$5,000 IS GIFT MADE TO MEDICAL SCHOOL AT ALUMNI MEETING

Sum to Serve as Nucleus for Fund from $75,000 to $150,000 Says Dean Mackenzie.

The gift of $5,000 toward the erection of the first building on the new campus of the University of Oregon. Medical college, provisional upon obtaining nine other such gifts, the immediate prospects of several similar donations and the plan to increase the proposed building fund from $75,000 to $100,000 or $150,000 was announced by Dr. Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie, dean of the Oregon Medical college faculty, at the monthly luncheon of the Portland graduates of the University of Oregon.

He also announced steps taken yesterday morning toward the organization of the first University of Oregon Medical college student body association and plans for a closer affiliation with the work of the University of Oregon students by the alumni association.

Name of Donor Withheld. The name of the donor of the first $5,000 was withheld.

The state legislature, at the close of its last session, after appropriating $80,000 for maintenance, gave the medical college $50,000 for its first building to be erected on the new 25-acre campus on Terwilliger boulevard, provided $25,000 was raised by the college to make possible the erection of a $75,000 building.

Dr. Mackenzie traced the rapid strides in the growth of the Oregon Medical college and of the tacit understanding with the University of Washington that Oregon is to have the one great medical college in the northwest, to be located in Portland, with Oregon, Washington and Idaho as its exclusive field.

Giant Strides Shown. The progress of the Medical college from its organization in 1880, when it was located in a shack where Good Samaritan hospital now stands, and its struggles to exist on insufficient funds to its present high ranking were pointed out.

"The school now has as high a rating as that given any school in the country," declared Dr. Mackenzie. "Its work equals that of Johns Hopkins, Harvard, or any other of the greatest schools in America."

Steps to organize the first medical college student body were taken at a meeting of the students that was substituted for the usual clinic at St. Vincent's hospital. The students pledged their hearty co-operation with the university in every department.

Organization is Informal. The luncheon at which Dr. Mackenzie spoke was the third monthly meeting under an informal organization recently inaugurated. The next meeting open to all who have attended the University of Oregon, will be held in the Hazelwood on the first Saturday in February.

Those attending the meeting were: Carleton E. Spencer, J. Earl Jones, N. R. Charman, Martin W. Hawkins, R. E. Hickson, Jacob R. Cornog, William T. Neill, A. P. McKinlay, Fletcher Linn, R. K. Terry, Frank M. Taylor, C. E. Cleveland, Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie, L. R. Alderman, John Veatch, Dean T. Goodman, J. C. Veazie, Oliver B. Huston, F. D. Carruth, W. C. Nicholas, W. G. Dunlap, Chester Moores and Franklin S. Allen.

YALE STUDENT'S EXPENSES GATHERED BY MR. GRIMES

Over fifty percent of the Harvard students come from territory within fifty miles of the campus.

Fraternity men at the University of Washington stand higher in scholarship than the independent students.

The average expense at Yale is $1,050 per year. In the 1914 graduating class the average expenses of the members in their four years courses were as follows: $1,000 for freshmen and sophomores terms and $1,100 for junior and senior years.

The maximum spent by any one student in his four-year course was $4,500, for freshmen term; $2,800 for sophomore; $3,100 for junior; and $4,000 for senior year.

The maximum spent by any one member in the class of '14 during his residence at Yale was $4,500 while the minimum was $200.

Secretary N. C. Grimes makes it a hobby of collecting such statistics.

MRS. BOVARD A STATISTICIAN

Mrs. John Bovard, secretary of the state alumnae association, is at work on a card catalogue of women graduates of the University, who have paid dues since 1908. The material is gathered from state alumnae books. There are 214 women catalogued. When this is completed it will be used by Earl Kilpatrick, secretary of the state alumnae association in compiling the list of all the women graduates of the University. The catalogue will be of aid to those who desire information concerning these graduates.

PERSONALS

Harold Young '14, is attending law school at the University of Washington.

W. H. Gore, '84, president of the First National Bank of Medford, Oregon, served in one term of the State legislature.

Henry Fowler '14, editor of the Emerald '13-'14 in a letter to Leslie Toose says: "The visit of the Glee club to Baker was a wonderful stimulus to the Alumni here. The Baker people entertained for the boys and I believe the Alumni derived more benefit and entertainment than the Glee club." Fowler is city editor of the Baker Herald.

Don Rice '14, is with the Hartman Abstract Co., Pendleton, Oregon.

Arthur P. Crawford, ex-'16, is with the Heppner Herald, Heppner, Oregon.

Mary Ann Smith Gerber, ex-'16, is editor of the women's section of the Winged M, the official publication of the Multnomah club.

Lawrence Dinneen '15, is on the city staff of the Portland, Oregon, Journal.

Dr. C. C. Chapman, former president of the University, is on the editorial board of the Portland, Oregon, Journal.

Geo. S. Bandy, ex-'17, is playing in the "movies" in Los Angeles.

E. N. Blythe, '02, is head of the copy desk of the Oregonian. He is said to have the best conception of the relative news values of any newspaper man in the northwest.

The engagement of Don Rice '14 and Hazel Toose ex-'15, has been announced. Miss Toose is a member of the Chi Omega sorority and Mr. Rice is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. The date of the wedding has not been set.

ROSEBURG COLLEGIANS GATHER.

The students of the University of Oregon who live in Roseburg, together with the alumni of the University, held a get-together meeting at the armory December 23. Oregon songs were sung by the students present and numbers by the high school glee club. Addresses by Dexter Rice, Albert Abraham, W. W. Cardwell, Dr. George E. Houck and Walter Fisher completed the program.

Light refreshments were served following the program. This meeting was held in conjunction with other cities during the holidays for the purpose of discussing school activities and bringing the high school students in touch with the State University.

ALUMNAE GIVE $1,000.

L. H. Johnson has received a check from Mrs. Alice Benson Beach of $822, the proceeds of college night at the Ice Hippodrome. In 1913 the Portland Oregon Alumnae gave the Women's League $100 towards the Woman's Building fund. This makes $922 that the Portland Oregon Alumnae have given. They expect to make the amount of their donation $1,000.

WRITES FOR MAGAZINES

Alfred Powers '10, has been successfully selling material to magazines and periodicals. Recently Powers made a Shoe Survey of Oakland, Oregon, where he is superintendent of schools. The article was published by the Retail Shoe Dealer, a trade magazine published in Boston. Powers recently told through the columns of the Sunday Oregonian the trials of a rural teacher in central Oregon featuring the effect of the mad coyote epidemic on school routine. During the past two weeks he has sold stories on the "Oldest Lighthouse Keeper in the United States" and the "Ugliest Man in Douglas County."

Alfred Powers is remembered by newspaper men as the correspondent who discovered the story of the Rattlesnake King. He says that stories based on persons find readiest sale this year.

JOINS MARRIAGE FOLK

La Grande Observer, Dec. 27.—Thomas P. Driscoll, a traveling salesman, and a graduate of the University of Oregon, was married in LaGrande Christmas day to Phyllis Davis, daughter of Mrs. J. Davis at whose home the wedding took place. Rev. J. J. Tiejner, D. D., of the Baptist church officiated. After a short wedding tour they will be at home in La Grande. The bride is a graduate of the Baker high school.

MOVIE FIELD FOR "DUD" CLARK

Dudley Clark, '10, has entered the motion picture field in Los Angeles. He is a member of the Lasky company. Clark played his last football game with the Multnomah club in San Francisco a few weeks before Christmas, and instead of returning with the rest of the team he went on down to Los Angeles. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

DEAN STRAUB MEETS FORMER STUDENTS ON TRIP

"During my recent trip through Columbia and Clackamas counties I met many former students of the University," said Dean Straub today.

"At Scappoose I met Professor C. A. Fowler who is vice-principal of the school. He is very popular among the people there. At that time with the aid of the students Fowler was constructing an outdoor play shed for the use of the students during rainy weather.

"In Gresham I met Miss Vaughn McCormick, '15. In Estacada I met Beatrice Lilly '15, who is teaching English and mathematics.

"While at Clatskanie I talked with two former students, Miss Alma Payton, '12, and Miss Merle McKelvey '12. Miss Payton and Miss McKelvey have been teaching three years.

"In Seaside I saw Miss Helen Downing ex-'18, who is teaching in the grade schools there. When I reached St. Helens I met and talked with Miss Marguerite Rankin of the 1914 class."

TWO ALUMNI WED

Helen Cake, ex-'15, and William Heuser, ex-'15, were married Christmas day at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Cake, the Rev. Luther Dyott officiating. Only members of the family and intimate friends were present. The young couple left on a wedding journey to the Sound and will be at home at 1164 Thurman street. Mrs. Heuser is a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and Mr. Heuser is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

IS APPOINTED.

Thomas A. Burke, '12, has been appointed deputy district attorney of Clackamas county under District Attorney Hedges. Burke made his way through college by working as a linotype operator. He married Juliet Cross '11 and entered the law office of his father-in-law, H. E. Cross, of Oregon City. In 1914 he passed the bar. Burke is president of the Live Wires of Oregon City and treasurer of the city of Gladstone where he resides. He is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity.
