

COLLEGE CONFERENCE TO DECIDE BIG MATTERS

Representatives of Northwest Institutions Will Meet in Portland.

COAST COLLEGES MAY COMBINE

Freshman Rule Likely to be Passed and Oregon Favors Rules Barring Scouting.

On Thursday and Friday, in Portland, representatives from the University will meet those from the other institutions in the northwest college conference, to discuss several considerations of importance that have arisen since last year.

Will Debate About W. S. C.

Delegates from the southern institutions will be in Portland to further their cause and it is thought that the question will be decided in favor of them.

However, Oregon is definitely known to be in favor of the freshmen one year rule barring freshmen from the team.

Oregon Would Bar Scouting

Oregon delegates will urge that the other schools bar scouting from their athletics. This is the same stand that Oregon has always taken in the matter but it is understood that some of the others have not been very particular in the matter.

DR. K. A. J. MACKENZIE SPEAKS WEDNESDAY

Assembly Tomorrow Will Listen to Address by Dean Medical College.

Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, dean of the medical school of the University of Oregon, will address the students of the University Wednesday morning at assembly on "Medicine as a Profession."

Dr. Mackenzie has studied in the universities of London, Berlin, Paris and Vienna, and is professor of operative and clinic surgery in the school of medicine. He is a fellow of the American Surgical Association, and is ex-president of the Oregon State Medical Association.

The medical school was given an appropriation of $50,000 at the last session of the legislature, for the erection and equipment of a new building in Portland. This appropriation was contingent upon the school raising $25,000 additional.

The new building is to be erected upon property which is donated to the University by the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation Company, for whom Dr. Mackenzie is chief surgeon in Oregon and Washington.

University of Nebraska—The fourteen national sororities composing the Pan-Hellenic Council at the University of Nebraska are considering taking up some form of new work, such as leading the local organizations in social service. Some of the sororities are already engaged in active work; the national organization of Pi Beta Phi maintains a school in the mountain districts of Tennessee, at Gatlinburg; the local chapter of Chi Omega offers an annual prize of $25 to the woman student who does the best work in sociology, both in the classroom and in its practical application.

Princeton University—Princeton will open one week earlier in 1916 and close a week earlier in 1917 and thereafter, according to a recent action of the board of trustees. The plan is necessary to make possible the use of the college entrance board examinations in co-operation with Harvard and Yale.

PI PHI GIRLS WAX PLAYFUL; PROSPECTIVE STUDENT 'GOAT'

As Fred Fenton, prospective Oregon student from Idaho, but now visiting his sister, Esther Fenton of the Pi Beta Phi house, stepped on the porch of said house Sunday evening, he was greeted by murky darkness, a locked door and a sign that read:

Closed!
Due to unsanitary conditions arising from the flooded basement, this house is closed. For further information, call the Delta Tau Delta house.
Signed: DEAN GUPPY.

Madly he dashed over to the Delta Tau house, flung open the door and demanded information. Blank consternation and surprised ejaculations were his only consolation. Then "light" began to dawn. He cautiously tip-toed back to the Pi Phi house and listened. Feminine giggles emanated from the sleeping porch.

STUDENTS WILL STAGE ALICE IN WONDERLAND

Mysteries of Land of Nod Will be Unfolded on Nights of December 3 and 4.

(By Martha Beer)

"Alice in Wonderland," a fantasy adapted from the story by Lewis Carroll, is the next production booked for the "Little Theatre" in the new Administration building.

"Alice will be staged the evenings of December 3 and 4. A children's matinee is also planned for the afternoon of December 4.

The story has been dramatized by Professor A. F. Reddie for this occasion and is particularly well adapted for production in Guild hall. In the dramatization every effort has been made to keep the wonderland atmosphere intact and those who have read Professor Reddie's version cannot praise it too highly.

A feature of the production will be the stage settings which will be designed almost entirely by children—Martha and Betty Eaton, Jane Campbell and Edgar Bohlman.

All children, grown-up and otherwise, will be interested in Alice and the big children who have partially forgotten Alice's marvelous adventures will do well to refresh their memories by glancing over the book between now and December 3.

All our old friends will be there—the Jabberwock, the Snark, the March Hare, the White Rabbit, even the Queen of Hearts with a card ballet consisting of the lesser hearts, from the one to the ten spot.

The card ballet will execute a number of "tricks" and will be drilled for the occasion by Miss Frieda Goldsmith, of the Physical Training department.

Particularly clever and ingenious lighting effects will be introduced. The Queen of Hearts will, of course, demonstrate her ability to produce day and night at will and even the Cheshire cats disappearing grin will make itself visible.

Lamar Tooze Is Selected to Talk Peace at The Hague

Left for Portland to Await More Information About Henry Ford's Neutral Peace Delegation of United States Citizens and Sixteen University Representatives Which Sail From New York on the Oscar II December 4.

Lamar Tooze, president of the Associated Student Body, left last night on the Owl train as a special representative of the University in the Ford peace pilgrimage to Europe. This came through an invitation received yesterday morning by President P. L. Campbell from J. Lochner, secretary to Henry Ford, noted automobile manufacturer, in a telegram requesting that the University nominate a student representative for the peace delegation.

Mr. Tooze was then appointed by President Campbell and a faculty advisory committee. This gives the University the honor of having one of fifteen University representatives at the peace conference. Mr. Tooze will go at once to New York city in order to catch the first of the two boats sailing for Europe. In the event he reaches New York on the morning of December 8 and the boat sails in the afternoon he will catch the Oscar II; otherwise he will sail later on the Frederick. The boats will dock first at Stockholm, then at Copenhagen and finally reach The Hague, where the peace conference will be held with the representatives of the warring nations.

FATE OF BASKETBALL TO BE DECIDED SOON

Faculty Committee Will Hear Final Reports and Arguments on Thursday.

At the meeting of the faculty on Thursday the fate of intercollegiate basketball so far as Oregon is concerned will probably be settled. A special committee appointed to investigate the question in further detail will render its report then. This committee is composed of Prof. H. C. Howe, chairman; Prof. George Rebec, Prof. Colin Dymont and Bill Hayward. The faculty will render its final decision after this body has reported.

This committee was appointed to go more deeply into the question when a petition of a large number of students, asking the rescinding of that portion of the faculty rulings, temporarily suspend basketball as an intercollegiate activity, was presented to the faculty. The committee is an entirely different body from the one which considered the original motion of Dr. Barnett.

Meanwhile preparations are going forward for starting a doughnut league schedule of basketball. The fraternities and organizations of the campus have been assigned practice hours in the gymnasium.

A meeting of the interfraternity athletic council will be held tonight to complete arrangements.

Prof. Dunn to Attend Session
Professor Frederic S. Dunn will attend the sixth session of the Classical Association of the Pacific Northwest. Professor Dunn was the organizing secretary of that body and was later its president. He is now a member of the executive committee.

Professor Dunn will read a paper on "Julius Caesar in the English Chronicles."

not a "peace-at-any-price man."

Besides being the president of the student body, Mr. Tooze is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, Alpha Kappa Psi, national commerce fraternity, and Priars, honorary senior society. In his freshman year he was a member of the debating team that won the underclass debate. When a sophomore he was president of his class, and all four years he has been a Y. M. C. A. cabinet member and taken an active part in that organization's work. He was graduated from the Falls City high school, although his home is in Salem. He was born in Woodburn, but early moved with his folks to Falls City, where he completed the grammar grades and high school. He has largely earned his own way through the University by corresponding for newspapers. His summers are all spent at Newport, as the special representative of the Portland Oregonian. The trip will consume about six weeks, and bring him back to school again in the middle of January. He has been excused from his classes.

Harry Kuck, vice president of the student body, will be the president in the absence of Mr. Tooze.

OREGON WOMEN OUTPLAY O. A. C. CO-EDS IN HOCKEY

Game Is Played During Downpour of Rain; Mud Bespatters Fair Faces.

On a muddy field and under a downpour of rain the women's hockey team of the University defeated the O. A. C. co-eds by a score of 5-0 on November 20. A goal was made by each of the following girls: Teressa Cox, Olga Soderstrom, Ethel Murray, Margaret Crosby and Gladys Conklin.

Teressa Cox, Jennie Hunter and Mable Van Zante were the star players for Oregon, while Martha Beckett shone as a luminary for O. A. C. Seldom did a ball get by either of them.

The line-up was as follows:

- Oregon—
- C.—Ethel Murray.
- R. I.—Margaret Crosby.
- L. I.—Gladys Conklin.

Wesleyan—A bank managed entirely by students is to be opened as an experiment. This innovation is approved by the faculty and by the American Bankers' Association. If the experiment is successful, similar banks will probably be founded in other colleges and universities.

SPOKANE SPORT WRITER CLASSES NORTH TEAMS

Spokane, Nov. 29—The decisive defeat that Washington State college administered to the admittedly strong Montana eleven and the state university's overwhelming victory over the University of California stamp the two Washington elevens as far and away the best teams west of the Rocky mountains. No other teams in this territory can be closely compared with the state university and W. S. C.

Oregon, O. A. C. and Montana more nearly approach the class of the two Washington schools than any other on the Pacific slope, but any one of them would need a handicap of at least a touchdown a quarter to make a game even.

The first touchdown that has been scored upon the state college this year was registered Saturday, when the Montanans blocked a punt and fell upon it when it bounded behind the W. S. C. goal was inviolate.

Spokane fans take pride in the fact that the only team that scored on Washington was the Gonzaga university eleven.

The students of the Wesleyan University will open a bank to be managed entirely by students. The bank will be operated under the direction of the American Bankers' Association. The project has the approval of the officers of the university.

U. ATHLETIC PROWESS REVIEWED BY CRITIC

Track Outlook Is Dim While Tennis and Soccer Look More Optimistic.

Saturday's football classic for the state title practically terminated the first cycle of what promises to be an extraordinary athletic year at Oregon.

The abolition of intercollegiate basketball by the faculty will leave Oregon enthusiasts minus a major sport to follow until track and baseball open up in the spring. Intramural sports will of necessity become the main attraction this fall.

The doughnut basketball race ought to be a hummer. Every team will play every other team and men who have participated in any conference game will be eliminated, thus narrowing the teams down to approximately equal calibre. Football, track, wrestling and boxing all receive considerable attention in an interfraternity basketball game.

Last year's letter men will have to content themselves with interclass scraps as substitutes for O. A. C. and other conference fives. With Captain Lyle Bigbee, Wheeler and "Skeet" Bigbee as a nucleus, Coach Bezdek would probably have built up a strong team this year.

For the first time in years the track outlook at Oregon is dim. The freshman class seems to be a "hitless wonder" in providing athletes this year; one football player, no track man with even a good prep school rating, and only mediocre baseball material. Bill Hayward lost Loucks, Boylen, Heidenreich, Cook and Parsons from last year's champions and will have to make a team out of Captain Fee, Nelson, Huggins and possibly Muirhead, with second string men as fillers.

Baseball looks better but top notch battery men are lacking. The catching department was the bugbear last year and no stellar backstops have put in an appearance, as yet. Huntington and Risley were broken in last year and may

JOHNNY BECKETT WILL LEAD OREGON FOOTBALL DESTINY COMING YEAR

Premier Tackler Is Unanimously Chosen by the Triumphant Team.

FIFTEEN WIN COVETED "O"

Squad Will Remain Intact and With Incoming Material 1916 Looks Bright.

(By Chester Anders Fee)

"The greatest college football team that ever trod on Multnomah field gave Multnomah a 15 to 2 licking yesterday.

"It is doubtful if any football team of these United States could have beaten the University of Oregon yesterday. They showed the most marvelous interference ever developed in the northwest, and playing as they did yesterday, could have beaten any of the conference teams by from two to four touchdowns."

The football season at Oregon ended Thursday in a blaze of glory and the above-quoted comment appeared in one of the big Portland papers, and shows to what heights the team really attained.

Commune With Fatima

Yesterday afternoon the team came together for the last time, and after the election of captain and the taking of a picture the fellows bid a fond farewell to their mud encrusted togs, and hid their way homeward, most of them thoroughly enjoying long desired communion with Fatima.

Neither job executed necessitated much time or study. The election consisted of writing Johnny Beckett's name on a piece of paper and counting it (except in the case where modesty overcame the big gridiron hero and he scribbled down Jake Risley's appellation) and the latter called for arrangement and the pressure of the bulb.

Beckett Unanimous Choice

Beckett is being mentioned by every man who has ever seen him knock the mud off his opponents' head-gear, or step on someone's neck, as their selection for All-American tackle. In the northwest he is the unanimous choice for the same position, and is the only man who received the whole number of votes cast.

Johnny hails from Eight Mile Way, and put that place on the map (no one knows where, exactly, but it is there. He meandered down to Portland and stepped ped into football shoes at Washington high school. No one knew what he was good for when he came, but they discovered before he left.

In college he has been the same way, and never once did he appear in a game (if I remember correctly), that some place in the story following the game, he was not among the satellites.

Fifteen Make Their Letters

The men who made their letters this season and were thereby entitled to vote are: Beckett, Risley, Mitchell, Tegart, Tuerck, Huntington, Bigbee, Spellman, Malarkey, Monteith, Snyder, Bartlett, Callison, Cawley, Cossman.

It looks like every one is to be back next year when the roll is called for the first time, but no one can tell and there
