BLUE SKIES FAVOR THE LEMON YELLOW NINE

Captain Anse Cornell Shows Up for Practice. Thirty Others Are Warming Up.

FIRST GAME A MONTH OFF

Pre-Season Dope Favors McLean, Grebe, Cornell and Maison on Infield Berths.

Baseball prospects are looming brighter every evening as Coach Bezdek puts the boys through the paces. Now that the class basketball series is over and the frosh neophytes have survived the recent fraternity initiation ordeals, several new faces have appeared on the diamond. About 30 men are turning out nightly for the team.

Captain Anse Cornell put on his spikes for the first time this season in Tuesday morning's practice session. Anse has been working in a downtown store, but will be out regularly from now on. He ought to have a great season providing the old injury to his knee does not bother him.

Walt Grebe arrived on the campus Wednesday morning after a two weeks' sojourn with his parents in Portland. Walt is entirely recovered from his recent attack of erysipelas, and is anxious to put on a baseball uniform. However, it will be some time before he can exert himself.

Pre-season dope favors McLean, Grebe, Cornell and Maison to compose the varsity infield. Cornell and Grebe, barring injuries, are fixtures at short and second. Both McLean and Maison are somewhat inexperienced but are learning fast.

Coach Bezdek expects to have the squad in good condition before many days. Real work will commence next week. At this time last year the team had not turned out for practice. The added two weeks of practice and a continuance of the warm weather should get the varsity in fine physical shape to meet the conference teams.

The first games of the season are more than a month off. Oregon plays the Chemawa Indians in Eugene on March 31 and April 1. The following week-end will see the University of Washington in a two game series with the lemon-yellow. Owing to the lack of money in the student body treasury there will be no practice games prior to those already scheduled.

GRAPPLERS WILL VIE

O. A. C. Will Hurl a Veteran Crew at Shockey's Tyro Hopeluls Saturday Night.

C. A. Burden, a former professional wrestler and one time physical director of the University, will referee the bouts between O. A. C. and U. of O. Saturday night in Hayward hall.

The list from O. A. C. contains three seniors and three juniors who will line up as follows:

115-pound class—George Hartman, O. A. C., vs. Bruce Flegel, U. of O.

125-pound class—Captain Bolin, O. A. C., vs. Gordon Clark, U. of O.

135-pound class—J. C. Hawkins, O. A. C., vs. "Presty" Prestell, U. of O.

145-pound class—D. C. Mosby, ex-Captain, O. A. C., vs. "Rudy" Rutherford, U. of O.

158-pound class—W. H. Waters, O. A. C. vs. Captain Dal King, U. of O.

175-pound class—Ed Allworth, football star vs. Bernard Breeding, U. of O.

Although O. A. C. has more veteran grapplers the meet promises to be a good one. Student body tickets admit.

MIDSHIPMEN MAY RESIGN.

All the 82 midshipmen at Annapolis who were recommended for dismissal because they failed on their mid-session examination will be permitted to resign instead of having the blot of expulsion from the service against their record.

Sorority Girls, Keep Eye on Men

Don't Be Surprised to See Coats Hanging by Pencils or "Smokeless Smokes."

"If you go into a sorority house and no one takes your hat and coat, just take your pencil out of your pocket, stick it on the wall (demonstrating), hang your hat and coat upon it (demonstrating), and make yourself right at home (demonstrating). Then if you want a quiet smoke and have no tobacco, take two pipes like this (demonstrating), and enjoy a Christian Science smoke (demonstrating), and when you have finished just hang your pipe on the wall (demonstrating). Now if your host asks you to dinner, go in and sit down (demonstrating), take some butter (demonstrating), and; but I guess I had better not show you this trick, because it makes the butter smell like oleomargarine. Now fellows, I sell one trick to a man at 50 cents per, and you will get the benefit. They are guaranteed not to fail. How many now?"

Naturally everyone wanted to feel at home in a sorority house, whether the girls desired it or not; and naturally everyone wanted to enjoy a smoke without buying the tobacco, so some of the boys got out their half dollars, and the rest stood around expecting to realize their share from the investment when they were alone with the buyers. But the mysterious visitor remarked as he took his hat, "Entertainment is the object of these tricks. Don't show anyone how you do them or you lose the power to entertain. Goodbye."

The door closed. Since that time the non-buyers have been laughing up their sleeves and the buyers have been dropping pencils all over the house.

The mysterious visitor was F. E. Franklin, a trickster, who dropped in unannounced, and departed from the campus the same way a day ago, with a few free meals under his belt and a few more four-bit pieces jangling as he walked.

MAZAMA CLUB BRANCH MAY BE ORGANIZED

Stereopticon Slides of Winter Scenes to Be Shown by A. C. Shelton Friday Afternoon.

"Winter in the Cascades" will be the topic of a lecture to be given by Alfred C. Shelton, field assistant in the department of zoology, in Villard hall tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock. The lecture will include stereopticon views of the Cascade mountains in winter and will show some of the winter sports that are indulged in by members of the Mazama club during their stay at these points on their hikes.

"The primary object of the meeting is to enlist a number of the students of the University in winter sports and in mountain climbing," said M. Shelton today. "We have in mind the formation of a club in the University which will be a sort of training camp for the Mazama club of Portland. It will make the joining of the main club a much simpler matter and being under the general supervision it will accompany the Portland club on the hikes that it will be taking in the spring of the year."

The pictures will include views that will go to show what we are doing in the way of hiking. There is a plan on foot at present to build a few log cabins some where in the Cascade mountains which we can go to in the winter and spend a vacation—say the spring vacation—and enjoy all of the sports of the snow and the winter mountain climbing. In my opinion there is no better and invigorating form of exercise than that of hiking. These pictures will show the different spots to which we are going and then will contrast them with the same spot in the summer time, showing the contrast in beauty," said Mr. Shelton.

It is Mr. Shelton's idea to form the preliminary organization at the meeting tomorrow afternoon and then to begin to plan for the hikes that will take place in the early spring.

President Campbell is a Member.

President P. L. Campbell is one of the members of the Mazamas and is also back of the movement for a University organization.

UNIVERSITY GOLF SATURDAY.

Saturday from 9 a. m. until noon, all men are requested to report on the proposed golf field with necessary implements. The golf course will be put into playing condition for the afternoon. The work will be light—with lots of good sport.

THE COMMITTEE.

COUNCIL IS DIVIDED ON SOPHOMORE MEMBER

"Would Be Figurehead," Objects One Side; "Means Continuous Policy," Says Other.

The student council last night appointed Harry Kuck and Marie Churchill to draw up a constitutional amendment providing for one sophomore member. This will afford a definite basis for discussion of whether this class shall or shall not be represented in the council. Genevieve Shaver suggested that the underclass member might thus get into training, and serve on the council two or three years. Max Sommer advocated the plan.

"Need Continuity Policy." "We need a continuity of policy," he said. "We need not have made some of the mistakes of the past if the council had had some experienced members, and some who knew what had been done the previous year."

Fred Kiddle and Echo Zahl are opposed to the admission of a sophomore to the council. "The seniors do the real business of the council. A sophomore would be a mere figurehead," asserted Kiddle.

Lamar Tooze argued, however, that a sophomore would at least voice the opinion of the underclasses. "And they constitute at least three-fifths of the student body," he said. "They pay their eight dollar tax just like the rest of us, too."

Committee is Appointed.

A committee consisting of Max Sommer, Claire Raley, Genevieve Shaver, Fred Kiddle and Echo Zahl was appointed to look into the problem of over-organization on the campus and report later.

Max Sommer and Karl Becke are to draw up an amendment to the constitution providing for a yell leader's emblem and an advisory council for the yell leader. This amendment also will be reported later.

The next meeting, on March 8, will be devoted to discussion of junior week-end, and to a report from the committee on the co-operative store.

CLUB TO TOUR AGAIN

Men's Glee Will Make Coos Bay Trip in April, Says Tooze; 15 New Men Pet "O."

The men's glee club will probably make a trip to the Coos Bay country during April vacation, according to Leslie Tooze, manager.

Present plans include six concerts, at Florence, Gardiner, Marshfield, Myrtle Point, Coquille and Bandon. The Willamette Pacific is completed to within five miles of Florence and trains will probably be running there by April.

Fifteen Win "O's."

Fifteen new members of the glee club won their "O" this year by fulfilling the requirements of the club and by making the eastern Oregon trip. They are: Walter Grebe, Harold Hamstreet, Harold Humbert, Carl Nelson, William Morrison, Iver Ross, John Black, Roy Stephens, John Dolph, Earl Fleischman, Lewis Bond, Everett George, Ho-Sheng Huang, Raymond Burns and C. B. Corbitt.

Manager Tooze will receive a sweater instead of an "O" due to the new ruling that managers of student activities will be awarded plain sweaters instead of letters.

There is some dissatisfaction among the men with the size of the glee club "O" and a smaller pin is being considered for next year. Professor R. H. Lyman distributed the little gold emblems last week.

The glee club was this year composed of nearly all new men. Only five of the lettered singers remaining from last year.

FASHIONS OF 50 YEARS ARE SEEN IN ONE HOUR

Y. W. C. A. Presents Pageant in Villard Wednesday as Part of Jubilee Celebration.

Fashions of 50 years ago were in vogue for an hour yesterday morning, during the production of the Y. W. C. A. pageant in Villard. It seemed like a procession of crinolines, hoop-skirts, boleroes, ruffles, and pretty girls moving in slow succession from a vague somewhere in 1866 to the place and time of the present.

Many of the gowns, truly striking in their color and texture, were lent for this occasion by Eugene women, who saw themselves as in a mirror, from their places in the crowded hall. One of the foreign costumes, worn by Ethel Waite, came from the Philippines and is the property of Mrs. Warren D. Smith. The Y. W. C. A. has no organization in the Philippines as yet.

Pageant Not all External Beauty.

But the pageant was not all external beauty. There was a story running through the procession from the working girls in the early history of the association—the girls who made this society possible—to the group of sorority women, who completed the line. In 1866 some women met to organize a club for the protection and help of self-supporting mill and factory women. Year by year this organization grew, broadened, and undertook new phases of Christian service.

The body of the pageant represented the groups of people touched by the association work—the athletic, foreign, working, and college girls. There was a group of very little girls, too, who came to hear stories and to take advantage of the many helpful and instructive amusements provided in every association building for the children.

Last Portion Devoted to Present.

The last portion of the pageant was devoted to the present and showed the place of Y. W. in the college, social, literary, and working life of the Twentieth century girl. It was an altogether pleasing ending and brought the audience back to the present without the feeling of a sudden drop from an almost unknown period to the real "now."

Much of the success of the whole affair is due to the work of Juanita Wilkins, as the Girl of 1866, and to Emma Wootten, the Girl of 1916.

ANOTHER ROOM ADDED TO WOMAN'S BUILDING

Rex Campaign Nets $300; Clytie Hall Wins First Prize; Townsfolk Respond.

Approximately 2,000 tickets—$300 worth—were sold in the Rex theatre campaign, which had been conducted since Saturday noon and which closed last night. This means $150 toward the woman's building fund. Without official counts having been made, indications are that Clytie Hall has won first prize. The second prize will go to either Louise Bailey or Bernice Lucas.

Townspeople Are Generous.

Townsfolk as well as University people have been most generous and eager to make the project, first suggested to Regent Irene H. Gerlinger, by Manager McDonald, of the Rex, a success. Many, unable to go, bought tickets just to "help the cause." Mrs. Charlotte Zieber, unable to leave her chair, is wearing one of the legends "I Am Helping to Build the Women's Building, Are You?"

A statewide campaign of the sort waged here will probably be conducted by some moving picture house in every city within a short time. Many managers have written to Mr. McDonald, expressing approval and requesting information.

Twelve Seek "Key" Charter

Local Phi Beta Kappas Send Petition to National: 12 Members at Oregon.

A petition will go in this week from the University of Oregon to the senate and council of the united chapters of Phi Beta Kappa asking them to consider establishing a chapter at Eugene. The senate meets March 10 and at this meeting the petition will be considered. Should the senate pass favorably on the application, the council will give it final consideration in September.

"Oregon has never petitioned for a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa before," said Dr. R. C. Clark, professor of history. "Most schools have to make several applications before they are granted a charter but I think we have a very strong case."

There are 85 chapters of Phi Beta Kappa. One of the youngest is the chapter at the University of Washington. The application for this chapter was first sent in 1907 and the chapter was not established until 1913.

If the general custom is followed, the only qualification for election to the society will be high grades. It is probable that all students receiving the highest two honors will be eligible and all those who have received these honors since the establishing of the new grading system at the University may be elected.

WEEK-END PLANS BEGUN

Frank Scaife, Junior Class President, Appoints All Committees for Big Event of Year.

Junior week-end committees have been appointed by Frank Scaife, president of the junior class.

"The junior prom this year will be the biggest dance ever given on the campus," President Scaife admits. "You see," he says, "we have some money—quite a lot of money—and we're going to spend it. And of course there will be the water fete, as well as the dance, and some men of artistic ability are going to paint the 'O'. We haven't forgotten the parade that formally opens junior week-end, either."

Stater is General Chairman.

Wayne Stater is general chairman in charge of the Prom. The committee under his direction are as follows: Decorations—Bob Langley, Fred Kiddle, Louise Allen, Ruth Fraley, Karl Becke, Joe Bell, Roland Geary, Mary Chambers, Mary Alice Hill, Charlie Newcastle, and Maurice Hyde.

Patrons and patronesses—Jennie Huggins, Dorothy Downard, Ruth Roche, Margaret Hawkins, Eulalie Crosby.

Punch—Helen Currey, Leone Williams, Ruth Lawrence, Russell Ralston, Martha Beer.

Programs—Ruth Fraley, Bernice Perkins, Howard Hall, Helen Wiegand.

Feature—Martin Nelson, Rosalind Bates, Frances Shoemaker, Bernice Lucas, Mildred A. Brown, Emmett Rathbun.

Music—Miriam Tinker, Echo Zahl, Lela Cushman.

Floor—Frank Campbell, John Huston, Harry Lynch, Clifton Conley.

Publicity—Emmett Rathbun.

The water fete is in charge of Bob McMurray, with Merna Brown, Marjory Williams, Dorothy Wheeler, Glenn Dudley, and Ruth Westfall as assistants.

Howard McCulloch, Loren Roberts, Howard George, and Dick Nelson will paint the "O."

Bernard Breeding has the direction of the opening parade, along with George Colton, Helen McCormack, Margaret Spangler and Myrtle Tobey.

"None of the committees has met as yet, but work is to commence as soon as possible to make this junior week-end the best ever," said President Scaife.

CREW SQUAD REPORTS AT YALE.

The first call for Yale crew candidates resulted in the attendance of about 100 university crew men and 70 freshman.

REAL, LIVE MONKEY WILL ALSO ENTERTAIN

Special Dancing to Be Featured in "Taming of the Shrew."

PLAY STAGED IN GUILD HALL

Shakespearean Production Will Have Special Scenery With Colored Lighting Effects.

The Taming of the Shrew to be given in Guild hall on the evenings of Friday and Saturday of this week bids fair to be the most distinctive and spectacular performance of the year. All sorts of surprises have been promised in the production. A live monkey and special dancing directed by Miss Goldsmith and Miss Rader will play no mean part in securing the general effect desired.

The play will be costumed somewhat earlier than the Elizabethan period and beautiful color and lighting effects will be featured throughout.

Stage Settings Featured.

Stage settings will also be featured. The scenery for the "Shrew" is being worked out by William Burgard and John Beckett. They plan to make the settings suggestive rather than realistic. Curtains with vari-colored lights are to be used almost exclusively.

It is unnecessary to introduce the "Taming of the Shrew" to a University audience. Petruccio's "will you, nil you, I will marry you" method of wooing Katherine, and her consequent subjugation is as well known as Lady Macbeth's sleep-walking scene or Portia's plea for mercy.

And for the caste of the play, both time and space prevent even the mention of all the more important parts.

Petruccio is a favorite role of Mr. Reddie's, and he plays the part with satisfying vim and vigor. Much may be expected, too, of Rosalind Bates' work as Katharine, for she has played minor roles with Sothorn and Marlowe and can be counted upon for some finished work.

Critics' Comments Favorable.

Trustworthy critics have also commented very favorably upon Marion Tuttle's work. She plays the part of the younger daughter, Bianca, with a feeling and fervor which is unusual in an amateur interpretation.

The cast for the "Taming of the Shrew" is as follows:

- Fruit Sellers.....Misses Hurd, Lawrence and McLaren.
- Citizens.....Messrs. Nipper, Thompson and Shaffer and Misses Dunn, Campbell and Conklin.
- Lucentio, of Pisa, son to Vincentio.....Mr. Melross
- Tranio, companion of Lucentio.....Mr. Fleischmann
- Flower girl.....Miss Guttery
- Baptista, father of Katherine and Bianca.....Mr. Winther
- Gremio, suitor to hand of Bianca.....Mr. Sether
- .....Mr. Weiss
- Hortensio, another suitor.....Mr. Smith
- Katherina, the "curst and shrewd".....Mrs. Bates
- .....Mrs. Bates
- Bianca, her younger sister.....Miss Tuttle
- Biondello.....Mr. Earl Sp. Street
- Dancer.....Martha Beer
- Her brother.....Marion Tuttle
- Citizens.....Mrs. Wilson, Misses Carson, Cowan, Messrs. Brown, Sether
- Old Woman.....Miss Wheeler
- Petruccio.....Prof. A. F. Reddie
- Grunio, Petruccio's servant.....Mr. Wilkins
- Servant to Baptista.....Mr. McFaddea
- Nethaniel.....Mr. Sether
- Nicholas.....Mr. Taylor
- Sugarsap.....Miss Driscoll
- Tailor.....Miss Crosby
- Unicentio, father of Lucentio.....Mr. Bowen
- Pedont.....Mr. Weinheimer
- Urdow, in love with Hortensio.....Miss Walker

MAY COACH U. OF C.

It is reported that Eddie Mahan, captain of last year's victorious Harvard football team, may come to California after his graduation in June to coach the backfield of the University of California team next fall.

A horse's molar, said to be 150,000 years old, has been presented to the university of Texas. The specimen is three and one-half by one and one-fourth inches in size.
