating her mother was ill.

STUDENTS GET WORK

Dean Straub Makes Report that Employment Situation is Temporarily Solved.

"All men have been placed, some not permanently, but all have been given work for the present," said Dean Straub, in speaking of the employment situation. The work of the students covers a large range, some flunking in fraternity and sorority houses, while others have found work in the business houses of Eugene, soliciting orders for the grocery stores, meat markets, cleaning and pressing houses.

This year there has been an unusual demand for work, but with the co-operation of the faculty of the University, the fraternities, sororities, the college Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and the business houses of the city, conditions have been relieved.

"The college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. should have the earnest support of every college student, for the hope of students who have come with the expectation of finding enough work to earn their way through the University," said J. D. Foster, new student secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Mitchell returned from San Francisco September 14 after passing a week at the exposition. Mr. Mitchell is Professor of Geology in the University of Oregon.

Edward Bailey, tackle on the University of Oregon eleven for four years, but now athletic coach at Albany College, spent the week-end meeting the new men at the Phi Delta Theta House.

association, inasmuch as State appropriations would only continue so long as understanding and cooperation existed between the State and the University.

"The statewide criticism of Oregon University is extravagance of money and time," said Mr. Newell. "If the State considers that the University does not spend its money and advantages wisely, then future appropriations will be almost impossible."

University should do something distinctive. "This can partially be accomplished by the Oregon Pageant, which we are now planning," said Mrs. Gerlinger. "This is to be a State-wide affair. Everyone is to be a contributor."

Believing that the students and faculty should have opportunity of mixing more freely, and that other women's courses should be offered, Mrs. Gerlinger is constantly working for the new Woman's Building. Here will be social rooms, a large kitchen with every modern equipment for entertaining the out-of-town guest. New courses in Domestic Science, Home Decorating, Scientific Management of the Home Income, and Home Nursing are planned as courses in the new building.

"The Woman's Building is not to be built by State appropriation but from a $125,000 popular subscription, gathered from the State at large, from pageants, plays and festivals," said Mrs. Gerlinger.

Plans are being drawn up for a progressive supper on the campus to raise money for this new building. The affair will be open to students and to townspeople, and the sorority and fraternity houses will be asked to participate. Lamar Tooze and Miss Ruth Guppy have expressed their approval of the plan and the former will appoint a committee to take charge of the plans, if the student body consents.

Dr. Capen spoke regarding the proposed adoption of the honor system.

"Unless both students and faculty want it, the honor system in examinations will not work. The success of this system—which means a splendid spirit of honor and idealism—can only be realized if the conditions are right. Are you ready for it? The honor system has been successful in the east and south, and also in the University of California."

want a team to match it. O. A. C. is planning to hold a big indoor meet some time this fall, in which teams from all the important colleges will compete. This is to be modeled after the Pennsylvania relay games. Another important event this fall will be the intercollegiate cross-country run. Then comes the annual Columbia indoor meet in early spring, the O. A. C. dual, the Washington dual, if it is held and a big dual meet with Stanford at Palo Alto. This is to take the place of the California-Stanford meet, since athletic relations between those two institutions have been severed. The final meet will be the conference.

a lot of men. Fall training starts tonight, and I want you fellows to get out more. Every man bring another one, and I'll have a decent squad. I probably won't be able to get out each night myself, but I will have an old man to coach every event, so new men will have good supervision. Heinie Heidenreich will watch the weight men, Captain Fee the pole vaulters, javelin heavers and hurdlers, Goreczky will take the sprinters in hand and Martin Nelson and Bob Langley will work the distance men."

Mullnomah enters a few remarks on the menu.

As usual, the men are complaining of sprains and bruises. Not a man can boast of no "Charley horse," the players' nightmare, and several are more severely injured. Huntington has a twisted back and will probably not be seen in action. Bigbee and Malarkey are tenderly nursing wrenched elbows, but these will not prevent them from starting the game at halves.

The coach says he is going to use hosts of men, but these will no doubt start the game, unless unforeseen in-
